Russians Capture Two More Towns—Employ Mackensen's Tactics

(By Associated Press) The steady march of the Russians upon Warsaw has created a situation which is causing grave anxiety in European capitals. Some expressions go even to the extent of comparing it with that of August, 1914.

The allies are making representations to Soviet Russia in aid of Poland, the British note despatched yesterday being now described in some quarters as in the nature of an ultimatum, although allegations that it contained a threat of war are not confirmed in authoritative quarters. The Russian emissaries now in London are reported to have recognized the gravity of conditions and to be urging their government to halt the Russian march in Poland.

Brest-Litovsk, the last bastion in the permanent defenses east of the Polish capital, is in the hands of the soviet armies, and Lomza, an important railroad junction and strategic base to the northeast, and Kovell.

METHUEN MAN ARRESTED

Louis Bilodeau is Charged With Operating Auto While Intoxicated

Louis Bilodeau, a resident of Methuen, was arrested last evening on the Nashua road by Patrolmen J. J. Lynch and J. J. Donovan and was sent to the police station, where he was booked for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. It is claimed that through the reckless driving of Bilodeau, a woman and a child had a narrow escape from being run over, while the driver's life was also endangered, when his machine grazed a tree. The attention of the officers was attracted by people on an electric car. Seated on the seat of the machine with Bilodeau were his two sons, who were placed aboard an electric car by the officers and sent to their home. Bilodeau was arraigned in court this morning and his case was continued until tomorrow morning.

ONE KILLED, 2 WOUNDED

Former Governor of Barcelona and Wife and His Sister-in-Law Attacked

MADRID, August 5.—Count De Salva, former civil governor of Barcelona, and his wife, were gravely wounded and his sister-in-law, the Marquis de Lajares, was killed last evening at Valencia, by five men who poured a volley of pistol shots into the carriage in which the three victims were riding. The announcement of the crime made by the minister of the interior, states that the assassins were trade unionists. The count, while governor of Barcelona, was an opponent of the trade unions, declaring them illegal. The assassins escaped.

The shooting occurred at 9 o'clock, as the count's carriage was passing over a grade crossing of the Barcelona railway. It has caused great excitement in Spain.

The treaty, it is asserted, contained the following provisions: Russia, without interference from Germany, would not permit any

DISCUSS HOWARD STREET PLAYGROUND

At a conference held at the rooms of the chamber of commerce this morning, at which were present William N. Goodell, president of the chamber; Clarence M. Weed, chairman of the park commission; John W. Kernan, superintendent of the park department, and Solomon Baker, several plans to meet the situation created by the protest of 13 residents of Howard street against the closing of that street on certain evenings during the week, for playground purposes, were discussed, but no definite action was taken relative to what the attitude of the chamber of commerce will be at the hearing on the matter to be given by the city council next Tuesday morning.

An effort will be made to ascertain just what proportion of the residents are opposed to the plan in comparison with those who favor it. One of the suggestions made at this morning's conference was that the playground be transferred to Hale street, along the Lowell jail property. The matter will again be discussed tomorrow. At any event, the chamber of commerce and the park department will be represented at Tuesday's hearing.

NO ICE SHORTAGE HERE

And Miss Gage Hopes She Will Not Have to Boost Price

Despite the fact that a very small portion of the ice stored in the Forge Village ice houses, which were burned to the ground last Monday will be salvaged, Miss Martina Gage, head of the Daniel Gage Co., stated this morning that residents of Lowell need not worry for there will be no shortage of ice in this city. As to whether or not the price of ice will be increased later, she could not tell, but she stated as long as she can hold present prices she will do it. "Of course," she said, "it will have to buy ice elsewhere in order to keep up with the demand in Lowell, and I will regulate my prices according to the price I will be obliged to pay."

The ice houses at Forge Village stored between 30,000 and 45,000 tons of ice and it is feared it will be almost a total loss. Miss Gage said the ice is melting very fast. "Our men," she said, "don't seem to know how to start salvaging the ice because of the dangerous conditions existing and to tackle the job with any degree of safety is a real problem."

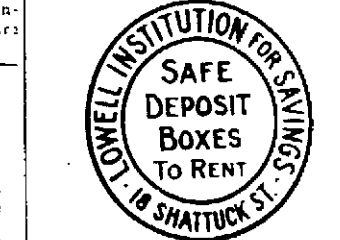

Asked if she visited the scene of the fire since the buildings were destroyed Miss Gage replied in the affirmative and she said the ice is being melted rapidly by the sun, while the warm air is also helping a great deal in reducing the frozen mountain. "Despite our misfortune," she said, "we are very lucky that last winter was an exceptionally good one for ice and the crops everywhere were far greater than normal, so that we will experience no difficulty in bringing our supply up to normal again. You may safely state that there will be no shortage of ice in Lowell this year and that if it is within my power to maintain present prices I will do so."

OPEN GRAVE, CUT HEAD FROM BODY

Casket Containing Remains of Casper Izert, Who Died in 1912, Opened

Head Severed—Body of Wife in Same Casket Not Touched

MALDEN, Aug. 5.—State and local police joined today in an effort to learn the identity of vandals who opened the grave of Casper Izert in Holy Cross cemetery, and severed the head from the body, carrying away the head. Izert died in South Boston on Oct. 12, 1912, aged 85 years.

Cemetery employees discovered the open grave Monday morning and on investigation found the cover of Izert's casket pried off and the headless body propped against the side of the grave. The casket containing the body of Izert's wife also had been pried open but the remains were not touched.

The state authorities were called in today after the local police had been unable to get any trace of the vandals.

FEW IN LINE AT PONZI'S OFFICE THIS MORNING

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Hardly more than half a hundred of holders of Charles Ponzi's notes calling for 50 per cent. interest in 90 days had appeared in P. I. Alley today at the hour for re-opening the offices of the Securities Exchange company. In addition to this evidence that the run which began 10 days ago was virtually over, there was noted a marked unwillingness on the part of note holders to deal with speculators seeking to buy their claims at a discount.

In the early days of the run, speculators bought hundreds of notes, usually at a 10 per cent. discount, and then took their place in line and cashed them in. One speculator claimed to have made a profit of $11,000 in a single day.

SEWERS FLOW WITH BEER

Federal Officers Supervise Destruction of Brewery Products—Sad Story

The entire stock of the Harvard company, a firm now in the process of liquidation, is being destroyed under the direction of federal officers and it is not unusual for visitors to the plant of the company in Payton street, off Plain street, to see thousands of dollars' worth of beer and ale pouring into the sewer.

It is estimated that from 30,000 to 40,000 barrels of the various alcoholic products which the Harvard company brewed before prohibition came into effect, will have been destroyed when the federal agents complete their work.

This activity is but a part of the general disruption of the plant, voted by the stockholders at a recent meeting. A large part of the equipment, live stock, etc., has already been sold, and one of the steps to be taken in the near future will be the disposal of the buildings of the company.

The work of doing away with the barreled stock of the company began a week ago and gradually the immense holdings of the big plant are being eaten into. It will take some time to complete the work.

CABLE SHIP NOT TO ENTER AMERICAN WATERS

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 5.—The British cable ship Colonia, chartered to lay the South American cable from Miami to Barbados in the British West Indies, will not enter American waters until permission is granted by the state department in Washington, according to advices received today from the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, by A. Hubbard, British vice consul in Miami. Hubbard was instructed in a long despatch from the ambassador to take command of the cable ship and to keep it outside the three mile limit until further instructions from Washington.

Wireless connection has not yet been established with the Colonia, which left Newport News several days ago, but it is believed that she is now off the Florida coast and the United States destroyer 135 is held at the municipal docks to take the British vice consul to the ship as soon as she can be located.

Report of Britain's Threat to Declare War Not Confirmed

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Statements printed by extremist newspapers here that Great Britain has threatened to declare war against soviet Russia if the Bolshevik advance into Poland is not halted, have not been confirmed in authoritative quarters. While it is generally agreed the allies are taking an emphatic stand upon the terms sent by Earl Curzon, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, to George Tchitcherin, Bolshevik foreign minister, on July 20, in which he stated that if the soviet government made war upon the Polish people the allies would assist the Poles, nothing is reliably known which would justify the assumption that such assistance would take the form of a declaration of war, with all such a declaration would involve.

In military quarters here the view is taken that the allies' principal weapon against the Bolsheviks, if it is decided to oppose them, will be the blockade, and that the Poles will, if possible, be given supplies to the Polish army if the Bolsheviks capture Warsaw and close the corridor leading from Poland to Danzig. In this case a blockade might be the only means of helping Poland.

England Ready to Mobilize Troops

PARIS, Aug. 5.—England had taken steps to mobilize rapidly two divisions for service in Poland, according to the Matin, which adds that plans for the transportation and re-equipping of this force have been prepared. Negotiations between France and England for the purpose of devising means for aiding Poland are being pushed actively, other papers assert, and the bureau which has been liquidating war stocks has cancelled certain previous engagements.

Board's Action Result of Telegram From State Health Department

All Pears Should be Cleaned and Peeled Before Being Consumed

White Film on Skin Indicates the Presence of the Poison

A large number of pears, raised in California and accidentally sprayed with arsenic of lead, have made their way into Lowell and unless the general public heeds a warning sent out today by the board of health, there may result serious cases of poisoning.

This morning the board confiscated eight large boxes of pears from the stocks of various local wholesale dealers and a smaller number from several retail stores about the city. In every instance the fruit gave evidence of having been sprayed with arsenic and had it been eaten with the skin left on would have poisoned those who used it.

The local board was warned of the danger of the situation by the following telegram received today from Dr.

REITERATES DECISION TO BAR ARCHBISHOP

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Premier Lloyd George, in answering a question in the house of commons today as to how the government proposed to deal with Archbishop Mannix, the Australian prelate, on his arrival, said the government's decision was that the archbishop should not be allowed to land in Ireland.

Such steps would be taken as were deemed necessary to make the decision effective, added the premier.

WILSON FOR PRESIDENT
Philippine University Wants
Woodrow — Would Pay
Him $100,000 Per Year

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 5.—Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of the University of the Philippines, has been offered the presidency of the Philippine Republic. The board of regents of the university are preparing an offer of $100,000 per year to induce the president to become head of the highest institution of learning in the islands.

If necessary, members of the board state, the bid will be increased to $200,000 per year, or $100,000 per year. The offer is being sponsored by Senator Pedro Guevara, member of the board of regents, and Conrado Benitez, dean of the university, who will endeavor to obtain the services of the president immediately following the expiration of his term of office next March.

"I have no doubt that if the position is offered to President Wilson," says Benitez, "it may seem to be in comparison with the post of the highest executive of the greatest republic in the world, he will seriously consider it. Mr. Wilson is highly an idealist, and it is explained to him that the Philippines are the meeting place of the cultures of the east and west and that the University of the Philippines is growing to be, and surely with his able direction, is going to be instrumental in the realization of this, surely this appeal will be a powerful inducement to make him accept the position."

"At present practically all the countries of the east, such as China, Japan, Indo-China and others are sending students in great numbers to our shores, knowing that here is a system of education that implants in the student the best that the east and west can give."

"The time is bound to come when the Philippines are going to become the center where leaders of thought and action in the east will be trained, and with President Wilson at the head of our university this dream will be realized."

VACATIONS FOR CEMETERY HELP

The board of cemetery commissioners went on record at their regular meeting late yesterday afternoon as favoring vacations of two weeks each year for employees of that department who have worked there at least 32 weeks. This came after Dennis J. Murphy, appearing in the interests of the civil service employees of the city, asked that the cemetery commissioners give their employees the privileges entitled them by an act of 1914, accepted by the city.

NOVEL SCARE-CROW ATTRACTS MARINE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Because his suit had become attuned to the jazz music of bamboo rice whistles, Sergt. John H. McClaskey re-enlisted in the Marine Corps here today especially for Philippine service.

The Negroes of the Philippines cut bamboo whistles which they fasten to fences around their rice fields, according to McClaskey. When the wind blows they produce a weird screaming sound which keeps away birds that are destructive to the crops.

Sergt. McClaskey has just finished a term with the Marines in the Orient, and will return there on the next transport leaving here for Manila.

PLAYGROUND CHILDREN ENJOY OUTING

Last Saturday afternoon at Pearson's grove, Chelmsford Centre, 150 kiddies from the Fayette street playground were the guests of the Community Service club girls. Trucks for the transportation of the little ones were furnished by the Merrimack Mfg. Co., Massachusetts mills and the C. T. Hatch Co., and the party left the grounds at 1:30 p. m., arriving at the grove at 2:30. From then until 7 p. m. there was one round of activities, which included swimming, races for the boys, a baseball game between the "Happy-Go-Luckies" and the "Never-Give-Ups," which terminated in a tie score. Volley ball and newcomb were enjoyed by the older girls, while singing games were played by the smaller ones, and races including three-legged shoes and obstacles were played by both juniors and seniors. Ice cream cones were one of the chief attractions and proved to be quite the most popular. The committee in charge of the affair was composed as follows: Sadie McInneson, chairman; Frances Larkin,

Anna Egan, Hilma Pearson and Clara Dalton, assisted by Nellie Ryan, No-reen Grafton, Katherine and Della Carly, Laura Edmonds, Helen Latour, Helen Stafford, Frieda Kenney, Helen McInneson and Eva Daigle, all Community club girls. Misses Cronin and Lawler of the club staff and Misses Colby and Hill of the Fayette street playground also assisted in making the event a big success. As this was the first of the series of picnics, by the girls and as it was financed entirely by them with the exception of some of the ice cream, which was generously donated by Mrs. J. R. Whittier and Mrs. Frank Putnam, it is hoped Lowell

THE IRISH SITUATION

Urge Dominion Home Rule at Conference Between Lloyd George and Irish Delegates

LONDON, Aug. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Lloyd George and Ireland gave Premier Lloyd George a busy day today.

In addition to presiding at a long cabinet council and discussing these questions, Mr. Lloyd George received in the afternoon and again in the evening, a deputation of Irish unionists and nationalists from Dublin and Cork who urged him to grant dominion home rule for Ireland.

The deputation was headed by Sir Stanley Harrington, commissioner for education in Ireland, and included a number of prominent local men, among them Professor Wilfrid F. Fitzgerald, Trench of Trinity college, Dublin. With the premier, were Andrew Bonar Law, lord privy seal, Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, and other ministers.

An official report of the conference will be issued soon. The conference was a private one, but at it there occurred a discussion of the entire Irish situation.

Between the conference with the Irishmen, Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law received Leo Kaamenoff, president of the Moscow soviet, Leonid Krassin and other members of the Russian mission which has come to London in an endeavor to solve the trade situation between Great Britain and Russia. This was the first official reception of the Russians since their return to London. The discussion was confined to the Polish crisis.

The premier's reception twice of the Irishmen, Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law, was the cause of the greatest interest in the lobby of the house of commons. There the belief was expressed that the views of the men of such high standing in south and west Ireland, many of whom formerly were opposed to home rule, could not have failed of careful consideration by the ministers.

It was said in the lobby of parliament last night that the delegation had urged the government to drop the new Irish crimes bill and substitute a generous dominion home rule measure. To the objection that the visitors did not represent the Sinn Féiners, the delegation argued that the procedure they advocated would at least have behind it the large and growing opinion in Ireland while the policy of combining "coercion" with the home rule bill now before parliament would be unanimously condemned.

Whether anything comes of the conference or not, the view held in the lobby was that the premier's alacrity in receiving the deputation was highly significant. The meeting at Cork at which it was decided to send the deputation to London only occurred Tuesday.

It is an open secret that the premier favors dominion home rule as a solution of the controversy and has been held back by the conservative elements in the cabinet. Therefore additional significance attaches to the fact that a meeting of the cabinet was held between the two receptions of the deputation.

CURFEW ORDERED IN NATIVE TOWN OF ARCHBISHOP MANNIX IN IRELAND

CORK, Aug. 5.—A curfew order which is to become effective Friday has been proclaimed in the districts of Charleville and Kilmallock. The order prohibits meetings of friars and forbids anybody being abroad between the hours of 9 o'clock and 3 o'clock in the morning.

Charleville is the native town of Archbishop Mannix of Australia, who has been named to open a fête there during this month.

IRISH VOLUNTEERS LEAD BY MEN WHO SERVED IN BRITISH ARMY

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Irish volunteers are being led by professional soldiers—men who served in the British army and are disgruntled, either respecting their pay or as regards nationalism," says a despatch to the Daily Mail from Dublin, which continues:

"The men who shared the rooms of General Lucas (who recently was kidnapped but later escaped) as guards during his captivity were well educated and trained officers of this type who are now holding posts as senior officers in the Sinn Féin volunteers. Nearly all the non-commissioned men of the volunteer forces also served in the British army during the war."

ELABORATE FAREWELL

Parade Precedes Departure of K. of C. Delegates for Europe Late Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—An elaborate farewell reception for the delegates sailing late today on the steamship Leopoldina to take part in the presentation of the Lafayette statue to the city of Metz, was planned as the closing feature of the supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus.

Arrangements were made for the convention delegates to occupy 700 taxicabs in a parade from the convention hall to the pier, where a number of the delegates will board the steamship Highlander to accompany the Leopoldina down the bay.

The pilgrims, after the Lafayette statue ceremonies at Metz, will journey to Belgium, where gifts will be presented to Cardinal Mercier and King Albert, and thence to Rome, to be received by Pope Benedict.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," the ripping Metro film-farce, will hold the boards as the banner attraction at the Strand the latter half of the present week, with Ruth Stonehouse, Eugene Pallette and an admirable surrounding company playing it. This is a farce of sheer joy, sheer laughter, and it has been said, sheer pajamas. It is just as funny on the screen as it was on the stage, and there is much opportunity for the showing of wonderful "shots" at some of the characters. No more likable farce has been put on the foreign stage than this one. Gladys Brockwell in "A Sister to Salome," a Fox production, is the dramatic feature of this bill. The story is as unusual as well could be.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

A red-blooded story of American youth is "Sherry," the feature attraction of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. It is an adaptation by Edgar Lewis of George Barr McCutcheon's widely read novel of the same name. Romance and adventure speed the story up to high gear and there is never any lack of action. The all-star cast finds Pat O'Malley in the title role, supported by Lillian Hall, Harry Spangler, Richard Cummings and others. The other feature for the week-end is "The Woman God Sent," a story of factory and political life, starring Zena Keefe. The bill is completed by the international Newa comedy and the Photoplay Magazine.

DIOCESAN CENTRE FUND

In a recent report of contributions from Lowell and surrounding towns to the fund being established by the League of Catholic Women for a diocesan centre in Boston, the Tewksbury Catholic parish was credited with $299.25. It should have read $29.25. Rt. Rev. William O'Brien, I. P. P., of St. Patrick's church was credited with $400 instead of $100.

The internal revenue bureau, in the fiscal year ended June 30, made the greatest annual tax collection since its establishment in 1862.

This is the latest portrait of Heber J. Grant, new president of the Mormon church. He succeeded Joseph Fielding Smith, who died in December, 1919.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in about a teaspoonful of all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Adm.

Baby Specialists.

THAT there are Physicians who specialize on Infant ailments you know. All Physicians understand Infant troubles: all Physicians treat them. It is his profession, his duty, to know human ills from the Stork to the Great Beyond.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby needing special treatment, special remedies.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and Children.

Children Cry For

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit. Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splash, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little-ones.

There are substitutes and imitations as there are for the diamond, for anything of value. One might almost say that that which is not copied has no value. So you have had the signature of Chas. H. SCRAMBLE SQUIRREL A PRISONER

"Ah, Ha!" laughed Tingaling when Mrs. Squirrel told him that Scramble, her husband, had got so fat she could not get into her own house. "If that is the case, why don't you go in and let him stay out? That's what Mrs. Tingaling did when I gained so rapidly. She said I was ruining the bed-springs, so she put me in a hammock in the back yard!"

"Oh, yes," added Nick, "and daddy is just wide enough. Because, if my whiskers will go in without touching at either side, my body will go in nicely, too!"

"Of course!" nodded Mrs. Squirrel, "but he was as skinny as a bone then, after starving all winter. The trouble was that after moving in, we found the pantry chuckful of goodies, hickory-nuts and hazelnuts and acorns and

"Humph!" snorted Mrs. Squirrel, "don't you s'pose I'd let Scramble sleep out, and live out, and stay out only too gladly! There's just one trouble, I can't get him out!"

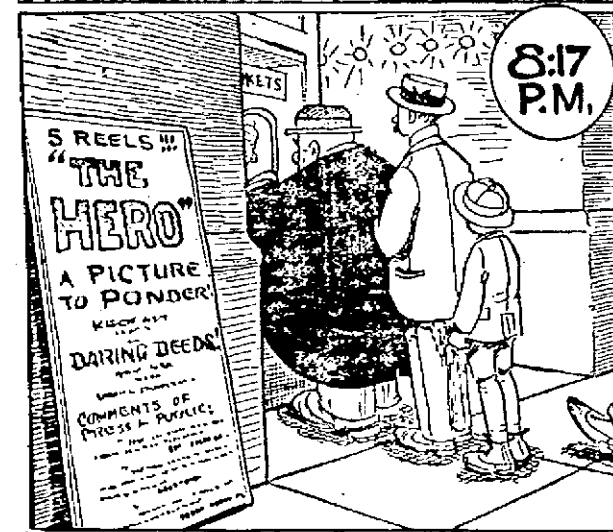

"Goodness!" cried Tingaling, "That's funny! Why, I remember particularly that when he took the place and signed the lease, he measured the doorway with his whiskers. He says he, Mr. Tingaling, this doorway

TENN. LEAGUE PROTESTS DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Requests Gov. Cox and Sen.

Harding to Remove Political Pressure

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The Tennessee constitutional league with a board of directors consisting of three democrats and three republicans today sent requests to Governor Cox and Senator Harding that political pressure on the Tennessee legislature be removed. The letter to Governor Cox was written by Judge Joseph C. Higgins, former member of the court of civil appeals, and that to Senator Harding by Judge G. N. Tillman, who in 1916, polled the highest vote ever given a republican candidate for governor of Tennessee.

RENEWS EFFORTS FOR SUFFRAGE RATIFICATION

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 5.—Further influence for ratification of the woman suffrage amendment by the Tennessee legislature was exerted today by Senator Harding in telegrams to republican and suffrage leaders at Nashville. To State Senator John C. Hook, chairman of the republican state committee, the nominee wired as follows: "With the approach of a decision by the general assembly of Tennessee on the matter of ratifying the suffrage amendment to the federal constitution I would like to be advised as to poll of republican members. I cling to the belief that the Tennessee republicans are in a position to serve both party and country by effecting ratification. Will welcome advice as to whether I can aid in securing this act of justice to the women citizenship of our nation."

He also sent a telegram of encouragement to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association in response to a joint appeal for help from her and Mrs. George Fort Milton, president of the Tennessee League of Women Voters. The message to Mrs. Catt follows:

"Your telegram received. No discouragement is voiced from here. On the contrary, we are continuing to encourage the republicans of the Tennessee general assembly to join cordially in the effort to consummate ratification."

Senator Watson of Indiana, who came to Marion yesterday to see the nominee, issued a statement today declaring that George White's selection as democratic national chairman had helped cement President Wilson's hold on the democratic organization.

"Mr. White is himself a Princeton graduate," said the statement. "I have often talked with him about the president, his admiration for whom he has made no secret. Mr. White's selection was no compromise at all, because President Wilson wins at all points."

TO DEPORT GIRL WHO JILTED WAR VETERAN

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Without having been permitted to go beyond the confines of the immigration station at East Boston, Alice Gertrude Chase, the pretty English fountain-pen worker, who arrived here 10 days ago from Liverpool on the steamship Winifredian, will go back to her home Saturday on the same vessel.

Miss Chase, who is 19, left her home in Kensington with the intention of marrying Anthony Trifiro of 3 Davis street, this city, but before the Winifredian was half-way across the Atlantic she changed her mind. She gave as her reason for not marrying Trifiro that she had learned that the locality where he lived was not the best.

The girl refused to see Trifiro when he called at the station with some of his relatives.

The board of special inquiry at the immigration station, which examined the young woman, held the case in abeyance for several days, believing that the girl would finally marry the man to whom she was engaged. Her resistance in refusing resulted in the order for her deportation being issued. Trifiro, a veteran of the world war, met the girl in Liverpool while serving on an American naval vessel. When he left for home the courtship was carried on by mail and the girl consented to become his wife. He sent her money to buy her wedding outfit and defray her traveling expenses. The Winifredian will be filled with passengers, 150 having been booked up to Monday. Many others anxious to sail were unable to secure accommodations.

AMERICAN HELD BY RUSSIA SOVIETS

VIBORG, Finland, Aug. 1. (By the Associated Press.)—After 17 months in soviet Russia, where he was twice wounded and then captured by the Bolsheviks on the Archangel front on March 1, 1919, Corp. Arthur Prince of the 53th United States Infantry, arrived at the Finnish frontier yesterday evening. On board the train with Prince, whose home is in Detroit, Mich., came 346 French, Danish and Swedish refugees from Russia, who are being repatriated by their respective governments.

Prince was one of four Americans sent out on this refugee train by the Bolshevik authorities at Moscow. The other Americans who arrived were two correspondents who crossed Russia from Vladivostok and Mrs. Emily Sarman, of New York city, a refugee from Samara. Thirty other Americans who have gathered at Moscow from various points in Russia and Siberia are waiting in the Bolshevik capital for permission from the soviet authorities to leave the country, all anxious for the American government to take steps to obtain their release.

EN ROUTE TO DAYTON

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 5.—With the presidential nomination ceremonies only two days distant, Gov. Cox, the democratic candidate, was hard pressed today, with preliminary details and closing up executive and personal affairs to be free for the campaign after Saturday's events.

Many democratic leaders, including George White, chairman of the speakers' bureau, were reported en route here for pre-notification conferences.

An aggressive fight was announced by Gov. Cox in his address at a picnic of local democrats yesterday in which he declared that the democrats would be on the offensive. The governor also declared that his acceptance speech would be so plain that it could be understood by school children.

Kidnapped Boy

Continued
15-month-old baby is hidden in Atlantic City. Important developments in the case expected.

are expected today following the disclosure early today that "The Crank" name is August Pascol, of French and Italian extraction, who recently lived in this city and since last week in New Gretna, N. J.

An acquaintance of Pascol's during the six weeks following the kidnapping that he occupied a room in a house here says he knows Pascol had a woman friend. The state police and postal agents are now on her track and believe she has the child.

Pascol is still being grilled by the state police. He was taken to New Gretna after his capture Monday near Egg Harbor. This was admitted today by U. S. Atty. McAvoy.

"Pascol is the right man and he was in New Gretna after his capture," said the federal official. "I can say nothing more at present."

Pascol only recently bought a farm at New Gretna from William Gregory and drove from this city in a motor car last Thursday to take possession, according to W. H. Kelley, railroad agent at Tuckerton, near New Gretna. Pascol took three or four rifles and a quantity of liquor with him to the farm, Kelley said.

Pascol, the police learned today, had an account with a Philadelphia bank on June 21, four days after the father of the kidnapped child had placed $12,000 in a hiding place near his home. The mystery letter-writer signing himself "The Crank," had directed that this be done as a preliminary to the return of the child.

The first deposit was $1000. Later large sums were added. On Monday morning before his arrest, Pascol paid the balance due on his new home in

New Gretna with a certified check of the Philadelphia bank.

Pascol's parents are French. He was born at Bridgeport, N. J.

Australia. It is believed, in the most nearly ratless country on earth.

MILEAGE BOOKS TO BE INVALID AUG. 26

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Return tickets and mileage books bought before the higher fares allowed railroads last Saturday become effective will not be valid when the new schedule goes into effect, it was said yesterday at the interstate commerce commission.

How the commission will handle the problem of tickets purchased before the new fares are made operative for use after their effective date is now being worked out, it was said. Commission officials emphasized, however, that travel for the present prices would not be permitted after the effective date of the new levels.

It is expected that an order will be issued permitting the railroads to refund the amount paid for return coupons or unused mileage and commutation books, or that passengers will be allowed to use them upon payment of the additional charges authorized.

Unless some such method is adopted it was pointed out that tickets could be purchased for future use in large quantities which would result in postponing the effective date of the higher fares.

PRES. WILSON PLEASED AT LEWIS' ACTION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 5.—President Wilson has expressed to John L. Lewis in directing the striking coal miners of Illinois and Indiana to return to work. Lewis received the following letter from President Wilson yesterday:

"Your action in response to my statement urging the striking miners to return to work has gratified me very deeply indeed. It is the action of a patriotic citizen and a man of vision and prescience. I am glad that you feel as I do that in urging the men to return to work, I was speaking in their interest as much as in the interest of the general public and of the industrial energy of the country."

Yesterday President Lewis sent telegrams to 39 local unions in Kansas, ordering the striking miners to return to work. He sent a telegram to Alexander Howat sharply taking him to task for fostering the trouble in the Kansas field. In his message Lewis declared the president of the Kansas miners had made no attempt to settle the strike in that state as provided in the contract with the operators and he warned Howat that he must comply with the laws of the union.

In Denver there is a mark near the state capitol which is exactly one mile above sea level.

JENKINS EXONERATED

No Criminal Negligence on Part of Driver Whose

Justin B. Jenkins, operator of an automobile truck owned by A. Cruickshank, which struck and fatally wounded Alice Corte, aged 12 years of 15 Elm street in Central street, July 13, was exonerated from criminal negligence by Justice John J. Pickman, who presided over the inquest. The accident occurred at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon. Judge Pickman's report concludes as follows:

"I find that on Tuesday, the 13th day of July last past at 3 o'clock in the afternoon that said Alice Corte, while walking across said Central street, as afore stated, was run into by a motor truck that was being operated by said Justin B. Jenkins, whereby she received injuries that resulted in her death as afore described. I find that the death of said Alice Corte was not caused or contributed by the criminal negligence of said Justin B. Jenkins or by the criminal negligence of any other person or persons."

REP. FERRIS HOLDS LEAD OVER SEN. GORE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 5.—Representative Scott Ferris continued to hold his lead early today over Thos. P. Gore, candidate for re-nomination for United States senator in Tuesday's primary election, but Gore headquarters steadfastly refuse to concede defeat.

In the contest for the republican senatorial nomination, W. Harrell, of Oklahoma City, was leading J. B. Cullison of Enid, on the face of the returns from a score of counties.

Predicts Long Victory

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Political interest in Missouri today centered on the race for the democratic senatorial nomination as returns of Tuesday's statewide primary continued to drift in from the rural districts.

With unofficial, incomplete returns from about 50 of 114 counties, and St. Louis, giving Breckinridge Long a majority of 14,241 votes over former Federal Judge Henry S. Priest, the closest of his two opponents the Globe-Democrat, independent republican paper by which the vote was compiled, announced today that Long will win with a plurality which may exceed 10,000.

Long campaigned on a League of Nations and law enforcement platform; Priest, anti-league and wet. Charles M. Hay, who appears to be running about 15,000 behind Long, was endorsed by the Anti-Saloon league and is a proponent of the league.

The re-nomination of Senator Seldon P. Spencer, republican senatorial candidate was conceded last night.

SECRETS? B'WARE THE X-RAY!

CHICAGO—Beware the X-ray, girls! Dr. Maingrot, noted French X-ray specialist, says that it is possible by use of the X-ray to tell the character, disposition and tastes of a patient. So girls, if you are jealous, if you're a nagger, or if you're stingy, shy clear of the X-ray.

Posse Hunts Man Who Attacked Girl

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 5.—Several hundred farmers and county officers armed with guns, ropes and pitchforks, are searching Madison, Jessamine and Fayette counties in a hunt for Bulford Monday, a mulatto, 28 years old, charged with having assaulted Mrs. Charles Sauer, 16 years old, of Valley View, Madison county, 15 miles from here.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—An embargo on all classes of railroad equipment in intra-city movement as a means of relieving terminal congestion was recommended yesterday by the railroad managements by the commission on car service of the American Railroad association.

In a circular to the railroads the commission on car service pointed out that such an embargo would eliminate switching and increase the car supply for road haul shipments. A permit system should be inaugurated, the circular continued, to protect the movement of such freight as cannot be handled by truck.

The embargo should, so far as practicable, be absolute against the use of coal cars in cross-town movement, the circular said.

THREAT TO KILL FAMILY FOR $40 CHARGED

LAWRENCE, Aug. 5.—Because his mother, three brothers and a sister failed to make a payment on a $400 loan, $300 of which had been paid, Paola Casto appeared in the district court yesterday on a charge of having threatened to shoot the whole family, except his mother.

He denied the truth of the allegation, and the case was continued until today.

Casto, it is said, came to this country 11 years ago. The rest of the family came here three months ago, Casto having advanced $400 to enable them to do so. They went to work in the mills, but when the American Woolen company plants shut down they were thrown out of work, and payments, after $300 had been returned, stopped. Mrs. Casto stated this on the witness stand. Mrs. Casto also testified to the fact that her son drew a revolver and said, "I'll kill them all, but I'll spare you."

Evidence of Secret Treaty

Continued

Germany, would be allowed to appropriate all of Poland's arms, munitions, rolling stock and foodstuffs.

After the conquest of Poland, permission would be given Russia to send a number of Bolshevik commissioners into that country to control the export of Polish supplies of all kinds.

Russia would then undertake to completely evacuate Poland in favor of Germany, which would hold the country as a guarantee against future credits to Russia in return for German goods and German labor.

"Russia," the correspondent adds, "intends to try to avoid the terms of this treaty by the creation of a Polish Bolshevik army, the first steps in the formation of which are now being taken in occupied areas of Poland. When Russia withdraws from Poland, she will leave this Polish army, permitting Germany to take such steps as she can to face the situation. The Bolsheviks are convinced that England will not materially aid Poland, and will wage their next campaign against Rumania in Bessarabia."

Ever notice how most of the camps about Lakeview are dark between the hours of 8 and 11 p. m.? That's because the occupants are dancing at the lake. Try it in the afternoon, too. Go there Sunday for the two concerts by Miner-Doyle's orchestra. They're coming to be good.

MISSOURI VOTERS SUPPORT LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Incomplete unofficial returns from Wednesday's statewide primary election, yesterday indicated victories for the League of Nations covenant, prohibition, and opponents of large presidential campaign expenditures.

Breckinridge Long, who made the race on a league and law enforcement platform, was leading for the democratic nomination for United States senator. On the republican side the probable outcome was doubtful, as Senator Spencer ran strong in the rural districts and Dwight F. Davis polled a large vote in some of the larger cities.

John M. Atkinson and Arthur M. Hyde, both "dry," were leading for the democratic and republican gubernatorial nominations. Hyde was among those who demanded the resignations of National Committeeman Jacob L. Habler and State Chairman W. L. Cole as a result of their connection with the Lowden and Harding syndicate, respectively.

INDOOR BOXING SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

The indoor boxing season opens tonight with a high class card to be staged by the Crescent A.A. at the rink on Hurd street.

In the main bout Silent Martin of Berkeley, N. Y., and Frank Carbonne of Bayonne, N. J., two of the most prominent middleweights in the country will perform. These men have met about all the middleweights of note from coast to coast. They have fought champions and former champions and have been able to defeat them. In fact, both men have victories to their credit over the present title-holder, Johnny Wilson of Boston.

The rival managers announce that both boys are in the best of condition, and predict that the battle will be one of action and hard hitting from the moment they enter the ring until the bout terminates.

The other bouts for tonight are in keeping with the high class main event. In the semi-final of eight rounds, Young Ketchel and Bobby Burke, both from that city of fighters, Young Lawrence and Lawrence and Jack Little of Lowell are scheduled to fight. In one, Ketchel and Burke, both of Hooker and Young Carroll, both of this city, will swap punches in the other six-round event.

JACK BRITTON TO BOX YOUNG KLOBY

LAWRENCE, Aug. 5.—Tommy "Kloby" Corcoran, holder of the New England welter title, is to make a bid for greater fame by meeting Jack Britton, the world's welter champion, here the afternoon of Aug. 25.

The bout will be staged by Johnny Cuddy, Jr., in his capacity as promoter, and is expected to be the largest gathering of fight fans who have ever assembled here. That the contest will attract fully 20,000 is the expectation of the promoter.

About two weeks ago Cuddy conferred with Dan Morgan, manager of Britton, and clinched the bout, but it was not until yesterday that the fact became known here. The scheduled distance is to be 12 rounds, and the title will be at stake.

Kloby has returned to town and is to start training right away. Despite the fact that Britton on his record and form greatly outclasses the local warrior, Kloby figures that he has a chance to win the world's honors, which has been his ambition for years.

There are plenty here who will back the YD champion to hold Britton to a draw at the least, but outside of this city Britton is bound to rule a top-heavy favorite.

While Kloby has yet to make any statement himself, the odds will probably be in his favor as long ago he probably has his mind to retire from the ring during the present summer. Thanks to the start and publicity given him by Boston promoters, also his win over Eddie Shevlin, the former welter title-holder for New England, Kloby is worth a fortune. It is estimated that he has accumulated close to $15,000 in the ring since his return from war. Most of this he has saved away.

LEDOUX BEATS FRISSEE

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Charles Ledoux, French bantamweight champion, knocked out Johnny Frissee, bantamweight of New York in the fifth round of a 10-round match here last night.

ANOTHER WIN FOR THE GILLESPIES

Pitts' South Ends met defeat at the hands of the Gillespies nine on the South common last evening, 4 to 1, in one of the Tullit league series. The game was played before 3000 fans and was a close, hard-fought affair. The Gillespies won simply by their ability to punish their opponents and to make their hits count.

Sam Pouliot was on the mound for the winning team, pitched a first class game, buckled, opposing him, allowed six hits and issued several passes that resulted in runs.

Fielding duties were contributed by Williams of the Gillespies and McGowan of the South Ends. The score:

	Runs	Hits	Errors
Gillespies	4	11	0
South Ends	1	4	1

	Runs	Hits	Errors
Wicks	4	6	0

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Gas Light West Ends and the Matthews will meet on the South common Saturday afternoon in what should be one of the season's best games. Both teams are recognized constants for the city championship and, in addition, are bitter rivals. The Matthews have been recognized lately and will present a formidable lineup.

The Athletics are ready to hear from the Resolute, Barclays, Willie Street Stars or any other 14-15 year old team in the city for a game on the first street oval. Challenges should be sent through this paper.

LOWELL FIREMEN WIN
FROM HAVERHILL

In the best played of the three games of their series with the Haverhill department team, the Lowell firemen brought home a well-earned victory on the Textile campus yesterday afternoon, 6 to 3, and won the series between the two outfits.

Bart Mullen was on the mound for Lowell and pitched a regular professional game with all the fixins. The more threatening situation became the cooler Bart got and he was at his best with the bases choked. Bart also scored three of Lowell's runs, stole four bases, got a two-bagger, and a single and otherwise made himself useful to his team.

Waitt was again on the mound for Haverhill and the big twinner, who was suspected of being a "winger" when he first pitched against the local firemen, showed his wares to good advantage but was hit freely when his mound runs. Five passes also contributed to his downfall.

Lowell got one run in the second inning, another in the third, two in the fourth and two in the sixth. Mullen's only bad inning was the fourth when a series of passes, a scratch hit and a clean single netted three runs for the visitors. At no other time did they score.

The game was witnessed by a number of officials of the Haverhill and Lowell city governments and a large delegation of rooters for both outfits. After the contest the Haverhill players were the guests of the Lowell firemen at luncheon. The score:

	Runs	Hits	Errors
Lowell	6	12	0
Haverhill	3	10	1

	Runs	Hits	Errors
Lowell	6	12	0
Haverhill	3	10	1

	Runs	Hits	Errors

MEANING FIREMAN MULLEN

Who says that fate
Plays not a hand
In living stars
A place to stand?

Glance at the case
Of that man Bart,
Who gave his cronies
Such a start.

He pitched the ball
With grace and skill;
And, with man-power,
Enough to kill.

He stole four bases,
An' just for fun,
Every now and then
He'd make a run.

A two-base hit
Was an easy thing;
And for a chaser,
Bart picked a single.

So fate once more
Has intervened;
For stars must shine;
They can't be weaned.

TWILIGHT GAMES
ON SO. COMMON

This evening's attraction on the So. common will be a ball game between the Lowell and Lawrence councils of the Knights of Columbus who will line up at 5:15 for a twilight game. The local council has met a number of defeats in Lawrence and will endeavor to recover its prestige this evening by sending across a victory.

FRIDAY EVENING'S GAME

St. Peter's A. A. will meet the United States Worsted company team of Lawrence in a twilight game on the South common, Friday evening at 5:15. On the mound for the visitors will be Donohoe, a one-armed twinner, who has pitched wonderful ball this season. Plans are under way to have Mayor Thompson and Mayor White act as umpires.

Manager Rekan announced today that Rep. Thomas Corbett would pitch the first ball. The St. Peter's team is composed of youths, some not more than 16, and to date they have set up a record of 10 wins and 2 losses. Last year the team won 25 out of 35, and the year before, playing under the name of the Union Pirates, the club won 21 out of 26 games.

HAVERHILL NINE "GASSED"

The Lowell Gas Light West Ends defeated the Nationals of Haverhill last evening in the down river city, 6 to 2. The Connors brothers did the heavy work for the local team and kept their opponents well in hand.

THRILLING FINISHES AT GRAND CIRCUIT

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 5.—Three of the four favorites of the Grand Circuit card came through winners yesterday at the Port Miami track, and some thrilling finishes marked most of the races.

Royal Palm, winner at Kalamazoo two weeks ago, took the Toledo Blade, 2:14 trot for a purse of $3000, the feature race for the day, in straight heats, while Pavilion won the Legal News stake for two-year-old trotters after Bogolusa came through in the first heat. All of the three heats were trotted by the juveniles in less than 2:10, making it the fastest race of the season for colts of that age.

Brother Peter, one of the members of the Peter The Great family, and a rank outsider among the talent, won his first race on the Grand Circuit when Walter Cox piloted him to victory in the 2:10 trot. In the third heat, Brother Peter choked, staggered to the edge of the track and fell over, while Miss Perfection, a contender in the previous miles, came through the stretch an easy winner.

George Volo, the favorite won the 2:03 pace but J. W. S., the pacing pony, raced over half mile tracks last summer, came on and won the second heat for his new owner, Hugh McMichals, who bought him during the week and gave Nat Hay the mount.

The summaries:

CHARGE OF RINGER
AT WOONSOCKET

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Aug. 5.—Charges that Weno C., winner of the 2:16 pace at the Bay State circuit meeting here yesterday, is a ringer, added spice to an already fast card of racing. Big well-matched fields were entered in all three races and the finishes, except in the 2:15, were of the stirring variety.

After Weno C. had walked away from the field in the fast pace, taking the race in straight heats, Albert A. Brumelle of Worcester entered a protest to the judges that the mare is a daughter of Baron Alcone, which had been worked on southern and western tracks and which has a record of 2:03 1/4.

C. W. Cole of Cape Vincent, N. Y., owner of Weno C., was called to the stand and declared that his entry was legitimate and that the mare is a daughter of Baron Alcone. He said that he would be ready to produce proof today.

The decision of the judges on the race was withheld.

If Weno C. is declared a ringer the money will go to the four horses which finished next in order.

In the other two races, the 2:15 pace and the 2:13 trot, the finishes were spectacular. In the pace it took Ella six heats to demonstrate her superior speed and stamina. In the first heat she finished fifth, in the second, third and in the third she was only half a head behind Electric McKerron.

The little mare then went out in front of the field for the next three heats.

In the 2:13 trot the result in two of the four heats was in doubt until the starter announced the judges' decision, six of the horses finishing in a bunch.

LITTLE PRINCE WINS
AT WOONSOCKET

Little Prince, Tom Braden's star pacer, showed 'em how in Woonsocket Tuesday when he made an easy win in the 2:13 pace, taking the race in three straight heats. He was piloted by Oscar Dewel of Lowell, who is making fame and fortune in the Bay State circuit's field of clover.

"OUTLAWS" AFTER

OIL CITY, Penn., Aug. 5.—It was learned here yesterday that an emissary representing the Oil City club, had quietly slipped over to Detroit, where the Boston Red Sox have been playing. "OUTLAWS" AFTER
RED SOX PLAYERS

OIL CITY, Penn., Aug. 5.—It was learned here yesterday that an emissary representing the Oil City club, had quietly slipped over to Detroit, where the Boston Red Sox have been playing. The emissary attempted to slip up on "Sandy" McNelis, first baseman, and Walter Hoyt, the young right-handed pitcher.

"All right, Bill -
You can stop reading 'em"

BILL TOLD ME
HE HAD a good job.

LAST NIGHT, Bill said.
HE READ an ad.
OF THIS cigarette.
IN A magazine.
IT SAID "They Satisfy."
AND THIS morning.
IN HIS newspaper.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
AND ON a billboard.
AND ON a card.
IN THE street-car.
AND IN the dealer's window.
AND ON the counter.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
AND HE bought a pack.

AND I asked him.
"WHERE'S THE JOKE, BILL?"
AND BILL said.
"WHY THE darn fools.
SPENDING THEIR money.
PICKING ON me."
SO I said, "You bought 'em."
DIDN'T THEY satisfy?"
AND BILL said "Sure.
BUT HERE'S the JOKE.
FOR OVER a year.
I'D ALREADY been smoking

WE admit it, the joke's on us. And over three million other smokers are "in on it" with Bill. But the real joke is on anybody who looks for "Satisfy" anywhere but in Chesterfield—for the Chesterfield blend can't be copied!

The Call'em

Not for some time has Lowell figured so prominently in the harness racing world as during the past week or two, thanks to Little Prince, Tom Braden's sterling pacer who is traveling like the wind on the Bay State circuit.

Short, Ship circuit. The stallions straight heat win the circuit moves away from local men and many more will take a trip or two to Nashua next week, when the circuit moves there for a fine program of races.

The Prince will be the main attraction from a Lowell standpoint and will have plenty of backers if opportunity is offered.

McGraw Using the Whip
More and more the feeling is growing in National league circles that the Giants will have to be beaten by the team that wins the pennant. If McGraw doesn't go out and cop it himself, seventeen of New York's last 21 games have been victories and with the Dodgers and Reds pulling and hauling at each other, the Giants may slip in almost without warning. During the last month Jawn has pulled his club from nowhere to third place and at this writing only 2 1/2 games back of Cincinnati, who, in turn, trails the last month by the same margin. It is not surprising that New York won Tuesday's game at Cincinnati with a huge bonus plunk dangling for them if they got the verdict.

And Then Snow Showers
Here's a cheering thought: About four weeks hence college football men will be hard at it in preparation for another fall campaign. And then we all will ask: "Where in the world has summer gone?"

No Motion of Big Games
It is a pity that the chances for motion pictures of the Olympic games are decidedly slim. Although a number of countries have been invited to send operators to the Belgian games committee has made no reply and so it begins to look like no pictures for this side of the pond at least. They would be a big draw, and in practically every city and would extend the interest over a much longer period of time.

WESTERN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP
CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The hundred-odd entries in the western open golf championship today swung into play on the final 36 holes with nearly a score of contestants so closely bunched that it appeared to be almost anybody's tournament. Five of the players made scores on the first 36 holes yesterday ranging from 145 to 150, and if more in the circles topped by 155.

In Jack Hutchinson, Chicago pro, had the lead at the start today with a record of 145 strokes for 36 holes yesterday, but was closely nudged by several other stars.

Walter Hazen, national title-holder, and J. Douglas Edgar, Canadian champion, did not arrive in time to play while M. J. Brady of Detroit looked upon as a favorite, withdrew after one round yesterday, being decidedly off his game.

"TENDERFOOT" WACHMAN STRIKES IT RICH

VACATION LEADS TO FORTUNE

(By W. N. BURKHARDT)

 DRYDEN, Ontario, Aug. 5.—"Sourdoughs," veteran gold miners and prospectors who have been pursuing Lady Luck for ages, take off their hats to Robert Wachman, tenderfoot.

Wachman, an overalls salesman from Chicago, stumbled onto gold and has transformed an unsuspected wilderness into a producing gold mine. Yankee energy and resourcefulness did it, oldtimers say.

Runs Onto Gold

Wachman came into this country last summer, on a fishing trip. Gust Larsson, a trapper, was his guide. In the backwoods they happened upon a ledge of gold-seamed rock. Two bags full were clipped off and taken to an assay office in Winnipeg. Sure, it was gold! So Wachman and Larsson rushed back and staked out 14 claims, which the Ontario law allowed them.

Then Wachman got busy, and in eight months, had boilers, compressors, drills and milling machinery at work. He has already taken many thousands of dollars' worth of ore out of his mine. Some speed, say admiring veterans.

The tenderfoot has avoided publicity. Said he wanted to keep out mine promoters who do no development work. "This mine carries my name," says

Wachman, "and I don't want it to get a black eye from fakers."

Has Worked Wonders

As a result of the all winter grind, these tasks have been accomplished:
 700 tons of ore removed.
 30 acres of land cleared.

6 buildings constructed,
 25 carloads of machinery unloaded.
 Large dock erected.
 Preliminary compression plant installed.

Wachman has been away from his claim only long enough to sell out his

Your children's play-soiled clothes

No longer any trouble to get them clean

Small Julie's grubby play frocks—Jimmie's smudgy little trousers!

Without rubbing all their color out—without spending hours over them, you can now get every speck out of them in no time!

You loosen the dirt by soaking the clothes for a few hours in pure Rinso suds. You rinse them and every bit of the loosened dirt is rinsed right out. The wee clothes are fresh, spotless. You don't even need the washboard. The little collars, cuffs and hems only need a light rubbing between your hands.

This easy way of washing is not only for the children's clothes, but for sheets, too; and pillow-slips, towels and aprons—your whole weekly washing! You just soak the clothes overnight or for three hours in the morning with Rinso. Then rinse. You don't have to rub them over the washboard. You need never boil the clothes—unless you care to occasionally just to sterilize.

Rinso comes in fine granules—a new form of soap for the laundry. These pure granules are made of finer quality ingredients than were ever used before for the family washing.

There is nothing whatever in Rinso to injure the materials, or to take the color out. It is so rich in cleansing value it loosens all the dirt as the clothes soak.

Get Rinso from your grocer today. To appreciate how wonderful Rinso really is you must try it yourself. Follow the easy directions on the package and you will laugh at the worst play-soiled little garments. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux).

overall business and move his family into the wilderness. When asked how he accomplished what veterans thought impossible Wachman said:

"Simply by applying the experience I gained in the overall business. When I bumped into a tough customer, I stuck with him until he was sold. When I needed machinery at my mine, I stuck to the task of getting it until I got it. I set a good example for the men working for me. I worked long and hard—so did they."

Lady Luck Kind

And Lady Luck keeps playing into Wachman's hand. After smaller finds, he struck a real "mountain of ore," known as a dyke. Engineers estimated it would yield between 10,000,000 and 100,000,000 tons of ore. Samples from this body will average $10.35 a ton.

EXECUTES MAYOR'S MENTAL ORDER

N.E.A. Staff Special
 SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Latent and unsuspected human powers—by whatever name designated or however explained—are being given an amazing demonstration here by Eugene de Rubini, a Czech-Slav who carries out another's unspoken command.

Whether it be telepathy, some occult process, or merely unconscious muscular guidance, he has demonstrated to scientists and prominent laymen that words are not needed to convey thought.

You give Rubini a mental order; he executes it with remarkable accuracy. Sometimes he holds your hand to ex-cure "rapport," sometimes not. He moves about as directed, like a sleep walker.

And, while he says he can't satisfactorily explain the "something" he has cultivated, he believes it will gradually be developed by many people and that in future much of social and business relations will be determined through mental or psychic channels.

In 1911, in Vienna, Rubini, then a pharmacy student, was in a cafe where the talk turned to telepathy, which he regarded as bunk. In a joking way he said to a companion, "I'm a telepathist myself; command me mentally." With mock mannerisms he executed some movements. "Remarkable—that's right," said his friend. And Rubini was the most surprised man in the cafe.

He had blundered against the "something" he has since cultivated to high degree.

The other day, "mentally guided" by Mayor James Rolph and a body of distinguished San Francisco citizens, Rubini directed an auto cavalcade through crowded streets, picked a bouquet of flowers from a public stand and laid it on the bier of a soldier dead in the city hall rotunda. He had followed orders exactly, over a period of an hour, without a word being spoken.

EVERY FLOWER HAS A STORY OF ITS OWN

The rose is the queen of love and beauty. It is the most eloquent of all in the language of flowers. The red rose is a token of love and the white of purity. A moss rosebud is a confession of love, while a roseleaf says, "You may hope." A white rose says, "I am worthy of you," and the yellow rose asks, "Are you jealous?"

A Roman custom was to paint a rose on the ceiling of the banquet hall, signifying that what was told at the feast was not to be repeated. The expression, sub rosa, originated from this custom.

Rose and Nightingale

The Persians tell a story about the rose and the nightingale. One day all the birds appeared before King Solomon, who understood their language, to accuse the nightingale of disturbing their slumber. The nightingale explained that the rose waited for his song to come forth from the bud and that he loved the rose so much that he could not wait to see the beautiful flower unfold. He was acquitted and ever since then, the song of the nightingale is heard in the summer night.

TAKE TO AMESBURY

John Wegel and Antoine Czekanski, who were before the local court yesterday, on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny of silver leaf, and whose case was continued for a week for further investigation, were taken to Amesbury by the chief of police of that city last night, as it was learned that the break was committed there.

FIRE ALARMS

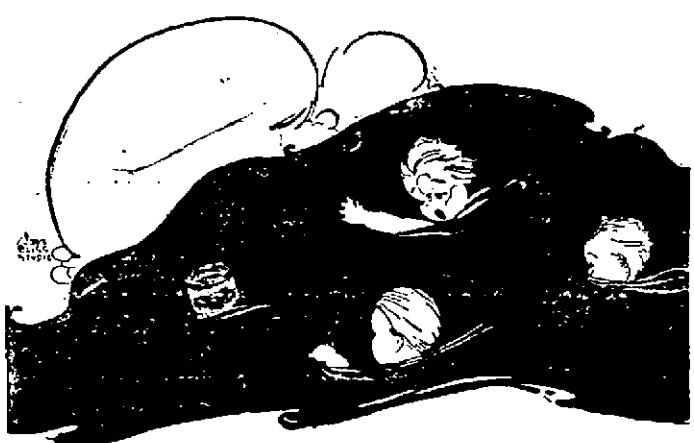

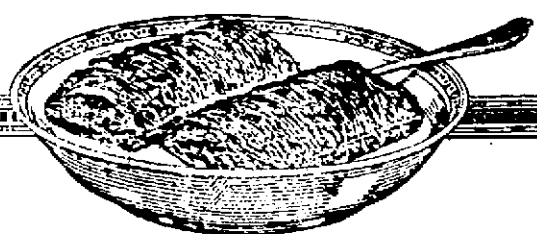

There were two alarms last evening, one from box 125 for a fire under the stairs at 7 Hennessy's court, and the other by telephone for a blaze in a pile of waste in the barber shop numbered 536 Merrimack street. No damage. At midnight, an alarm was sent in from box 47, for a fire in old lumber and bags at Lafelle's coal yard in Gorham street. Late yesterday afternoon, there was a telephone alarm for a slight blaze on the Alken street bridge.

GETTING RICH QUICK

Ever since the primal curse, "in the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat bread," was pronounced, men have been trying to side-step it. That is one of the reasons why men try to get rich quick.

The old alchemists thought that they had a pretty good scheme for solving the problem if they could only make it work. They spent their days and nights, locked up with crucibles and test tubes in smelly places, trying to find a way of transmuting the baser metals into gold. They didn't succeed, and perhaps it is just as well they didn't, as about the only appreciable result would have been to make gold as cheap and plentiful as lead.

John Law, with his "Mississippi bubble," tried on his get rich quick scheme in France. It was an amazingly attractive proposition and the government and most of the people fell for it. Ruination for thousands was the end.

The "tulip craze" originating in Holland, drew a good part of Europe into a wild vortex of get-rich-quick speculation, with the inevitable collapse and dire disappointment and suffering.

In our own country, we have had Keely with his motor that has not yet "moted," and Miller, of the Franklin Syndicate, with his 520 per cent return on money turned over to him for supposed investment in the stock market. And now comes Ponzi, who, some people seem to think, may have discovered the long-elusive philosophers' stone that is enabling him to gather in unlimited sums in cold cash from sources that he hasn't shown much disposition to talk about.

Greedy, of course, is the thing that makes all get-rich-quick schemes possible, and to some profitable, and this is aided and abetted by the fact that winners, where there are any, make a lot of noise in the world, while losers, of whom there are always many, sink off to hide their losses and the evidences of their foolishness, if they can.

HAVING A GOOD TIME

There was a very estimable, hard-working woman in a Massachusetts city who, shortly before Christmas a few years ago, received an unexpected gift of $20. It came about in this way: The woman had been left a widow with a numerous brood of children and only her own labor to depend upon to furnish them with the means of support. She found it difficult at all times to keep them properly supplied with food, clothing and shoes. Imbued with the spirit of Christmas, a few charitably disposed people had quietly conveyed to her the $20 aforementioned with the hope and expectation that it would help to lighten a little the burden of providing necessities for herself and her children.

The next day the estimable recipient of the gift was seen riding down the main street of the city, leaning back luxuriously upon the leather cushions of one of the most expensive touring cars that could be hired in town.

People who knew the lady, who was riding in state, gaped after her as though a queen were passing by. Among those who looked and wondered were some of those who had made contributions to the $20 fund. Later, when it appeared as though the children were a little more in need of shoes than usual, someone asked her what had become of the gift. With an air of the deepest satisfaction, she replied that she had wanted to have a ride in a back or automobile all her life, but had never been able to afford it before.

Of course some people called her "foolish" and "extravagant." Others commented, "Bully, she's a good sport."

Perhaps the latter were right. Who knows? Perhaps every one of us has the right to chuck duty, hard work and responsibility occasionally and realize, if the opportunity offers, the dreams of a lifetime, even if they are silly ones.

BETTER DAYS FOR RAILROADS

The recent jump upward in the price of railroad shares shows one portion of the silver lining to the cloud of increased transportation rates. A rise in one day in the quotations for Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad shares of nearly five points shows that a return of confidence in railroad securities has begun.

The poor opinion that has been held of railroad stocks lately has been reflected in constantly falling prices that have affected even such supposedly sterling investments as the shares of the old Boston & Providence railroad, with its 10 per cent dividends guaranteed under a 99-year lease.

Now, it may be hoped, the tide of public confidence has turned. Railroads, neglected because their future looked insecure and dark, may again come to be looked upon as profitable properties to invest in.

There is need enough for money for the transportation lines, that are not today equipped to carry more than 80 per cent of what ought to be their normal traffic. They need money to be obtained from new issues of stock and long term bond issues. With returning confidence in their ability to earn charges it ought to be possible to obtain necessary funds at reasonable rates.

Much must depend, as regards the future of the railroads, upon the action of the employees' brotherhoods. If their members are satisfied to remain content for awhile with the 21 per cent wage raise that has recently been granted them, the railroads' ought to show signs of getting on their feet again.

A LABOR NEWSPAPER

Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention in Lynn have been discussing the advisability of establishing a daily newspaper for the purpose, to quote the words of one of the delegates, of "getting the side of labor before the public in any controversy that may arise between capital and the wage earners."

If the opponents of organized labor were disposed to "wish something" on the workers that would be a burden of expense to them, and in the end of no appreciable benefit to their cause, it would doubtless be a daily labor newspaper. Such a publication would not give its publishers access to the public ear, beyond what they now have, for the very excellent reason that it would be read by but very few persons outside of union ranks.

Those who are behind the movement for starting the new publication claim that the present newspapers are not fair to labor. It is doubtful if the majority of working people believe this charge to be true. As a matter of fact, newspaper editors and publishers are often faced with the accusation that they show too strong a tendency to favor the cause of the toilers at the expense of the employers. Between the two charges the truth probably exists, and that is that the newspapers have tried, with a reasonable degree of success, to be fair and just to both parties, with the result that they have pleased the extremists on neither side.

The labor leaders have a right to publish a daily newspaper for sport, pastime, or propaganda. It is quite certain, though, that, as a means of influencing public opinion, its value would be very nearly negligible. As a "news" paper, it would be predestined to failure.

CRIME WAVES

There were 52 murders committed in New York during the seven months ending with July 31. This, states the district attorney, is a record that has not been equalled in many years. It would not be surprising if an investigation should show similar conditions in eastern Massachusetts. Judging usually from newspaper reports there have been an unusual number of crimes of violence, involving the taking of human life, committed in this section of the country recently.

Experienced observers are not likely to find anything so very remarkable in this condition of affairs. Crimes, particularly homicidal crimes, seem to travel in waves, never ceasing to move, but now and then reaching a peak and then breaking over into a trough of depression. Some of this is doubtless due to the workings of the laws of suggestion operating upon unstable minds.

Just now conditions are peculiarly favorable to crimes of violence. The war shook the world out of all of its old grooves, and it has not yet got adjusted into new ones. During the time of readjustment there, again, standing is a subtle air of nervous tension and excitement everywhere. The old anchors that held men and women of abnormal tendencies somewhere within normal, conventional bounds have dragged from their moorings.

It is probable as a consequence of this that we have lately had an unusual number of murders and other serious crimes. But these, too, in time shall pass as similar outbreaks have passed before.

Hon. Alvan T. Fuller, candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor, says, "I pledge myself to stand for not one single needless governmental expenditure." Do we understand then, Mr. Candidate, that you are ready to stand for a good many of them, or is your press agent's rhetoric slightly at fault?

We should have had considerable admiration for him, if one of the numerous candidates for the republican nomination for the lieutenant governorship had had the courage to step boldly out and make a run for the governorship direct and, incidentally, had attempted to knock the stuffing out of the crown-crown tradition.

It is recorded of a group making food experiments that "they have a thermometer which, having been swallowed, records what happens when a person eats ice cream or hot oatmeal." We should think it would be more interesting if a record were kept of what happens when the thermometer is swallowed.

If the governments of the allies persist in their attitude of letting the soviet bear go ahead and gobble up a good part of Poland, they will have no one but themselves to blame if the animal, having comfortably digested his meal, turns on them for further nourishment with Germany helping him to get it.

It may be true that members of the feminine sex have no sense of humor, but it isn't any evidence of it that a Tyngsboro woman, whose husband produced a gun, threatened to kill her and set the house on fire, failed to accept it as a joke when he said it was.

With Governor Alfred E. Smith selected by democratic leaders in New York to head their ticket, and two newspapers running for president, the republicans of Massachusetts might as well join the procession and nominate Hon. A. P. Langtry for lieutenant governor.

The naval governor of Guam, who objects so strenuously to whistling that he made it an offense on his island punishable with a $5 fine, would doubtless agree with the correctness of the old saying about what happens to "whistling girls and crowing hens."

The I Won't Works are said to be in control of the farmer-labor party. If they should ever gain control of any of the farms, though, they would have to change their name quick and adopt as a motto, "I Will Work Like Sam Hill," or their stay in control would be short.

It ought not to be necessary for the licensing board to use up a very large quantity of gray matter in reaching a decision that a dance hall is not a suitable neighbor for the Lowell General hospital.

We might paraphrase a recent remark of Governor Cox, asserting his confidence that he is to be elected, by saying that he evidently believes that, while all democrats are not good people, all good people this year will be democrats.

A Lowell bank advertises: "Lowell is a good place to live; a good place to work; a good place to save money." Which, in the words of Dick Deadeye, if it were Dick, "nobody can dispute."

"Let Go Sarah"

Reasons of His Own

Farmer Biggs called one of his oldest farmhands to him the other day. "Well, Tompkins," said he, "after this week, I have decided to pay you your full wages in money instead of part of it being cider."

"Thanky," replied Tompkins promptly. "That won't do for me." "Why not, man? Don't you see you'll be the gainer? I reckon 50 cents off your wages every week and the cider isn't worth as much as that."

But Tompkins shook his head decidedly.

"Lookes 'ere," he explained. "The cider I gits I drink myself, but the old woman'll 'ave the 50 cents."

One Head Enough

The street corner orator evidently didn't believe that women should have any further liberty.

"We've given 'em the vote!" he screamed. "They're competing with us in every labor market! They are trespassing on our rights in every direction! Fellow-men, I warn you to look to yourselves! Soon they will want to usurp our authority in the home!"

Groans from the crowd—most of them derisive.

"Ah, you may sneer!" warned the speaker. "But you mark my words, the time is coming! And I hold that there should only be one head in the house!"

"Tight! Go on!" squeaked a meek-looking man in the front of the crowd.

"You agree with me, sir?" declaimed the orator. "That shows you to be a man of sense. You uphold my views!"

"I do," replied the meek-looking man, sadly. "I've just bought new summer hats for my wife and five daughters."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The Lowell Rotary club is one of the very few organizations in the city making a successful attempt at keeping up interest in club affairs during the summer months. As a rule July and August are pretty free of organization meetings of any sort and while the Rotarians felt that regular gatherings would be out of order during vacation time, the entertainment committee decided that there was a loophole, through which the solidity of the organization might be maintained in hot weather. This committee hit on golf as the medium, with the result that three club tournaments were arranged—the first coming today over the Nashua Country club links. In a week or two the Merrimack valley course at Methuen will be played and a little later the Vesper. Prizes will be competed for and aside from the fun of playing and the rivalry engendered, automatically the club benefits through a continuance of interest in organization affairs.

Lowell people who habitually "summer" at beaches along the North Shore tell me that bathing on that coast this year is a heroic pastime and a thing left to men and women of the sturdy physique. Not for years has the Atlantic rolled such stinging breakers onto the sands and from early in June the temperature has clung persistently to low levels. Cottage and hotel owners are complaining in a number of places and actually say that August's business will be considerably below the amount expected. About the only solution would be extensive dredging somewhere in an attempt to change the course of the Gulf stream enough to make its warming presence felt in the now icy waters that surge into the Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine coast north of Cape Cod.

A great deal has been said and written about the perversity of things inanimate and just now as we throw back the desk and opened up the old mill to grind out something for this column the almost invisible but none the less efficacious little chain whose duty it is to save our glasses from destruction got caught on one of our suspender buckles and put our glasses askew. Being of a patient nature and feeling that perhaps the little chain had tired of the company of the antedated contrivance that has supported for years, without a murmur, our pantaloons, we dispensed with them for the time being. Then we readjusted the glasses and the next point of the little chain's attack was our cute little bow tie. After breaking its toe-hold there and forgetting all about it, we filled the pipe and proceeded to grind out a paragraph that would set the world a-thinking. Pipe filled, hands rubbed, we proceed to light it when up pops little chain again. In inserting the pipe between our cavernous teeth we got on the wrong side of that pernicious little eyeglass preserver and just for that we are nursing a sore nose. Got dern that chain!

A small boy residing in the vicinity of School street was seen going down the embankment on the Pawtucket side of the Pawtucket bridge yesterday afternoon, and those who went by wondered what the little fellow was going to do in the rocky spot below, for he carried something down up in a couple of handkerchiefs. One of the passersby watched the lad for some time and saw him go way down under the bridge again he was questioned his handkerchiefs in a small pot of water. When the boy came back to the bridge again he was questioned about his actions and this was his reply: "My father is going fishing for pickered tomorrow afternoon and he uses shiners as bait. Knowing that he would not have time to gather in enough shiners for his afternoon's sport, I took it upon myself to get him a supply of the tiny fish, and I have been very lucky. So what you saw me drop in the pool of water below were shiners. I could not take them home, for they would die, but where they are they will keep alive and tomorrow noon I will call for them and spring a surprise on daddy." Undoubtedly, this little fellow is not aware of the fact that at night when the mills are closed the water runs over the dam and by this noon his shiners will be well on their way to Lawrence.

I sat on the porch of a home in the Highlands, a few evenings ago, and talked with a man who, on the morrow, was to celebrate his golden wedding anniversary. He was about 70 years young. In a wrestle he can make things lively for a sturdy grandson who saw service overseas during the war. As I talked with the youthful old man, he pulled a tobacco pouch from his pocket and filled, as though he were enjoying the task, as though he were applying it to the carefully rammed home charge I asked him how long he had used tobacco. He wrinkled his brows in thought for a moment before replying, "About 52 or 53 years. I should judge. I began by chewing the weed. Those were the days when you could get a piece of tobacco worth chewing. It used to come in twisted rolls. You just took your jack-knife and chopped off a chunk and chewed it, and you were chewing pure tobacco, not ground up boot heels, molasses and glycerine. I chewed until about eight or ten years ago, when I gave it up because there was no more decent chewing tobacco to be had. I began to smoke about the same time that I began to chew. I enjoyed both for a good many years. Did it ever hurt me? Not a mite. Shortly after I was married, nearly fifty years ago, I made application for a life insurance policy. I was turned over to a doctor for examination. He was supposed to be a pretty good doctor. He had been a leading Civil War surgeon. He gave me a thorough examination. After it was over, he said to me, 'Young man, we can't insure you; you've got a bad case of tobacco heart. If you don't stop smoking and chewing you're doomed. I wouldn't give you a year longer to live.' But here I am alive today and I have been using tobacco ever since."

GOV. COX PROMISES TO KEEP ON OFFENSIVE

DAYTON, O., Aug. 5.—A lightning message to democrats and republicans was given by Gov. Cox, in an address yesterday at a local democratic picnic. Speaking from a roped arena for boxing events, Gov. Cox, avoiding flimsy issues, declared he would carry the offensive in "a considerable fight" for which he predicted success. Incidentally he promised that his address next Saturday accepting the presidential standard could be understood, "even by schoolchildren."

"Boys, I'm ready for the fight," he declared to the cheering plaudits of several hundred members of the Gen. City Democratic club of this city. "We need make no defense. Ours will be the offensive fight from the beginning to the end and it will be a considerable fight. Make no mistake about that."

"I have the faith in me that there will be triumph of right principles this fall, which will serve notice to republican leaders for years to come. I was about to say that it would not be a democratic triumph. It will not be that. It will not be a victory in the partisan sense. It will be a triumph of the right."

"We've won before in the same kind of a fight. We'll win again because we're right."

"The opposition has been good to us and the advantages that it has given will be recommenced in the stirring days ahead of us. The opposition apparently has adopted the course of doing what we farmers used to do—of ploughing around the stump, of seeking to avoid the things that perplex."

"It is with the opposition expediency pure and simple. They attempt to appeal to this group, that group and other groups without the slightest consideration of the great masses thereby to the perpetuity of our government. Our course is the straight course."

In prefacing his address, the governor said he was in "sort of a straight jacket mentally," because propriety and precedent barred him from discussing national issues. "I must hold my peace until next Saturday," he said.

As he climbed into the boxing arena used for the speakers at the picnic held a few miles north of Dayton, the candidate asked "Which is my corner?"

"Now bring Harding in and he'll be good for just one round," an admirer shouted, while the governor smiled.

The governor's address followed another day of hard work on his correspondence. At dinner last night he discussed the woman suffrage fight in Tennessee with Mrs. Abbie Scott Baker of the National Woman's party who arrived from a similar conference with Senator Harding, the republican candidate.

TUMULTY TO REPRESENT WILSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, will leave Washington today for Dayton to represent President Wilson at the formal notification of Governor Cox as the democratic presidential nominee. Mr. Tumulty will travel by automobile in company with John Barnett, former democratic national committeeman of Colorado and Dr. J. W. Coughlin, former national committeeman from Massachusetts. The president, it is said, expresses the desire that Mr. Tumulty attend the ceremony.

The celebration of a birthday anniversary, customary among the ancients, was originally frowned upon by the Christians.

Guns Don't Scare Colorado Senatorial Candidate

BY MABEL ABBOTT
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
DENVER, Aug. 5.—Justice Tully Scott of the supreme court of Colorado is running for the United States senate.

Justice Scott is a democrat. And if he is elected, there is going to be an interesting session in the senate cloakroom some day, when somebody happens to say something that reminds the small, quiet new senator with the gray hair and the tired-looking eyes of politics as it used to be played in Cripple Creek, Colorado. In the days when Cripple Creek was young.

"I came to Colorado in 1901, to get out of politics," he will explain, mildly.

"I'd been trying to run our farm in Kansas, and teaching school and studying law and so on, and I got into politics a little, helped nominate Cleveland, and finally found myself receiver of the land office at Oberlin, Kan. But I wanted to quit politics, so I left, and came to Cripple Creek.

"I hadn't been there very long when the miners struck, and a reign of terror followed. There were wholesale deportations by the mine owners and their agents, destruction of property, and all sorts of injustices. Naturally, I objected to these things.

"Then came the election, and as a good citizen, I tried to help select a democratic ticket made up entirely of people who had had no part in the troubles. And one night the whole ticket marched into my office and said they would not go on unless I would act as chairman of the campaign.

"I agreed that they might call me chairman, though I didn't intend to do any of the work. Just as soon as my name was published as chairman, I was served with notice by the mine owners' crowd that I couldn't hold any political meetings in that county."

"At this point, if Justice Scott has become well absorbed in his recollections, he will suddenly bounce in his chair.

"Well," he will continue, controlling himself, "the first meeting went off all right. I got Senator Hughes, a mine owner himself, but a good democrat, to make the first speech.

"But we heard that some ten or 12 noted outlaws were going to be on hand to break up the next meeting.

"It was to be held at Victor. Some of my friends organized a club of 300 men, all well armed and good shots. Two men were detailed to follow each of the outlaws to shoot to kill if any one of them began any mischief.

"We hired trains and brought 800 people over from Cripple Creek. I took the candidate for governor and the candidate for congress into the meeting between two rows of guns.

"And, do you know?" Justice Scott will assure the cloakroom with great earnestness, "we didn't have one single bit of trouble at that meeting!"

The justice must have given up trying to keep out of politics after that, as he was elected to the state senate in 1906. He has been identified with reform measures of many kinds, and his work in the senate had much to do with the passage of the primary election, initiative and referendum laws. In 1911 he was appointed presiding judge of the court of appeals and in 1912 was elected to the state supreme court.

He is strongly in favor of government ownership and operation of railroads. He also believes that each state should own one typical unit of its most important industries, such as a coal mine or a factory, and operate it, and use the information as to conditions and costs gained as the basis for decisions as to prices, labor disputes and other questions.

He will stand on the democrat platform as to the treaty and League of Nations, he says.

GOMPERS MAKES DENIAL

Replies to O'Connor's Statement That Labor is Back of G. O. P.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., August 5.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, declared yesterday that the report coming from Marion O'Connor, chief of the international longshoremen's union, had promised aid to Senator Harding evidently was an inaccuracy, unless he was speaking personally.

"O'Connor is well versed in the sentiments of the federation regarding pledges of political support," he remarked, "and he is not clothed with any official authority to promise assistance in a political sense from the federation."

Secretary Morrison was disinclined to admit there was any prospect under present plans of a strike among the steel workers in the spring. But he was aware that there was a movement to extend the unionizing of the employees in this industrial field.

U.S. WARSHIPS ON GUARD

Ordered to Block Landing of Barbados Cable at Miami by Pres. Wilson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Five destroyers are patrolling the entrance to the Miami, Fla., harbor, under orders from President Wilson to prevent, by force, if necessary, the landing of a cable that the Western Union Telegraph Co. is having laid from Barbados, a British possession in the West Indies.

A British cable ship, the Colonia, has been chartered by the Western company to land the American end of the cable, which would connect with a British cable line from the Barbados to South America. At the state department it was stated yesterday that the British embassy had been asked to inform the master of the ship that such a landing would be in violation of the American law. Officials explained that there was no significance in the fact that the vessel was British; that she probably was the only cable craft available to the American company, when she was chartered.

Work on the cable line from Barbados was begun last summer. Some time ago the Western Union company applied to the state department for an executive permit to land the wire at Miami, but officials said action on it had been delayed pending the holding of the international communication congress called to meet in Washington, Sept. 15.

A British cable company, it was explained, now has a monopoly of cable rights in Brazilian waters. An American concern desires to construct a direct cable line from the United States to Brazil and it was stated that the American government desired to know before issuing the permit to the Western Union Telegraph Co., whether the arrangement entered into by the company with the British concern, the Western Cable Co., controlling the line from Barbados to Brazil, would aid in this monopoly.

Some officials expressed doubt yesterday whether there was a law requiring permits for the landing of cables in the United States, but when questioned as to this, state department officials declared emphatically that there was such a law.

The orders from the president which resulted in the destroyers being assigned to patrol the three-mile limit off Miami were issued, it was said, after reports had reached the government that the company planned to complete connection of the line. Secretary Daniels was advised of the orders upon his return from Alaska. In announcing that the five destroyers had been assigned to the patrol duty, he said that the instructions from the president were to use means necessary to prevent the landing of the cable.

An onion crop of 15,000,000 pounds is expected this year.

K. OF C. IN FAVOR OF IRISH FREEDOM

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Knights of Columbus, in annual convention here, adopted resolutions yesterday stating they believed "that Ireland has the right and ought to be a free and independent nation."

The resolutions were adopted a short time prior to the receipt of a letter from Eamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," appealing for the order's support in an effort to gain official recognition by the United States of the republic of Ireland. De Valera said in his letter that private depots had been received show that throughout the greater part of Ireland, British rule is little more than a system of licensing the shooting up of peaceful towns and villages, and the murder of unarmed Irish citizens by roving bands of irresponsible British military marauders. He said it was hard to believe America, that had to endure similar conditions in its early struggles, as a republic, can continue to give countenance to this British terror in Ireland.

"To continue to give recognition to it, a regime of alien frightfulness, whilst denying it to the people's elected government," the letter continued, "is an unfriendly act by America to the people of a small nation that has never done America any wrong. Ireland has a right to expect neutrality at least."

William P. Larkin of New York was selected to deliver the oration at the Knights' presentation of the Lafayette statue to France.

ROYAL ARCANUM MEETING

A get-together meeting of local councils of the Royal Arcanum was held last evening, under the auspices of industry council, for the purpose of furthering plans for the big union meeting, which will be held August 26. Priary and Supreme Secretary Samuel N. Hoag, both of Boston. In the course of last evening's meeting, several candidates for membership were received and there was an address by A. Goodwin of Boston. Regent Arthur P. Jordan was in the chair.

BROWNER SAYS BELFAST IS CITY OF FEAR

BY MILTON BROWNER
European Manager N.E.A.
(Special Cable)
BELFAST, Ireland, Aug. 5.—Belfast today is a city of fear.

You don't find it if you wander in busy retail shopping avenues or out in pleasant suburbs where dwell the rich mill owners.

But go, as I have gone, into sordid streets where the workers live and you find fear rampant in the heart of every woman, whether Ulster unionist or Irish nationalist.

The women never know, when their men leave, whether they will return home safe, be helped in wounded, or carried in dead.

Fear More Blood
The recent riots cost a toll of 15 lives and more than 250 wounded. Whole streets of houses are damaged. Hundreds of windows were smashed. Two Catholic churches were attacked. Many places were looted.

At the moment of writing there is a lull in the open warfare, but it may break out again any time. Meanwhile more than 4000 British troops are quartered in mills, schools, barracks and ships lying in the harbor.

In the streets are sandbag fortifications with gun holes through which the military can fire machine guns. These sand bags are protected by barbed wire entanglements. Armored cars with rifles protruding parade the streets.

Strick Sides Suffer
Suspiciously eyed by troops, I wandered out into Bombay street and other scenes of battle while the fighting was still on.

Not a whole window is left in the place. Many Catholic families have moved out. One young woman showed me a whole pocketful of lead bullets she picked up in her front room.

In Ulster Protestant section I found houses likewise damaged by bricks and other missiles.

The streets of both sections were littered with smashed glass, brickbats, buildings and clubs. In months of attacks in both sections I saw mounds of buildings dug from the streets piled up ready for use.

The trouble was not set off by Protestant workmen in the shipyard drove out Catholic workmen. Fighting between Orangemen and Catholics is an old story here, but my investigations have led me to believe the present outbreak is something more than political-religious.

At the bottom it is economic, I am convinced. The Ulster workers claim they don't want the nationalists to make room in jobs for Ulstermen who came back from war to find their places filled by new Irishmen.

I believe that the employing class, however, is largely responsible. It worked on the religious feelings, both sides with a view to making impossible for labor to present a front.

Ulster shipyards pay good wages but the greatest industry is the linen and here many workers are swayed. Thousands are out of work as a result of the trouble.

Canada's fisheries last year yielded a commercial revenue of more than $20,000,000.

PLATFORM OF N. Y. DEMOCRATS

Urges Modification of Volstead Act, Irish Recognition and Support for Cox

Mention of Wilson, Smith, Cox and Roosevelt Signal for Applause

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Modification of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act, recognition of the Irish republic, affirmation of faith in the national democratic platform and endorsement of the nominations of Cox and Roosevelt, enthusiastic commendation of Governor Smith's administration of state affairs, reorganization of the state government by consolidation of existing department centralization of authority, creation of an executive budget system, a four year term for governor, belief in the principle of direct primaries, home rule for cities, and state development of hydro-electric power are the principal planks of the platform submitted to the unofficial democratic state convention by the committee on resolutions today.

Mention of President Wilson, Governor Smith and Cox and Roosevelt during the reading of the platform was the signal for applause, but the wet plank and that referring to Ireland received the most uproarious applause.

The League of Nations was ignored in the platform, but the delegates understood that the endorsement of the national platform adopted at the San Francisco convention was an endorsement of the league.

Mayor Lunn of Schenectady, candidate for the United States senatorial nomination, presented a minority report recommending the elimination of the beer plank, declaring it in violation of the action taken by the San Francisco convention. His report was lost, however, by a vote of 105 to 34, and the platform was adopted.

The general sentiment expressed on the roll call by counties on preferences for candidates showed that the ticket favored by the convention would be Governor, Alfred E. Smith of New York; Lieut. Governor, George R. of Tompkins; secretary of state, Miss Harriet May Mills of Onondaga; United States senator, Lieut. Gov. Harry C. Walker of Broome.

PILGRIM TRICENTENARY SAYS FRANCISCO FELT INNOCENT

Pres. Wilson Urges all to Celebrate Dec. 21—Appoints Commission

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Wilson in a proclamation today "suggested and requested" that December 21 be celebrated throughout the United States as the "centenary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth in 1620 and appointed Samuel W. McCall and Richard Hooker, of Massachusetts and George Foster Peabody of New York, members of the Pilgrim Tercentenary commission.

In the proclamation, the president recommended that the day be fittingly observed "to the end that salutary and patriotic lessons may be drawn from the fortitude, perseverance and the ideals of the Pilgrims."

The president's proclamation follows:

"My fellow countrymen: December 21 next will mark the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, in 1620. The day will be becomingly celebrated at Plymouth under the auspices of the Plymouth Pilgrim Tercentenary commission and at other localities in Massachusetts. While this is proper and praiseworthy, it seems to me that the influences which the ideals and principles of the Pilgrims with respect to civil liberty and human rights have had upon the formation and growth of our institutions and upon our development and progress as a nation merits more than a local expression of our obligation, and make fitting a nation-wide observance of the day.

"I, therefore, suggest and request that the 21st of December next be observed throughout the union with special patriotic services in order that the great events in American history that have resulted from the landing of these hearty and courageous navigators and colonists may be accentuated to the present generation of American citizens. Especially do I recommend that the day be fittingly observed in the universities, colleges and schools of our country to the end that salutary and patriotic lessons may be drawn from the fortitude and perseverance and the ideals of this little band of churchmen and women who established on this continent the first self-determined government based on the great principle of just law and its equal application to all, and thus planted the seeds from which has sprung the mighty nation.

"In witness hereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed, done in the District of Columbia, the fourth day of August, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Twenty and of the Independence of America, the 145th.

"WOODROW WILSON."

Fellow Prisoner of Third Man in Murder Case Makes Statement

Declares Cordio Told Him That Luigi Feci Killed Soullis

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—Governor Coolidge today heard counsel for Francisco Feci on his plea for executive clemency and commutation of sentence on the ground of new evidence. Feci was convicted of the murder of Louis Fred Soullis at Billerica and condemned to die in the electric chair at Charlestown state prison the week of Aug. 15. The governor's council attended the hearing, unofficially, to hear the claim for clemency.

Vincent Broyna, counsel for Feci, produced an affidavit from Hammond E. McKnight, who had been in prison with Feci at East Cambridge. McKnight, in his affidavit, claimed that Joseph Cordio, who was tried with

FRANCISCO FECI

Feci and with Feci's brother, Luigi Feci, talked with him just prior to the trial.

Cordio, McKnight stated in his affidavit, asked him for advice and that he promised it to him if he would tell him the whole truth about the murder. McKnight said that Cordio told him everything.

Luigi Murderer

Cordio said, continues McKnight in his affidavit, that Luigi was the man who committed the murder and that

Liquid or Plaster

They end corns now in this scientific way

People who know—millions of them—now end all corns in this way.

They apply Blue-jay, either in liquid or in plaster form. It means but a touch and takes but a jiffy.

The corn pain stops. Then the Blue-jay gently undermines the corn so it loosens and comes out.

The modern way

Blue-jay was invented by a chemist who studied corns.

It is made by a laboratory of world-wide repute.

Old-time treatments were harsh and inefficient. Blue-jay is gentle, quick and sure.

Now all corns are needless. All these pains can be avoided. To let corns remain while you are and pad them is folly.

You can stop a corn ache the moment it appears. You can end a corn completely before it can develop.

Blue-jay has proved these facts to millions. It will prove them to you—and tonight—if you let it.

Quit the old methods of dealing with corns and see what this new way means. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

he, Cordio, was an eye witness. Cordio said that he took Luigi Feci to his automobile to the place of the murder and waited for him to do the job.

He said that Luigi Feci went to Francisco Feci's home after he had disposed of the body, changed his clothes, hat and shoes, and left his coat, with the revolver in it, in Francisco's room. It was the same revolver, he said, with which he did the shooting. Cordio said that he then took Luigi Feci into his automobile and gave him a start to get away.

Cordio further stated, he said, that Francisco Feci had no dealings with the murdered man, but that Cordio did. He said that Cordio had trouble with Soullis over real estate.

Before and After

McKnight in his affidavit further states that Cordio told him before the trial that Feci would be acquitted and that he would also be acquitted himself as the government did not have the necessary evidence to convict them. When Cordio returned to the jail, according to the affidavit, McKnight asked him how he got along and he said "Shik as a pin."

He said that Feci was convicted because the government had more evidence than they had figured on.

He did not tell me, continues McKnight, that he had testified against Feci and I did not know he had so testified until I read the testimony in the papers, May 25, 1920.

Cordio told me, McKnight declares in his affidavit, that Luigi Feci and himself had arranged a conversation in ball for the benefit of the interpreter in which it was made to appear that Feci was more guilty than Cordio.

Calls Affidavit "Lie"

Dist. Atty. Tutis branded the affidavit as a lie from beginning to end; that McKnight had made several false statements heretofore and that he was not to be depended upon. The district attorney further stated that Francisco Feci had been given a fair trial in every sense of the word. He also stated that he believed Cordio guilty, but that the government did not have the evidence to convict him. He said that search was still being made for Luigi Feci and that he would be brought to justice if apprehended.

The government took the matter under advisement.

Press the "Lever that Moves the World," Says Supreme Court Justice

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The press is "the lever that moves the world as no other earthly power could move it," said Supreme Court Justice Fawcett in Brooklyn today, when he continued his preliminary injunction granted in favor of a Brooklyn newspaper, restraining Mayor Hylan from banning from the reporters' well in the board of estimate chamber, a representative of the paper with whom he had had a difference.

"The press should not be hampered while in the lawful pursuit of gathering news, or interfered with while honestly disseminating really important information for its readers," Justice Fawcett ruled.

child's nerves

During childhood years the nerves are delicate and easily disturbed. Sleeplessness, restlessness, and other nervous attacks often indicate worms. Worms are a common disorder with children and weaken the nervous system if not attended to promptly.

Motorcycle Patrolman Holds up Automobiles on Way to Bass Point

NAHANT, Aug. 5.—The Hudson board of trade's annual outing was interrupted yesterday by a motorcycle patrolman of the Metropolitan park department, who held up the 35 automobiles as they were en route over the Revere beach boulevard because the machines were displaying the signs of the board of trade. The machine that was held up by the patrolman contained Congressman John J. Rogers of Lowell and P. E. Dunbar. Mr. Dunbar tried to explain to the patrolman that he had a permit from Capt. Hawkins, but this did not satisfy the patrolman. The patrolman then allowed the visitors to proceed to Bass Point, where dinner was enjoyed. Congressman Rogers was the chief speaker. The outing was attended by more than 175 members.

JOHN D. GIVES AWAY 15 CENTS AND ADVICE

LENEX, Aug. 5.—John D. Rockefeller gave away 15 cents, a pet talisman which he carries for luck and considerable advice at the Aspinwall hotel here yesterday when he stopped for a few hours on a Berkshire motor trip. The talisman, a horse chestnut which he took from his trousers pocket, most of the advice and two-thirds of the money he gave to Chauncey M. Depew.

The two aged celebrities had a half hour's chat together in the lobby of the hotel, and the conference ended when Mr. Rockefeller bestowed his good luck charm upon Mr. Depew, and added to it the gift of two bright, new nickels, which had never been spent, one of them, he said, for Mrs. Depew. Then he turned around and, in another burst of generosity, bestowed a third new nickel upon the rosy palm of Miss Edmee Reisinger, daughter of Mrs. Curt Reisinger, prominent New York society woman, who is spending the season here.

"The nickel is for being a good girl," said the old king, after he had shaken Mistress Edmee's hand, "and I'll advise you to put it right in a savings bank."

The performance was witnessed by a crowd in the lobby, including newspapermen, some of whom, afterwards, interviewed Mr. Depew in the hope of being told some of the other secrets of financial wizardry which Mr. Rockefeller might have bestowed upon the New York Court magnate. But Mr. Depew said that, as far as he knew, horse chestnuts and nickels were the best harbingers of great wealth.

FINED FOR LARCENY OF FURNITURE

Larceny of furniture valued at $11 from Hagop Vartanian was the charge brought against Honham Vartanian at this morning's session of the police court, Judge Enright presiding. Through his counsel the defendant denied his guilt and a lengthy trial followed. In the course of the trial it was brought out that the two men at one time occupied the same apartment, but had not lived together for some time. A short time ago, so it was claimed, Vartanian called at the room of his former friend and took away pieces of furniture, which he claimed was his property. At the conclusion of the trial the court found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $10.

William J. Ryan was charged with drunkenness and also of throwing a stone through a window, but after the evidence was presented, His Honor found him not guilty and ordered him discharged.

BELIEVE MURDERED MAN ONCE GUARDED CZAR

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 5.—Information which the authorities have bearing upon the murder of Frank Sokolowsky, a labor leader, by poison alleged to have been thrown in his face by his wife, Alexandria, who is under arrest in New York city, purports to identify him as one Orlow, or Orlowski, once of the private bodyguard of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, and also at one time head of the secret police of Petrograd.

It is known that Sokolowsky was a graduate of a Russian university, was fluent in eight languages besides many dialects, and a man trained in diplomacy. As an organizer for the American Federation of Labor in various centres of foreign workers he was regarded, it is said, as a man of talent and organizing ability.

It is claimed that Sokolowsky had worked under the Russian police head, Azeff, had been often sent on important missions to various European capitals, and was known to secret agents of the old Russian government all over the world. After leaving Russia, it is claimed, he was employed by the Canadian government under the name of Frank Genutis.

SOVIETS ADVANCE 6 MILES A DAY

Continue to Push on to Warsaw—Being Held in South, Says Polish Report

American Aviators in Great Battle—Report Invaders
Suffer Heavy Losses

WARSAW, Aug. 5. (By Associated Press.)—Russian soviet armies driving against the Polish lines defending Warsaw, are maintaining an average progress of six miles a day in the direction of this city.

They are being held in the south, however, and in some places are being pushed back from the districts east of Lemberg, which is one of the objectives of their present campaign.

Today's official statement issued at general staff headquarters declares that the Polish army has repulsed the Russian forces near the Galician frontier and has forced the Bolsheviks back into Russia in the region of Radzivilow, northeast of Brody.

American aviators fighting with the Kozlowski squadron are battling against Gen. Hindenburg's cavalry and infantry along the Sereth river, where the soviet forces have not made any headway. Parts of this squadron were engaged all day yesterday, near Mikulicz, where they met Cossacks and Bolshevik infantry. The losses suffered by the enemy in this district were very heavy, today's official statement saying 1000 Bolsheviks were killed and large numbers were wounded.

End of Republic at Stake

Poland strained every ounce of her reserve power yesterday to checkmate the Bolsheviks in the game on the result of which depends the fate of the new republic. Men in whose hands rests the destiny of Poland assembled at various conferences throughout the day, and taking a leading role in all decisions were the British, French and Italian missions.

Munitions recently unloaded at Danzig by the British were arriving during the day, and tanks, rifles and artillery from France were rushed to the front. French officers are arriving daily to act as technical advisers at Polish general headquarters in the preparations for Warsaw's final stand against the invaders.

No Letup in Fighting

There was no letup in the fighting, particularly along the northeastern and eastern sectors, where the soviet forces were gradually moving toward Warsaw. Negotiations for an armistice seem to have stimulated the Bolsheviks, who with the exchange of notes between the Warsaw and Moscow governments began their drive with new vigor.

Newspapers of this city were still confident, and expressed great hopes in the volunteers now facing the enemy. Some wounded men from these detachments have already arrived here, many of them being boys who left school when the country called its men to arms against the soviet armies.

MALDEN BOY SCOUTS HIKE TO LOWELL

Walter Burgoine, aged 15 years, scoutmaster of Troop 15; Wm. Mahoney, aged 15, senior patrol leader of Troop 17 and Henry Bastien, aged 15 years, assistant patrol leader of Troop 13, all connected with the Boy Scouts of the Immaculate Conception church of Malden, arrived in this city yesterday after hiking from their home town. The boys were entertained last evening at the home of Mr. Thomas Clark in Pleasant street.

The three scouts left Malden Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock and walked to Milligan's grove, Wilmington, where they camped over night with the O.M.I. Cadets, the visitors being entertained by the Lowell boys in a most delightful manner. After partaking of a bountiful breakfast yesterday morning, the little fellows continued their walk and arrived in this city yesterday noon. This noon they started on their homeward trip and they expect to spend tonight at the camp of the Boy Scouts of the Immaculate Conception church of Malden at Lakefield.

BAR YOUNG MEN LEAVING IRELAND

DUBLIN, Aug. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—The decree of the Daily Eireann (Irish republican parliament) prohibiting emigration from Ireland probably will have the effect of preventing the departure of many Irishmen for America and Australia, which at present are the most popular destinations for emigrants. The Sinn Feinists for some time have been discouraging young men from leaving the country and this official action did not come as a surprise. Women have constituted the majority of Irish emigrants for several months.

The Sinn Fein movement is conducted almost entirely by young men and the decree has their support, as well as that of the extreme laborites.

Poles Unable to Halt Invasion

northeast of Brest-Litovsk, have been given up by the Poles.
West of Brest-Litovsk, the Poles still hold the great forts that have made that city one of the principal fortresses of Eastern Europe, but soviet troops have been hung across the Bug river further to the northwest, and it would appear this move will compel a retirement of the Poles from their defenses. The Russians are advancing in Echelon after the tactics adapted by General Mackensen when he led the German armies in the great Duna campaign during the world war, and the Poles are reportedly being outflanked and forced to leave positions they have held for days against frontal attacks.

The Polish armistice commission left Warsaw for Minsk today, to meet representatives of the Moscow government for the purpose of arranging an armistice and beginning peace negotiations.

Ready to Send Envoy

WARSAW, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press.) Poland's council of defense has sent a wireless despatch to Moscow informing the soviet government that Poland is ready to send a peace delegation to Minsk. Two conditions were laid down by the council. They were that Polish delegates be permitted to communicate freely with the Warsaw government, and that the soviet government agree to accept in principle the terms Poland will propose.

Cross River Bug in Wide Front

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Russian Bolshevik forces have crossed the River Bug on a wide front northwest of Brest-Litovsk, where a great battle is being fought, says a despatch from Warsaw, quoting an official statement issued at the Polish capital last night. On the northern sector of the front where the soviet armies have been plunging ahead in an effort to reach the corridor connecting Poland with the Baltic the Poles are said to have won local successes. The statement which covered the events of yesterday, would seem to indicate that the Bolshevik advances in the region of Malva have been checked, temporarily, at least. In the Sereth region river sector, eastern Galicia, the Poles have been successful, it is said.

Rush War Supplies to Poles

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Evening News learns that the government today considered the Polish situation and that "large quantities of war material are to be sent immediately in concert with France."

"There is no intention on the part of the allies," the newspaper adds, "to depart in the slightest degree from their position regarding Poland. The British government may have to call for volunteers within the next few days, to aid in the preservation of the Versailles treaty. It would be possible for the war office to send four divisions within the next few weeks, two divisions immediately. Steps are being taken to mobilize the navy, but the cabinet has not yet definitely decided."

Urge Russia to Accept

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press.) Leo Kamenef, president of the Moscow soviet, is reported to have sent a message to his government asking that Russia accept immediately the original British proposals for an armistice with Poland.

Mr. Kamenef, it is said, sent his message after he and Leonid Krassin, the Russian minister of trade and commerce, had had a very plain talk with Premier Lloyd George and Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons last night.

Up to the middle of this afternoon, no reply had been received. Mr. Kamenef and Mr. Krassin are members of the Russian commission which came here to conduct negotiations looking to the restoration of trade between Great Britain and Russia.

In a statement in the house of commons today, in regard to last evening's conference with the soviet delegates, Premier Lloyd George said he and Mr. Bonar Law made it clear to Krassin and Kamenef that the immediate conclusion of an armistice on fair terms was the only course which would remove suspicion that the soviet government was insincere in its professed desire for peace and in its declaration that it intended to respect the liberty and independence of Poland.

Premier Lloyd George added that he and Mr. Bonar Law also made it clear that in view of the fact that ethnographic Poland had been invaded, "we would take effective steps to remove obstacles in the way of transmission to Poland from Danzig of military supplies which could be obtained from that quarter."

The premier concluded: "I think in view of the critical state of affairs, I would rather not make any further statement this afternoon, but should unfortunately our suspicions be confirmed, I shall make a full statement to the house Monday as to such further naval or military action which it may be necessary to take."

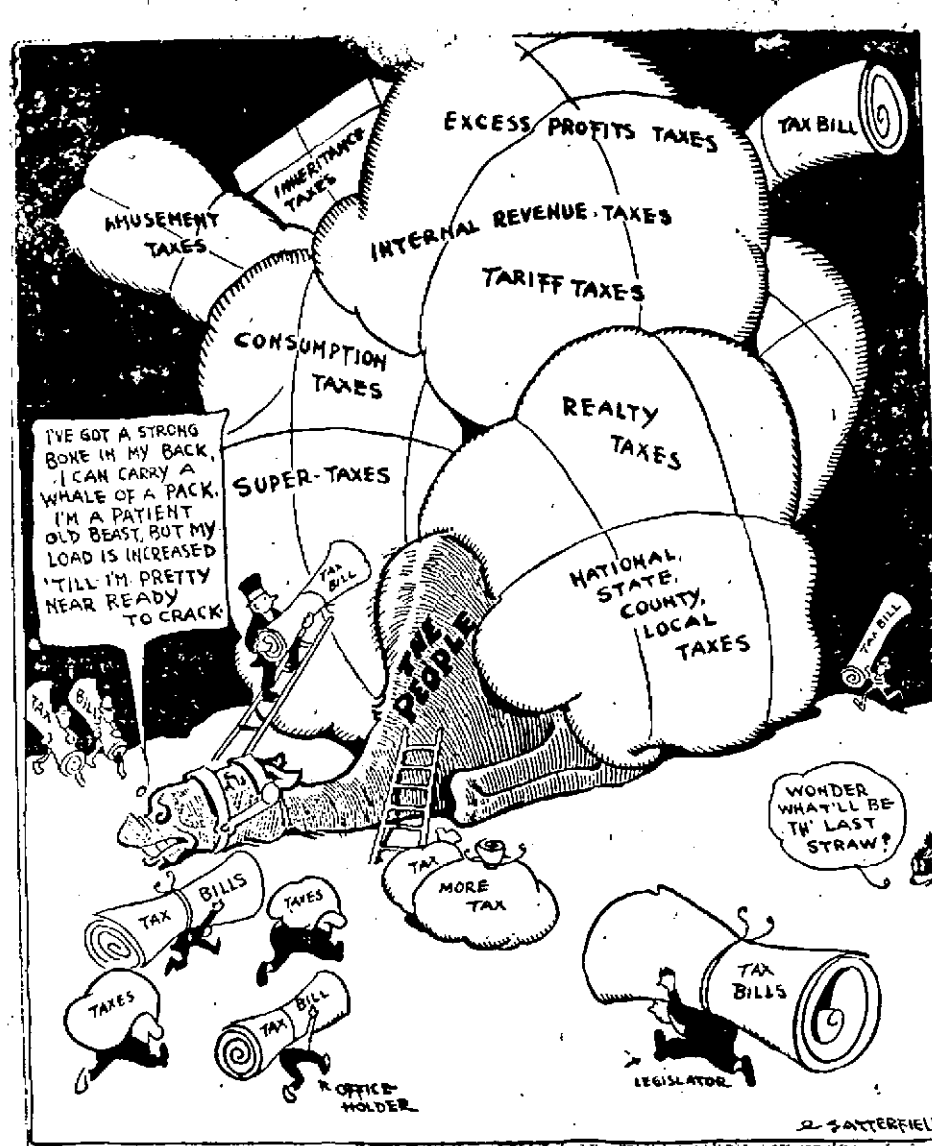

He said the whole object of the proposed peace conference in London had been jeopardized by the soviet army's advance.

Claims Advance Slowing Up

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Polish circles in Paris claim the advance of the northern army is becoming slower and that the resistance of the Poles is more stubborn. They declare Polish forces still are holding Astrolouka, 27 miles southwest of Lemberg, and say the Warsaw-Berlin railroad is in no immediate danger.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The American legation at Warsaw reported today under date of August 3, that an intercepted wireless order from the Bolshevik command to troops at the front indicated that the Bolshevik authorities at Moscow would not consider an armistice before August 4. At Warsaw, this is interpreted, the message said, as indicating that armistice plans would be deferred as long as the Bolshevik command entertained hopes of capturing Warsaw.

It is believed Queen Ann instituted the meetings of royalty at the Arcot races on Aug. 4, 1711.

Gives Warning to Public

Board of Health.
Lowell, Mass.
Pears from California found to possess arsenic from spraying. Advise local examination and confiscation of pears coated with arsenic. Advocate peeling of fruit and washing of vegetables before using. Federal authorities have been notified.

DR. EUGENE R. KELLEY,
State Commissioner of Health.

Department Gets Busy

Immediately upon receipt of the telegram the health department began to extend a cordon about all the pears on sale in the city. The wholesale houses were first visited by Dr. Thomas H. Carroll and John E. Drury, members of the board, and Agent Francis J. O'Hare. Proprietors readily opened up their stock for inspection when the mission of the board became known and any lot that had any evidence of arsenic was immediately confiscated. The retail stores were then visited and the same process gone through. The dealers, both wholesale and retail, were notified to have all shipments of pears on which they saw a white film inspected by the health department before attempting to put them on sale, for otherwise they will endanger the health of the community. The inspection will be given freely and readily by the health authorities. All that is necessary is that the dealer get in touch with the board of health office at city hall.

Wash and Peel

Later Agent O'Hare issued an appeal to the general public, asking that no pears on which the white film denoting that they have been sprayed with arsenic, be eaten until they were thoroughly washed and peeled. The arsenic will not penetrate the skin of the fruit, health authorities say.

Only with the full co-operation of the public and dealers can the health department keep down the menace of poisoning by this shipment of fruit. How great a supply of pears has been shipped from the west with their poison coating has not been learned, but the local authorities are determined to enforce every precaution until all danger has passed.

Board Needs Auto

The emergency which the health department was called upon to meet this morning demonstrated most forcibly the need of an automobile for this department. Time was an all-important factor in preventing further consumption of the poisoned fruit and had the board relied only on its present facilities the work would have been seriously delayed. However, the city council this week voted to approve the purchase of a machine for the department and it should be available for use in a few days. Dr. Carroll, one of the members of the board, has been urging the purchase of a car for years and finally the council has seen fit to heed the appeal.

THESE FROCKS SHOW LATEST USE OF LACE

(By CORA MOORE)

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The lure of lace grows stronger and more sure every day. Lace hats, lace sunshades, lace lingerie, lace frocks. Never was it used in such quantities or so artistically.

Here are two frocks that have been much liked. The one worn by Louise Myers at the Cohan & Harris theatre is entirely of lace, a hooped tunic dropping tiny clusters of orange flowers over a lace petticoat and the lacy, short-sleeved bodice attached to the skirt with a solid belt of flowers. Then there is a shiny lace hat with its wired brim turned up flat in front and a single cluster of orange flowers pinned to the point thus made.

The second frock, worn by Mabel Scott in a Paramount picture, is a yellow organdie lavishly trimmed with bands of blue lace. Flowers, French roses, bunched in the skirt between the panels and on the crushed belt and also on the chic organdie hat, add a last master touch.

URGES PROMOTION FOR GEN. EDWARDS

BOSTON, August 5.—Tri-Mountain garrison, Army and Navy union, last night sent letters to all congressmen from this state, asking that they use their influence to see that Brig. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards is given a square deal and is properly honored for his long and able service. The resolution adopted by the organization states that that peerless soldier has twice, within six months, been slighted, and men junior to him advanced to the rank of major general, and now he is threatened with removal from the command of the northeast department.

John J. Cosgrove of Charlestown, national senior givie commander and Massachusetts department commander, was unanimously indorsed for national commander at the election at the encampment at Erie, Penn., next month, and a committee will urge his promotion upon all garrisons. He has been department commander for five years and a national officer since 1917. He has been a member 26 years.

The steady march of the Russians upon Warsaw has created a situation which is causing grave anxiety in European capitals. Some expressions go even to the extent of comparing it with that of August, 1914.

The allies are making representations to soviet Russia in aid of Poland, the British note despatched yesterday being now described in some quarters as in the nature of an ultimatum, although allegations that it contained a threat of war are not confirmed in authoritative quarters. The Russian emissaries now in London are reported to have recognized the gravity of conditions and to be urging their government to halt the Russian march in Poland.

NO ICE SHORTAGE HERE

And Miss Gage Hopes She Will Not Have to Boost Price

Despite the fact that a very small portion of the ice stored in the Forge Village ice houses, which were burned to the ground last Monday will be salvaged, Miss Martina Gage, head of the Daniel Gage Co. stated this morning that residents of Lowell need not worry for there will be no shortage of ice in this city. As to whether or not the price of ice will be increased later, she could not foretell, but she stated as long as she can hold present prices she will do it. "Of course," she said, "I will have to buy ice elsewhere in order to keep up with the demand in Lowell, and I will regulate my prices according to the price I will be obliged to pay."

The ice houses at Forge Village stored between 30,000 and 45,000 tons of ice and it is feared it will be almost a total loss. Miss Gage said the ice is melting very fast. "Our men," she said, "don't seem to know how to start salvaging the ice because of the dangerous conditions existing and to tackle the job with any degree of safety is a real problem."

Asked if she visited the scene of the fire since the buildings were destroyed, Miss Gage replied in the affirmative and she said the ice is being melted rapidly by the sun, while the warm air is also helping a great deal in reducing the frozen mountain. "Despite our misfortune," she said, "we are very lucky that last winter was an exceptionally good one for ice and the crops everywhere were far greater than normal, so that we will experience no difficulty in bringing our supply up to normal again. You may safely state that there will be no shortage of ice in Lowell this year and that if it is within my power to maintain present prices I will do so."

Former Governor of Barcelona and Wife and His Sister-in-Law Attacked

MADRID, August 5.—Count De Salvierra, former civil governor of Barcelona, and his wife, were gravely wounded and his sister-in-law, the Marquise de Lejares, was killed last evening at Valencia, by five men who poured a volley of pistol shots into the carriage in which the three victims were riding. The announcement of the crime, made by the minister of the interior, states that the assassins were trade unionists. The count, while governor of Barcelona, was an opponent of the trade unions, declaring them illegal. The assassins escaped.

The shooting occurred at 9 o'clock, as the count's carriage was passing over a grade crossing of the Barcelona railway. It has caused great excitement in Spain.

41 LEADERS OF RECENT R. R. STRIKE INDICTED

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Indictments against 41 leaders in the recent railroad strikes, which Judge Samuel A. Cook refused to receive yesterday because the names of those indicted had become public through a "leak" several hours before the federal grand jury completed its report, were returned today.

Judge Aischuler ordered the indictments placed under seal until investigation of the leak is completed.

Dist. Atty. Clynne questioned every person concerned with the preparation of the case against the railroad men in an effort to fix the blame for the premature release.

"The person who divulged this information should be treated as an anarchist," said the judge. "Any man who is an employee of the government, or not who gives out such news prematurely is guilty of a misdemeanor and should be punished."

The indictments, as drawn up, charge the men with conspiracy to tie up the necessities of life through the strike last spring. Indictments were also voted against the Chicago Yardsmen's association, of whom Grunau is president, and the United Engine-men's association, according to reports given out yesterday. All those named in the indictments are members of the two organizations.

Grunau was reported to have told the federal authorities he was willing to settle the strike provided the government took some action to persuade the brothers to restore the seniority rights lost by the strikers when they bolted the organization last spring.

Approximately 100 members of the yardmen's association were expelled from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Local 900, at a meeting last night.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—"The Crank," arrested here recently and disclosed today as August Pascol of New Gretna, N. J., refused to reveal the whereabouts of little Blakely Coughlin unless he is granted immunity in the kidnapping.

He is said to be bargaining now to exchange the child, stolen from his parents' home in Norristown on June 2, for his freedom. He is also said to have gone so far as to admit the Continued to Page 8

FEW IN LINE AT PONZI'S OFFICE THIS MORNING

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Hardly more than half a hundred of holders of Charles Ponzi's notes calling for 50 per cent. interest in 90 days had appeared in Ponzi's office today at the hour for re-opening the offices of the Securities Exchange company. In addition to this evidence that the run which began 10 days ago was virtually over, there was noted a marked unwillingness on the part of note holders to deal with speculators seeking to buy their claims at a discount.

In the early days of the run, speculators bought hundreds of notes, usually at a 10 per cent. discount, and then took their place in line and cashed them in. One speculator claimed to have made a profit of $14,000 in a single day.

Governor Coolidge and the executive council have appropriated $5000 for the use of Attorney General Allen. Part of the money is for investigation of Ponzi's business and the remainder for inquiries into a large number of automobile thefts. Mr. Allen had asked for $10,000.

Joseph E. Herman and two others said to represent the Commonwealth Trading & Securities corporation of 25 West 43rd street, New York, conferred with Ponzi here today. Ponzi previously had announced that a New York syndicate had made him an offer for his business and that a conference had been arranged.

Mr. Herman said he and his associates had made a careful investigation of Ponzi and his business and had satisfied themselves that his methods were sound. Ponzi, he said, was doing the bulk of his business in France and dealing in foreign exchange. The present inquiry into the business Mr. Herman added, originated in Europe.

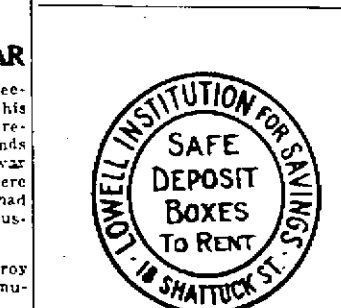

WOONSOCKET AGENT TALKS

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Aug. 5.—Adelard Forcier, Ponzi's agent in this city, declared today that he paid out $61,000 yesterday on matured and unmatured notes, and that his operations were pretty well cleared up. Few persons appeared at the office this morning.

OPEN GRAVE, CUT HEAD FROM BODY

Head Severed—Body of Wife in Same Grave Not Touched

MALDEN, Aug. 5.—State and local police joined today in an effort to learn the identity of vandals who opened the grave of Casper Izert in Holy Cross cemetery, and severed the head from the body, carrying away the head. Izert died in South Boston on Oct. 12, 1912, aged 85 years.

Cemetery employees discovered the open grave Monday morning and on investigation found the cover of Izert's casket pried off and the headless body propped against the side of the grave. The casket containing the body of Izert's wife also had been pried open but the remains were not touched.

The state authorities were called in today after the local police had been unable to get any trace of the vandals.

Letter Demands Payment of $100 Under Penalty of Death

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Mayor Peters today received a letter signed "The Death Boy," demanding payment of $100 under penalty of death. He turned the letter over to the police, saying he had received similar letters previously and was not disturbed by them. The letter today read:

"Mr. Andy: If you don't send 100 in sealed envelope to Box 274, United States post office, Boston, you'll be dead on August 8. Don't tell or—then followed a crude picture of a dagger. The letter was mailed last night in the Roxbury district."

SEWERS FLOW WITH BEER

Federal Officers Supervise Destruction of Brewery Products—Sad Story

The entire stock of the Harvard company, a firm now in the process of liquidation, is being destroyed under the direction of federal officers and it is not unusual for visitors to the plant of the company in Payton street, off Plain street, to see thousands of dollars' worth of beer and ale pouring into the sewer.

It is estimated that from 30,000 to 40,000 barrels of the various alcoholic products which the Harvard company brewed before prohibition came into effect, will have been destroyed when the federal agents complete their work.

This activity is but a part of the general disruption of the plant, voted by the stockholders at a recent meeting. A large part of the equipment, live stock, etc., has already been sold, and one of the steps to be taken in the near future will be the disposal of the buildings of the company.

The work of doing away with the barreled stock of the company began a week ago and gradually the immense holdings of the big plant are being eaten into. It will take some time to complete the work.

CABLE SHIP NOT TO ENTER AMERICAN WATERS

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 5.—The British cable ship Colonia, chartered to lay the South American cable from Miami to Barbados in the British West Indies, will not enter American waters until permission is granted by the state department in Washington, according to advices received today from the British ambassador, Sir Auckland Geddes, by A. Hubbard, British vice consul in Miami. Hubbard was instructed in a long despatch from the ambassador to take command of the cable ship and to keep it outside the three mile limit until further instructions from Washington.

Wireless connection has not yet been established with the Colonia, which left Newport News several days ago, but it is believed that she is now off the Florida coast and the United States destroyer 153 is held at the municipal docks to take the British vice consul to the ship as soon as she can be located.

GIVES WARNING TO PUBLIC

Board's Action Result of Telegram From State Health Department

White Film on Skin Indicates the Presence of the Poison

A large number of pears, raised in California and accidentally sprayed with arsenic of lead, have made their way into Lowell and unless the general public heeds a warning sent out today by the board of health, there may result serious cases of poisoning.

This morning the board confiscated eight large boxes of pears from the stocks of various local wholesale dealers and a smaller number from several retail stores about the city. In every instance the fruit gave evidence of having been sprayed with arsenic, and had it been eaten with the skin left on would have poisoned those who used it.

Report of Britain's Threat to Declare War Not Confirmed

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Statements printed by extremist newspapers here that Great Britain has threatened to declare war against soviet Russia if the Bolsheviki advance into Poland is not halted, have not been confirmed in authoritative quarters. While it is generally agreed the allies are taking an emphatic stand upon the terms sent by Earl Curzon, British secretary of state for foreign affairs, to George Tchitcherine, Bolsheviki foreign minister, on July 20, in which he stated that if the soviet government made war upon the Polish people the allies would assist the Poles, nothing is reliably known which would justify the assumption that such assistance would take the form of a declaration of war, with all such a declaration would involve.

In military quarters here the view is taken that the allies' principal weapon against the Bolsheviki, if it is decided to oppose them, will be the blockade, and that the Poles will, if possible, be given supplies. Doubt is expressed, however, as to the possibility of conveying supplies to the Polish army if the Bolsheviki capture Warsaw and close the corridor leading from Poland to Danzig. In this case a blockade might be the only means of helping Poland.

England Ready to Mobilize Troops

PARIS, Aug. 5.—England had taken steps to mobilize rapidly two divisions for service in Poland, according to the Matin, which adds that plans for the transportation and reequipping of this force have been prepared. Negotiations between France and England for the purpose of devising means for aiding Poland are being pushed actively, other papers assert, and the bureau which has been liquidating war stocks has cancelled certain previous engagements.

WILSON FOR PRESIDENT

Philippine University Wants
Woodrow — Would Pay

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 5.—Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of the University of the Philippines!

Not so much of a dream as it may sound, The board of regents of the university are preparing an offer of 100,000 pesos per year to induce the president to become head of the highest institution of learning in the islands.

If necessary, members of the board state, the bid will be increased to 200,000 pesos, or $100,000 per year. The offer is being sponsored by Senator Pedro Guevara, member of the board of regents, and Conrado Benitez, dean of the university, who will endeavor to obtain the services of the president immediately following the expiration of his term of office next March.

"I have no doubt that if the position is offered to President Wilson," says Benitez, "humble as it may seem to be in comparison with the post of the highest executive of the greatest republic in the world, he will seriously consider it. Mr. Wilson is highly an idealist, and if it is explained to him that the Philippines are the meeting place of the cultures of the east and west and that the University of the Philippines is growing to be, and surely with his able direction, is going to be instrumental in the realization of this, surely this appeal will be a powerful inducement to make him accept the position."

"At present practically all the countries of the east, such as China, Japan, Indo-China and others are sending students in great numbers to our shores, knowing that here is a system of education that implants in the student the best that the east and west can give."

"The time is bound to come when the Philippines are going to become the center where leaders of thought and action in the east will be trained, and with President Wilson at the head of our university this dream will be realized."

"Ex-President Taft is now one of the professors of Yale in order to make a living. President Wilson will have to face the same problem when he steps out of the presidency, and I do not see any incompatibility in his becoming president of the University of the Philippines."

VACATIONS FOR CEMETERY HELP

The board of cemetery commissioners went on record at their regular meeting late yesterday afternoon as favoring vacations of two weeks each year for employees of that department who have worked there at least 21 weeks.

It came after Dennis J. Murphy, appearing in the interests of the civil service employees of the city, asked that the cemetery commissioners give their employees the privileges entitled them by an act of 1914, accepted by the city.

It was also brought out at yesterday's meeting that William H. Rigby, chairman of the commission, had asked the city solicitor for an opinion as to the right of the cemetery commissioners to take charge of perpetual care money.

NOVEL SCARE-CROW ATTRACTS MARINE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Because his soul had become attuned to the jazz music of bamboo rice whistles, Sergt. John H. McClaskey re-enlisted in the Marine Corps here today especially for Philippine service.

The Negritos of the Philippines cut bamboo whistles which they fasten to fences around their rice fields, according to McClaskey. When the wind blows they produce a weird screeching sound which keeps away birds that are destructive to the crops.

Sergt. McClaskey has just finished a term with the Marines in the Orient, and will return there on the next transport leaving here for Manila.

PLAYGROUND CHILDREN ENJOY OUTING

Last Saturday afternoon at Pearson's grove, Chelmsford Centre, 150 kiddies from the Payette street playground were the guests of the Community Service club girls. Trucks for the transportation of the little ones were furnished by the Merrimack Mfg. Co., Massachusetts mills and the C. T. Hatch Co., and the party left the grounds at 1:30 p. m., arriving at the grove at 2:30. From then until 7 p. m. there was one round of activities, which included swimming, races for the boys, a baseball game between the "Happy-Go-Luckies" and the "Never-Give-Ups," which terminated in a tie score. Volley ball and newcomb were enjoyed by the older girls, while singing games were played by the smaller ones, and races including three-legged, shoes and obstacles were played by both juniors and seniors. Ice cream cones were one of the chief attractions and proved to be quite the most popular. The committee in charge of the affair was composed as follows: Sadie Melancon, chairman; Frances Larkin,

Anna Egan, Hilda Pearson and Clara Dainston, assisted by Nellie Ryan, Karen Graffam, Katherine and Della Carby, Laura Edmonds, Helen Lafour, Helen Stafford, Frieda Kenney, Helen Melancon and Eva Dalgia, all community club girls. Misses Cronin and Lawler of the club staff and Misses Colby and Hill of the Payette street playground also assisted in making the event a big success. As this was the first of the series of parties by the girls and as it was financed entirely by them with the exception of some of the ice cream, which was generously donated by Mrs. J. K. Whittier and Mrs. Frank Putnam, it is hoped Lowell

Easiest Way to Remove Ugly Hairy Growths

(Beauty Culture)
Here is a method for removing hair from arms, neck or face that is unfailing and is quite inexpensive: Mix a thick paste with some powdered delatone and water and spread on hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes, rub it off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. No harm or inconvenience results from this treatment, but be careful to get genuine delatone and mix fresh.—Adv.

citizens will recognize this splendid piece of work and be willing to co-operate with the girls to make the remaining parties as happy and as successful as this one.

THE IRISH SITUATION

Urge Dominion Home Rule at Conference Between Lloyd George and Irish Delegates

LONDON, Aug. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Lloyd George and Irish delegates met today at a long cabinet council and discussed these questions. Mr. Lloyd George received in the afternoon and again in the evening, a deputation of Irish unionists and nationalists from Dublin and Cork who urged him to grant dominion home rule for Ireland.

The deputation was headed by Sir Stanley Harrington, commissioner for education in Ireland, and included a number of prominent local men, among them Professor Wilbraham Fitzjohn Trench of Trinity college, Dublin. With the premier, were Andrew Bonar Law, lord privy seal, Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, and other ministers.

An official report of the conference will be issued soon. The conference was a private one, but at it there occurred a discussion of the entire Irish situation.

Between the conference with the Irishmen, Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law received Leo Kamenoff, president of the Moscow soviet, Leonid Krassin and other members of the Russian mission which has come to London in an endeavor to solve the trade situation between Great Britain and Russia. This was the first official reception of the Russians since their return to London. The discussion was confined to the Polish crisis.

The premier's reception twice of the Cork and Dublin deputation was the mark of the greatest interest in the lobby of the house of commons. There the belief was expressed that the views of the men of such high standing in south and west Ireland, many of whom formerly were opposed to home rule, could not have failed of careful consideration by the ministers.

It was said in the lobby of parliament last night that the delegation had urged the government to drop the new Irish crimes bill and substitute a new dominion home rule

CURFEW ORDERED IN NATIVE TOWN OF ARCHBISHOP MANNIX IN IRELAND

CORK, Aug. 5.—A curfew order which is to become effective Friday has been proclaimed in the district of Charleville and Kilmallock. The order prohibits meetings of fairs and forbids anybody being abroad between the hours of 9 o'clock and 3 o'clock in the morning.

Charleville is the native town of Archbishop Mannix of Australia, who has been named to open a fete there during this month.

IRISH VOLUNTEERS LEAD BY MEN WHO SERVED IN BRITISH ARMY

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Irish volunteers are being led by Professional soldiers—men who served in the British army and are disgruntled, either respecting their pay or as regards nationalism," says a despatch to the Daily Mail from Dublin, which continues:

"The men who shared the rooms of General Lucas (who recently was kidnapped but later escaped) as guards during his captivity were well educated and trained officers of this type who are now holding posts as senior officers in the Sinn Féin volunteers. Nearly all the non-commissioned men of the volunteer forces also served in the British army during the war."

ELABORATE FAREWELL

Parade Precedes Departure of K. of C. Delegates for Europe Late Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—An elaborate farewell reception for the delegates sailing late today on the steamship Leopoldina to take part in the presentation of the Lafayette statue to the city of Metz, was planned as the closing feature of the supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus.

Arrangements were made for the convention delegates to occupy 700 taxicabs in a parade from the convention hall to the pier, where a number of the delegates will board the steamship Highlander to accompany the Leonidina down the bay.

The pilgrims, after the Lafayette statue ceremonies at Metz, will journey to Belgium, where gifts will be presented to Cardinal Mercier and King Albert, and thence to Rome, to be received by Pope Benedict.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," the rippling Metro film, will hold the boards as the banner attraction at The Strand the latter half of the present week, with Ruth Stonehouse, Eugene Piatie, and an admirable surrounding company playing it. This is a farce of sheer joy, sheer laughter, and it has been said, sheer palmas. It is just as funny on the screen as it was on the stage, and there is much opportunity for the showing of wonderful "shots" at some of the characters. No more likable farce has been put on the screen in years than this one. Gladys Brockwell in "A Sister to Salome," a Fox production, is the dramatic feature of this film. The story is as unusual as well could be.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

A red-blooded story of American youth is "Sherry," the feature attraction of the current program at the Merrimack Square theatre. It is an adaptation by Edgar Lewis of George Barr McCutcheon's widely read novel of the same name. Romance and adventure speed the story up to high gear and there is never any lack of action. The all-star cast finds Pat O'Malley in the title role, supported by William Hall, Harry Spangler, Richard Cummings and others. The other feature for the week-end is "The Woman God Sent," a story of factory and political life, starring Zena Keefe. The bill is completed by the international News, a comedy and the Photoplay Magazine.

DIOCESAN CENTRE FUND

In a recent report of contributions from Lowell and surrounding towns to the fund being established by the League of Catholic Women for a diocesan centre in Boston, the Tewksbury Catholic parish was credited with $299.25. It should have read $22.25. Rt. Rev. William O'Brien, I. P. P. of St. Patrick's church was credited with $100 instead of $100.

The internal revenue bureau, in the fiscal year ended June 30, made the greatest annual tax collection since its establishment in 1862.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few owners will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub in about a teaspoonful of this. It is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby needing special treatment, special remedies.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and Children.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splash, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little one.

There are substitutes and imitations as there are for the diamond, for anything of value. One might almost say that that which is not copied has no value. So you have had the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and a copy of the genuine wrapper kept constantly before you that you may guard against the false and the untrue.

SCRAMBLE SQUIRREL A PRISONER

"Ah, Ha!" laughed Tingaling when Mrs. Squirrel told him that Scramble, her husband, had got so fat she couldn't get into her own house. "If that is the case, why don't you go in and let him stay out? That's what Mrs. Tingaling did when I gained so rapidly. She said I was ruining the bed-springs, so she put me in a hammock in the back yard."

"Oh, yes," added Nick, "and daddy is just wide enough. Because, if my whiskers will go in without touching at either side, my body will go in nicely, too."

"Of course!" nodded Mrs. Squirrel, "but he was as skinny as a bone then, after starving all winter. The trouble was that after moving in, we found the pantry chuckful of goodies, black-berries and hazelnuts and acorns and often sleeps outside in our tent when it's hot. Once he let Nancy and me sleep there, too!"

"Humph!" snorted Mrs. Squirrel, "don't you suppose I'd let Scramble sleep out, and live out, and stay out only too gladly! There's just one trouble, I can't get him out."

"Goodness!" cried Tingaling. "That's funny! Why, I remember particularly that when he took the place and signed the lease, he measured the doorway with his whiskers. He says, says he: 'Mr. Tingaling, this doorway what-not, that last year's people had left behind them. And Scramble was so hungry, he ate up nearly the entire stock at one meal, never noticing that his sides were getting like water-melons. When he did discover what had happened, it was too late! He couldn't get out of the house! He stuck tight every time he tried."

Just then they heard an awful sigh, and turning they beheld Scramble himself, or rather his head, gazing wistfully at them from the doorway.

TENN. LEAGUE PROTESTS

Requests Gov. Cox and Sen.

Harding to Remove Political Pressure

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The Tennessee constitutional league with a board of directors consisting of three democrats and three republicans today sent requests to Governor Cox and Senator Harding that political pressure on the Tennessee legislature be removed. The letter to Governor Cox was written by Judge Joseph C. Higgins, former member of the court of civil appeals, and that to Senator Harding by Judge G. N. Tillman, who in 1916, polled the highest vote ever given a republican candidate for governor of Tennessee.

RENEWS EFFORTS FOR SUFFRAGE RATIFICATION

MARION, Ohio, Aug. 5.—Further influence for ratification of the woman suffrage amendment by the Tennessee legislature was exerted today by Senator Harding in telegrams to republican and suffrage leaders at Nashville. To State Senator John C. Houck, chairman of the republican state committee, the nominee wired as follows: "With the approach of a decision by the general assembly of Tennessee on the matter of ratifying the suffrage amendment to the federal constitution, I would like to be advised as to poll of republican members. I cling to the belief that the Tennessee republicans are in a position to serve both party and country by effecting ratification. Will welcome advice as to whether I can aid in securing this act of justice to the woman citizenship of our nation."

He also sent a telegram of encouragement to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association in response to a joint appeal for help from her and Mrs. George Fort Milton, president of the Tennessee League of Women Voters. The message to Mrs. Catt follows:

"Your telegram received. No discouragement is voiced from here. On the contrary, we are continuing to encourage the republicans of the Tennessee general assembly to join cordially in the effort to consummate ratification."

Senator Watson of Indiana, who came to Marion yesterday to see the nominee, issued a statement today declaring that George White's selection as democratic national chairman had helped cement President Wilson's hold on the democratic organization.

"Mr. White is himself a Princeton graduate," said the statement. "I have often talked with him about the president, his admiration for whom he has made no secret. Mr. White's selection was no compromise at all, because President Wilson wins at all points."

TO DEPORT GIRL WHO JILTED WAR VETERAN

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—Without having been permitted to go beyond the confines of the immigration station at East Boston, Alice Gertrude Chase, the pretty English fountain-pen worker, who arrived here 10 days ago from Liverpool on the steamship Winifredian, will go back to her home Saturday on the same vessel.

Miss Chase, who is 19, left her home in Kensington with the intention of marrying Anthony Trifiro of 3 Davis street, this city, but before the Winifredian was half-way across the Atlantic she changed her mind. She gave as her reason for not marrying Trifiro that she had learned that the locality where he lived was not the best.

The girl refused to see Trifiro when he called at the station with some of his relatives.

The board of special inquiry at the immigration station, which examined the young woman, held the case in abeyance for several days, believing that the girl would finally marry the man to whom she was engaged. Her persistence in refusing resulted in the order for her deportation being issued.

Trifiro, a veteran of the world war, met the girl in Liverpool while serving on an American naval vessel. When he left for home the courtship was carried on by mail and the girl consented to become his wife. He sent her money to buy her wedding outfit and defray her traveling expenses.

The Winifredian will be filled with passengers, 150 having been booked up to Monday. Many others anxious to sail were unable to secure accommodations.

AMERICAN HELD BY RUSSIA SOVIETS

VIBORG, Finland, Aug. 1. (By the Associated Press).—After 17 months in soviet Russia, where he was twice wounded and then captured by the Bolsheviks on the Archangel front on March 1, 1919, Corp. Arthur Prince of the 22nd United States Infantry, arrived at the Finnish frontier yesterday evening. On board the train with Prince, whose home is in Detroit, Mich., came 300 French, Danish and Swedish refugees from Russia, who are being repatriated by their respective governments.

Prince was one of four Americans sent out on this refugee train by the Bolshevik authorities at Moscow. The other Americans who arrived were two correspondents who crossed Russia from Vladivostok and Mrs. Emily Sherman, of New York city, a refugee from Samara. Thirty other Americans who have gathered at Moscow from various points in Russia and Siberia are waiting in the Bolshevik capital for permission from the soviet authorities to leave the country, all anxious for the American government to take steps to obtain their release.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

EN ROUTE TO DAYTON

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 5.—With the presidential nomination ceremonies only two days distant, Gov. Cox, the democratic candidate, was hard pressed today, with preliminary details and closing up executive and personal affairs to be free for the campaign after Saturday's events.

Many democratic leaders, including George White, chairman of the speakers' bureau, were reported en route here for pre-notification conferences.

An aggressive fight was announced by Gov. Cox in his address at a picnic of local democrats yesterday in which he declared that the democrats would be on the offensive. The governor also declared that his acceptance speech would be so plain that it could be understood by school children.

Continued

15-months-old baby is hidden in Atlantic City. Important developments in the case opened an account with a Philadelphia are expected today following the disclosure early today that "The Crank" name is August Pascol, of French and Italian extraction, who recently lived in this city and since last week in New Gretna, N. J.

An acquaintance of Pascol's during the six weeks following the kidnapping that he occupied a room in a house here says he knows Pascol had a woman friend. The state police and postal agents are now on her track and believe she has the child.

Pascol is still being grilled by the state police. He was taken to New Gretna after his capture Monday near Egg Harbor. This was admitted today by U. S. Atty. McAvoy.

"Pascol is the right man and he was in New Gretna after his capture," said the federal official. "I can say nothing more at present."

Pascol only recently bought a farm at New Gretna from William Gregory and drove from this city in a motor car last Thursday to take possession, according to W. H. Kelley, railroad agent at Tuckerton, near New Gretna. Pascol took three or four rifles and a quantity of liquor with him to the farm, Kelley said.

Pascol, the police learned today, had opened an account with a Philadelphia bank on June 21, four days after the father of the kidnapped child had placed $12,000 in a hiding place near his home. The mystery letter-writer signing himself "The Crank" had directed that this be done as a preliminary to the return of the child.

The first deposit was $1000. Later large sums were added. On Monday morning before his arrest, Pascol paid the balance due on his new home in horsepower.

New Gretna with a certified check of the Philadelphia bank.

Pascol's parents are French. He was born at Bridgeport, N. J.

Australia, it is believed, is the most nearly ratless country on earth.

MILEAGE BOOKS TO BE INVALID AUG. 26

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Return tickets and mileage books bought before the higher fares allowed railroads last Saturday become effective will not be valid when the new schedule goes into effect, it was said yesterday at the interstate commerce commission.

Now the commission will handle the problem of tickets purchased before the new fares are made operative for use after their effective date is now being worked out, it was said. Commission officials emphasized, however, that travel for the present prices would not be permitted after the effective date of the new levels.

It is expected that an order will be issued permitting the railroads to refund the amount paid for return coupons or unused mileage and commutation books, or that passengers will be allowed to use them upon payment of the additional charges authorized.

Unless some such method is adopted it was pointed out that tickets could be purchased for future use in large quantities which would result in postponing the effective date of the higher fares.

JENKINS EXONERATED

No Criminal Negligence on Part of Driyer Whose Truck Killed Child

Justin B. Jenkins, operator of an automobile truck owned by A. Crulick, which struck and fatally wounded Alice Corto, aged 12 years of 15 Elm street in Central street, July 13, was exonerated from criminal negligence by Justice John J. Pickman, who presided over the inquest. The accident occurred at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Justice Pickman's report concludes as follows:

"I find that on Tuesday, the 13th day of July last past at 3 o'clock in the afternoon that said Alice Corto, while walking across said Central street, as afore stated, was run into by a motor truck that was being operated by said Justin B. Jenkins, whereby she received injuries that resulted in her death as afore described. I find that the death of said Alice Corto was not caused or contributed by the criminal negligence of said Justin B. Jenkins or by the criminal negligence of any other person or persons."

PRES. WILSON PLEADED AT LEWIS' ACTION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 5.—President Wilson has expressed to John L. Lewis in directing the striking coal miners of Illinois and Indiana to return to work. Lewis received the following letter from President Wilson yesterday:

"Your action in response to my statement urging the striking miners to return to work has gratified me very deeply indeed. It is the action of a patriotic citizen and a man of vision and foresight. I am glad that you feel as I do that in urging the men to return to work, I was speaking in their interest as much as in the interest of the general public and of the industrial energy of the country."

Yesterday President Lewis sent telegrams to 30 local unions in Kansas, ordering the striking miners to return to work. He sent a telegram to Alexander Howat sharply taking him to task for fostering the trouble in the Kansas field. In his message Lewis declared the president of the Kansas miners had made no attempt to settle the strike in that state as provided in the contract with the operators and he warned Howat that he must comply with the laws of the union.

In Denver there is a mark near the state capitol which is exactly one mile above sea level.

REP. FERRIS HOLDS LEAD OVER SEN. GORE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 5.—Representative Scott Ferris continued to hold his lead early today over Thos. P. Gore, candidate for renomination for United States senator in Tuesday's primary election, but Gore headquarters steadfastly refuse to concede defeat.

In the contest for the republican senatorial nomination, W. Harrell, of Oklahoma City, was leading J. B. Cullison of Enid, on the face of the returns from a score of counties.

Predicts Long Victory

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Political interest in Missouri today centered on the race for the democratic senatorial nomination as returns of Tuesday's statewide primary continued to drift in from the rural districts.

With unofficial, incomplete returns from about 50 of 114 counties, and St. Louis, giving Breckinridge Long a majority of 14,211 votes over former Federal Judge Henry S. Priest, the closest of his two opponents the Globe-Democrat, independent republican paper by which the vote was compiled, announced today that Long will win with a plurality which may exceed 10,000.

Long campaigned on a League of Nations and law enforcement platform; Priest, anti-league and wet. Charles M. Hay, who appears to be running about 15,000 behind Long, was endorsed by the Anti-Saloon league and is a proponent of the league.

The renomination of Senator Seldon P. Spencer, republican senatorial candidate was conceded last night.

Posse Hunts Man Who Attacked Girl

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 5.—Several hundred farmers and county officers armed with guns, ropes and pitchforks, are searching Madison, Jessamine and Fayette counties in a hunt for Bulford Monday, a mulatto, 28 years old, charged with having assaulted Mrs. Charles Sauters, 16 years old, of Valley View, Madison county, 15 miles from here.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 5.—Government troops which will be sent into Lower California to put down the insurrection led by Estaban Cantu, governor of that state, are being mobilized at Guaymas and Puerto Isabel, in the state of Coahuila, and at other ports. Gen. P. Elias Calles, secretary of war, said last night.

"Cantu has not more than 1000 men," he added, "and they are not of the fighting kind. Most of them are saloonkeepers and gamblers."

THREAT TO KILL FAMILY FOR $40 CHARGED

LAWRENCE, Aug. 4.—Because his mother, three brothers and a sister failed to make a payment on a $400 loan, $200 of which had been paid, Paola Casto appeared in the district court yesterday on a charge of having threatened to shoot the whole family except his mother.

He denied the truth of the allegation, and the case was continued until today.

Casto, it is said, came to this country 11 years ago. The rest of the family came here three months ago. Casto having advanced $400 to enable them to do so. They went to work in the mills, but when the American Woolen company plants shut down they were thrown out of work, and payments after $350 had been returned, stopped. Mrs. Casto stated this on the witness stand. Mrs. Casto also testified to the fact that her son drew a revolver and said, "I'll kill them all, but I'll spare you."

Evidence of Secret Treaty

Germany, would be allowed to appropriate all of Poland's arms, munitions, rolling stock and foodstuffs.

After the conquest of Poland, permission would be given Russia to send a number of Bolshevik commissioners into that country to control the export of Polish supplies of all kinds.

Russia would then undertake to completely evacuate Poland in favor of Germany, which would hold the country as a guarantee against future credits to Russia in return for German goods and German labor.

"Russia," the correspondent adds, "intends to try to avoid the terms of this treaty by the creation of a Polish Bolshevik army, the first steps in the formation of which are now being taken in occupied areas of Poland. When Russia withdraws from Poland, she will leave this Polish army, permitting Germany to take such steps as she can to face the situation. The Bolsheviks are convinced that England will not materially aid Poland, and will wage their next campaign against Rumania in Bessarabia."

MISSOURI VOTERS SUPPORT LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Incomplete unofficial returns from Wednesday's state-wide primary election, yesterday indicated victories for the League of Nations covenant, prohibition, and opponents of large presidential campaign expenditures.

Breckinridge Long, who made the race on a league and law enforcement platform, was leading for the democratic nomination for United States senator. On the republican side the probable outcome was doubtful, as Senator Spencer ran strong in the rural districts and Dwight F. David polled a large vote in some of the larger cities.

John M. Atkinson and Arthur M. Hyde, both "drys," were leading for the democratic and republican gubernatorial nominations. Hyde was among those who demanded the resignations of National Committeemen Jacob L. Habler and State Chairman W. L. Cole as a result of their connection with the Lowden and Harding funds, respectively.

THRILLING FINISHES AT GRAND CIRCUIT

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 5.—Three of the four favorites of the Grand Circuit card came through winners yesterday at the Fort Miami track, but some thrilling finishes marked most of the races.

Royal Palm, winner at Kalamazoo two weeks ago, took the Toledo Blade, 2:14 trot for a purse of $300, the feature race of the day, and straight heats, while Favourite won the Legal News stake for two-year-old trotters after Bogalusa came through in the first heat. All of the three heats were trotted by the favorites in less than 2:10, making it the fastest race of the season for colts of that age.

Brother Peter, one of the members of the Peter The Great family, and a rank outsider among the talent, won his first race on the Grand Circuit when Walter Cox piloted him to victory in the 2:10 trot. In the third heat, Brother Peter choked, staggered to the edge of the track, and fell, while Miss Perfection, a contender in the previous miles, came through the stretch as a easy winner.

George Volo, the favorite won the 2:09 pace but J. W. S. the pacer, raced over half mile tracks last summer, came on and won the second heat for his new owner, Hugh McNichols, who bought him during the week and gave Nat Hay the mount.

The summaries:

CHARGE OF RINGER AT WOONSOCKET

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Aug. 5.—Charges that Weno C. winner of the 2:16 pace at the Bay State circuit meeting here yesterday, is a ringer, added spice to an unusually fast card of racing. Big, well-matched fields were entered in all three races and the finishes, except in the 2:15, were of the stirring variety.

After Weno C. had walked away from the field in the fast pace, taking the race in straight heats, Albert A. Brannell of Woonsocket entered a protest to the judges. He said that the mare, in his opinion, is Emmaline C. which had been worked on southern and western tracks and which has a record of 2:07 1/2.

C. W. Cole of Cape Vincent, N. Y., owner of Weno C. was called to the stand and declared that his entry was legitimate and that the mare is a daughter of Baron Alcone. He said that he would be ready to produce proof today.

The decision of the judges on the race was withheld.
If Weno C. is declared a ringer the money will go to the four horses which finished next in order.

In the other two races, the 2:15 pace and the 2:19 trot, the finishes were spectacular. In the pace it was Edna Scott six heats to demonstrate her superior speed and stamina. In the first heat she finished fifth. In the second, third and in the third heat was only half a head behind Electric McKerron. The little mare then went out in front of the field for the next three heats.

In the 2:19 trot the race in the first of the four heats was in doubt until the starter announced the judges' decision, six of the horses finishing in a bunch. The summary:

LITTLE PRINCE WINS AT WOONSOCKET

Little Prince, Tom Braden's star pacer, showed 'em how in Woonsocket Tuesday when he made an easy win in the 2:15 pace, taking the race in three straight heats. He was piloted by Oscar Dewel of Lowell, who is making fame and fortune in the Bay State circuit's field of colts.

"OUTLAWS" AFTER RED SOX PLAYERS

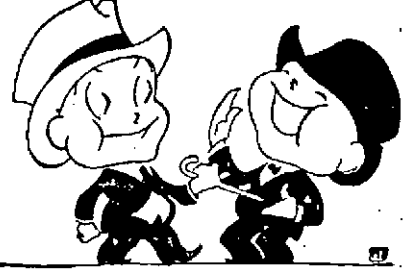

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—It was learned here yesterday that an emissary representing the Phila. club, had slipped over to Detroit, where the Boston Red Sox have been playing. The emissary had attempted to sign up John "Stuffy" McInnis, first baseman, and Walter Hoyt, the young right-handed pitcher.

Neither McInnis and Hoyt will be organized baseball players to season. During the Federal league game McInnis was offered big money to quit the Philadelphia Athletics, but remained loyal to Connie Mack, and it is not generally believed that either he or Hoyt will desert the Boston club.

"All right, Bill— You can stop reading 'em"

BILL TOLD me
HE HAD a good joke
ON THE maker.
OF A well-known brand
OF CIGARETTES.
LAST NIGHT, Bill said
HE READ an ad.
OF THIS cigarette
IN A magazine.
IT SAID "They Satisfy."
AND THIS morning
IN HIS newspaper.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
AND ON a billboard.
AND ON a card.
IN THE street-car.
AND IN the dealer's window.
AND ON the counter.
HE READ "They Satisfy."
AND HE bought a pack
OF THESE cigarettes.
AND I asked him
"WHERE'S THE JOKE, BILL?"
AND BILL said
"WHY THE darn fools.
SPENDING THEIR money.
PICKING ON me."
SO I said, "You bought 'em."
DIDN'T THEY satisfy?"
AND BILL said "Sure.
BUT HERE'S the JOKE.
FOR OVER a year.
I'D ALREADY been smoking
THAT BRAND."

WE admit it, the joke's on us. And over three million other smokers are "in on it" with Bill. But the real joke is on anybody who looks for "Satisfy" anywhere but in Chesterfields—for the Chesterfield blend can't be copied!

The Call'em

Not for some time has Lowell figured so prominently in the harness racing world as during the past week or two, thanks to Little Prince, Tom Braden's star pacer, who is traveling like the wind on the Bay State Short Ship circuit. The stallion's straight heat win at Woonsocket Tuesday, which won him a $1000 bonus, earning of local men and many more next week, when the circuit moves there for a fine program of races. Little Prince will be the main attraction from a Lowell standpoint and will have plenty of backers if opportunity is offered.

McGraw Using the Whip
More and more the feeling is growing in National league circles that the Giants will have to be beaten by the team that wins the pennant; if McGraw doesn't go out and cop it himself. Seventeen of New York's last 21 games have been victories and with the Dodgers and Reds putting and handling at each other, the Giants may slip in almost without warning. During the last month Jawn has pulled his club from nowhere to third place and at this writing only 2 1/2 games back of Cincinnati, who, in turn, trails Brooklyn by the same margin. It is long surmised that New York won Tuesday's game at Cincinnati with a $1000 bonus plum dangling for them if they got the verdict.

And Then Snow Shows
Here's a cheering thought: About four weeks hence college football men will be hard at it in preparation for another fall campaign. And then we all will ask: "Where in the world has summer gone?"

No Movies of Big Games
It is a pity that the chances for motion pictures of the Olympic games are decidedly slim. Although a number of United States concerns have attempted to send operators to Antwerp, the Belgian games committee has made no reply and so it begins to look like no pictures for this side of the planet at least. They would be a big drawing card to practically every city and would extend the interest over a much longer period of time.

WESTERN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP
CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The hundred-old Western Open golf championship today swung into play on the local 36 holes with nearly a score of contestants so closely bunched that it appeared to be almost anybody's tourney. Five of the players made scores on the first 36 holes yesterday, ranging from 145 to 150, and 14 were in the circles today by 155.
Jack Hutchinson, Chicago pro, had the lead at the start today with a record of 145 strokes for 36 holes yesterday, but was closely matched by several other stars.
Walter Hazen, national titleholder, and J. Douglas Edgar, Canadian champion, did not arrive in time to play while M. J. Brady of Detroit, looked upon as a favorite, withdrew after one round yesterday, being decidedly of his game.

INDOOR BOXING SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

The indoor boxing season opens tonight with a high class card at the rink on Hurd street.
In the main bout Silent Martin of Berklamp, N. Y., and Frank Carbonne of Fayetteville, Ark., two of the most prominent middleweights in the country, will perform. These men have met about all the middleweights of note from coast to coast. They have fought champions and former champions and few have been able to defeat them. In fact, both men have victories to their credit over the present title-holder, Johnny Wilson of Boston.

The rival managers announce that both boys are in the best of condition, and predict that the battle will be one of action and hard hitting from the moment they enter the ring until the bout terminates.
The other bouts for tonight are in keeping with the high class main event. In the semi-final of eight rounds Youne Ketchel and Barney Burke, both from that city of fighters and strife, down the river, will clash. Youne Ketchel is scheduled to fight Little of Lowell in the sixth round, and in one preliminary and Kid Hooker and Youne Carroll, both of this city, will swap punches in the other six-round event.

JACK BRITTON TO BOX YOUNG KLOBY

LAWRENCE, Aug. 5.—Tommy "Kloby" Corcoran, holder of the New England welter title, is to make a bid for greater fame.
He plans to meet Jack Britton, the world's welter champion, here the afternoon of Aug. 23.

The bout will be staged by Johnny Cuddy, Jr., in his circus arena, and is expected to draw the largest gathering of sports fans who have ever assembled here. That the contest will attract fully 20,000 is the expectation of the promoter.

About two weeks ago Cuddy conferred with Dan Morgan, manager of Britton, and clinched the bout, but it was not until yesterday that the fact became known here. The scheduled distance is to be 12 rounds, and the title will be at stake.
Kloby has returned to town and is to start training right away. Despite the fact that Britton on his record and in the fact that he has a war-form greatly outclasses the local warrior, Kloby figures that he has a chance to win the world's honors, which has been his ambition for years.

There are plenty here who will back the 10 champion to hold Britton to a draw at the least, but outside of this city Britton is bound to rule a top-heavy favorite.

While Kloby has yet to make any statement as to the bout will probably be his last, as long ago he made up his mind to retire from the ring during the present summer. Thanks to the start and publicity given him by Boston promoters, also his win over Eddie Shelvin, the former welter title-bearer for New England, Kloby is worth a fortune. It is estimated that he has accumulated a return from the war. Most of this he has sailed away.

LEDOUX BEATS FRISSEE

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Charles Ledoux, French bantamweight champion, knocked out Johnny Frissee, bantamweight of New York in the fifth round of a 16-round match here last night.

ANOTHER WIN FOR THE GILLESPIES

Pitts South Ends met defeat at the hands of the Gillespie on the 10th of the South common last evening, 4 to 1, in one of the Twilight league series. The game was played before 5000 fans and was easily won by the Gillespies. The Gillespies won easily by their ability to outwit their opponents and to make their hits count.

St. Paul's won on the mound for the winners and pitched a first class game. Buckler, composing his all-time best, pitched several several games that resulted in damage. Fielding features were contributed by Williams of the Gillespies and Williams of the South Ends. The score:

LOWELL FIREMEN WIN FROM HAVERHILL

In the best played of the three games of their series with the Haverhill department team, the Lowell firemen brought home a well-earned victory on the Textile campus yesterday afternoon, 4 to 3, and won the series between the two outfits.

Bart Mullen was on the mound for Lowell and pitched a regular professional game with all the fixins. The more threatening the situation became the cooler Bart got and he was at his best with the bases choked. Bart also scored three of Lowell's runs, stole four bases, got a two-bagger and a single and otherwise made himself useful to his team.

Waitt was again on the mound for Haverhill and the big twirler, who was suspected of being a "winger" when he first pitched against the local firemen, showed his wares to good advantage but was hit freely when hits meant runs. Five passes also contributed to his downfall.

Lowell got one run in the second inning, another in the third, two in the fourth and two in the sixth. Mullen's only bad inning was the fourth when a series of passes, a scratch hit and a clean single netted three runs for the visitors. At no other time did they score.

The game was witnessed by a number of officials of the Haverhill and Lowell city governments and a large delegation of reporters for both cities. After the contest the Haverhill players were the guests of the Lowell firemen at luncheon. The score:

MEANING FIREMAN MULLEN

Who says that fate
Plays not a hand
In giving stars
A place to stand?

Glance at the case
Of that man Bart.
Who gave his cronies
Such a start.

He pitched the ball
With brain and skill;
And, with man-power,
Enough to kill.

He stole four bases,
And, just for fun,
Every now and then
He'd make a run.

A two-base hit
Was what ainsie;
And for a chaser,
Bart picked a single.

So fate once more
Has played its hand;
For stars must shine;
They can't be weaned.

TWILIGHT GAMES ON SO. COMMON

This evening's attraction on the South common will be a ball game between the Lowell and Lawrence councils of the Knights of Columbus who will line up at 6.15 for a twilight game. The Lowell team is a number of defeats in Lawrence and will endeavor to recover its prestige this evening by sending across a victory.

FRIDAY EVENING'S GAME

St. Peter's A. A. will meet the United States Worsted company team of Lawrence in a twilight game on the South common, Friday evening at 6.15. On the mound for the visitors will be Don, a choice or arm and twirler, who has pitched wonderful ball this season. Plans are under way to have Mayor Thompson and Mayor White act as umpires.

Representing the Lawrence team, Rep. Thomas Corbett would pitch the first ball. The St. Peter's team is composed of youths, some not more than 18, and to date they have set up a 10-0 record, having won 22 games out of 25. Last year the team won 23 out of 25, and the year before, playing under the name of the Iron Blues, the club won 21 out of 25 games.

In the twilight game, the Lawrence team tomorrow night, the local boys will line up against an older and more experienced organization, but they feel confident of winning.

HAVERHILL NINE "GASSED"

The Lowell Gas Light West Ends defeated the Nationals of Haverhill last evening in the down river city, 6 to 2. The Nationals' batters did the battery work for the local team and kept their opponents well in hand.

ST. LOUIS FOOTBALL PLAYERS WON STOCKHOLDERS. Aug. 4.—The St. Louis Association football team tonight won its second victory here by defeating the Dickardens team, three goals to one.

"TENDERFOOT" WACHMAN STRIKES IT RICH

VACATION LEADS TO FORTUNE

(By W. N. BURKHARDT)
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent
DRYDEN, Ontario, Aug. 5.—"Sourdoughs," veteran gold miners and prospectors who have been pursuing Lady Luck for ages, take off their hats to Robert Wachman, tenderfoot.

Wachman, an overalls salesman from Chicago, stumbled onto gold and has transformed an unprospected wilderness into a producing gold mine. Tankee energy and resourcefulness did it, oldtimers say.

Runs Onto Gold
Wachman came into this country last summer, on a fishing trip. Gust Larsson, a trapper, was his guide. In the backwoods they happened upon a ledge of gold-seamed rock. Two bags full were chipped off and taken to an assay office in Winnipeg. Sure, it was gold! So Wachman and Larsson rushed back and staked out 11 claims, which the Ontario law allowed them.

Then Wachman got busy, and in eight months, had boilers, compressors, drills and milling machinery at work. He has already taken many thousands of dollars' worth of ore out of his mine. Some speed, say admiring veterans.

The tenderfoot has avoided publicity. Said he wanted to keep out mine promoters who do no development work. "This mine carries my name," says

Wachman, "and I don't want it to get a black eye from fakery."

Has Worked Wonders

As a result of the all winter grind, these tasks have been accomplished: 700 tons of ore removed. 30 acres of land cleared.

5 buildings constructed. 25 carloads of machinery unloaded. Large dock erected. Preliminary compression plant installed. Wachman has been away from his claim only long enough to sell out his

Your children's play-soiled clothes

No longer any trouble to get them clean

Small Julie's grubby play frocks—Jimmie's smudgy little trousers!

Without rubbing all their color out—without spending hours over them, you can now get every speck out of them in no time!

You loosen the dirt by soaking the clothes for a few hours in pure Rinso suds. You rinse them and every bit of the loosened dirt is rinsed right out. The wee clothes are fresh, spotless. You don't even need the washboard. The little collars, cuffs and hems only need a light rubbing between your hands.

This easy way of washing is not only for the children's clothes, but for sheets, too; and pillow-slips, towels and aprons—your whole weekly washing! You just soak the clothes overnight or for three hours in the morning with Rinso. Then rinse. You don't have to rub them over the washboard. You need never boil the clothes—unless you care to occasionally just to sterilize.

Rinso comes in fine granules—a new form of soap for the laundry. These pure granules are made of finer quality ingredients than were ever used before for the family washing.

There is nothing whatever in Rinso to injure the materials, or to take the color out. It is so rich in cleansing value it loosens all the dirt as the clothes soak.

Get Rinso from your grocer today. To appreciate how wonderful Rinso really is you must try it yourself. Follow the easy directions on the package and you will laugh at the worst play-soiled little garments. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux).

overall business and move his family into the wilderness. When asked how he accomplished what veterans thought impossible Wachman said:

"Simply by applying the experience I gained in the overall business. When I bumped into a tough customer, I stuck with him until he was sold. When I needed machinery at my mine, I stuck to the task of getting it until I got it. I set a good example for the men working for me. I worked long and hard—so did they."

And Lady Luck keeps playing into Wachman's hand. After smaller finds, he struck a real "mountain of ore," known as a dyke. Engineers estimated it would yield between 40,000,000 and 100,000,000 tons of ore. Samples from this body will average $10.35 a ton.

EXECUTES MAYOR'S MENTAL ORDER

N.E.A. Staff Special
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Latent and unsuspected human powers—by whatever name designated or however explained—are being given an amazing demonstration here by Eugene de Rubini, a Czech-Slav who carries out another's unspoken command.

Whether it be telepathy, some occult process, or merely unconscious muscular guidance, he has demonstrated to scientists and prominent laymen that words are not needed to convey thought.

You give Rubini a mental order; he executes it with remarkable accuracy. Sometimes he holds your hand to secure "rapport," sometimes not. He moves about as directed. Like a sleep walker.

And, while he says he can't satisfactorily explain the "something" he has cultivated, he believes it will gradually be developed by many people and that in future much of social and business relations will be determined through mental or psychic channels.

In 1911, in Vienna, Rubini, then a pharmacy student, was in a cafe where the talk turned to telepathy, which he regarded as bunk. In a joking way he said to a companion, "I'm a telepathist myself; command me mentally." With mock mannerisms he executed some movements. "Remarkable—that's right," said his friend. And Rubini was the most surprised man in the cafe.

He had blundered against the "something" he has since cultivated to high degree.

The other day, "mentally guided" by Mayor James Rolph and a body of distinguished San Francisco citizens, Rubini directed an auto cavalcade through crowded streets, picked a bouquet of flowers from a public stand and laid it on the bier of a soldier dead in the city hall rotunda. He had followed orders exactly, over a period of an hour, without a word being spoken.

EVERY FLOWER HAS A STORY OF ITS OWN

The rose is the queen of love and beauty. It is the most eloquent of all in the language of flowers. The red rose is a token of love and the white of purity. A moss rosebud is a confession of love, while a roseleaf says "I am worthy of you," and the yellow rose asks "Are you jealous?"

A Roman custom was to paint a rose on the ceiling of the banquet hall, signifying that what was told at the feast was not to be repeated. The expression, sub rosa, originated from this custom.

Rose and Nightingale
The Persians tell a story about the rose and the nightingale. One day all the birds appeared before King Solomon, who understood their language, to accuse the nightingales of disturbing their slumber. The nightingale explained that the rose waited for his song to come forth from the bud and that he loved the rose so much that he could not wait to see the beautiful flower unfold. It was acquitted and ever since then, the song of the nightingale is heard in the summer night.

TAKEN TO AMESBURY
John Wegel and Antonio Czekanski, who were before the local court yesterday, on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny of silver leaf, and whose case was continued for a week for further investigation, were taken to Amesbury by the chief of police of that city last night, as it was learned that the break was committed there.

FIRE ALARMS

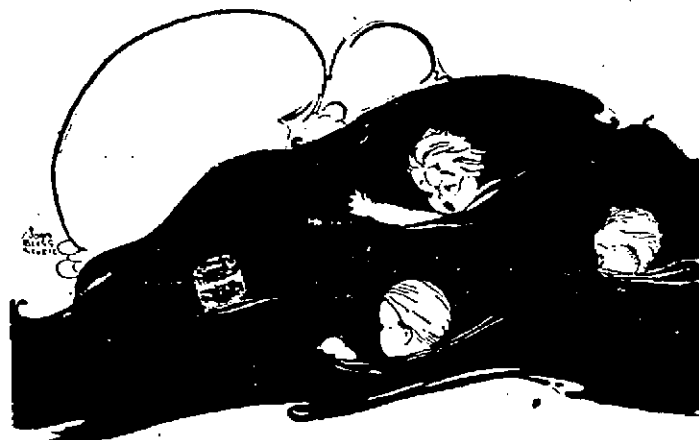

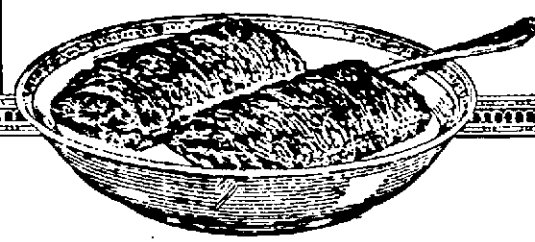

There were two alarms last evening, one from box 125 for a fire under the stairs at 7 Hennessey's court, and the other by telephone for a blaze in a pile of waste in the barber shop numbered 556 Merrimack street. No damage. At midnight, an alarm was sent in from box 47, for a fire in old lumber and bags at Lajoie's coal yard in Gorham street. Late yesterday afternoon, there was a telephone alarm for a slight blaze on the Aiken street bridge.

GETTING RICH QUICK

Ever since the primal curse, "in the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat bread," was pronounced, men have been trying to side-step it. That is one of the reasons why men try to get rich quick.

The old alchemists thought that they had a pretty good scheme for solving the problem if they could only make it work. They spent their days and nights, locked up with crucibles and test tubes in smelly places, trying to find a way of transmuting the baser metals into gold. They didn't succeed, and perhaps it is just as well they didn't, as about the only appreciable result would have been to make gold as cheap and plentiful as lead.

John Law, with his "Mississippi bubble," tried on his get rich quick scheme in France. It was an amazingly attractive proposition and the government and most of the people fell for it. Ruination for thousands was the end.

The "tulip craze" originating in Holland, drew a good part of Europe into a wild vortex of get-rich-quick speculation, with the inevitable collapse and dire disappointment and suffering.

In our own country, we have had Keely with his motor that has not yet "moted," and Miller, of the Franklin Syndicate, with his $20 per cent return on money turned over to him for supposed investment in the stock market. And now comes Ponzi, who, some people seem to think, may have discovered the long-elusive philosophers' stone that is enabling him to gather in unlimited sums in cold cash from sources that he hasn't shown much disposition to talk about.

Greed, of course, is the thing that makes all get-rich-quick schemes possible, and to some profitable, and this is aided and abetted by the fact that winners, where there are any, make a lot of noise in the world, while losers, of whom there are always many, sink off to hide their losses and the evidences of their foolishness, if they can.

HAVING A GOOD TIME

There was a very estimable, hard-working woman in a Massachusetts city who, shortly before Christmas a few years ago, received an unexpected gift of $20. It came about in this way: The woman had been left a widow with a numerous brood of children and only her own labor to depend upon to furnish them with the means of support. She found it difficult at all times to keep them properly supplied with food, clothing and shoes. Imbued with the spirit of Christmastime, a few charitably disposed people had quietly conveyed to her the $20 aforementioned with the hope and expectation that it would help to lighten a little the burden of providing necessities for herself and her children.

The next day the estimable recipient of the gift was seen riding down the main street of the city, leaning back luxuriously upon the leather cushions of one of the most expensive touring cars that could be hired in town.

People who knew the lady, who was riding in state, gaped after her as though a queen were passing by. Among those who looked and wondered were some of those who had made contributions to the $20 fund. Later, when it appeared as though the children were a little more in need of shoes than usual, someone asked her what had become of the gift. With an air of the deepest satisfaction, she replied that she had wanted to have a ride in a hack or automobile all her life, but had never been able to afford it before.

Of course some people called her "foolish" and "extravagant." Other commented, "Bully, she's a good sport."

Perhaps the latter were right. Who knows? Perhaps every one of us has the right to chuck duty, hard work and responsibility occasionally and realize, if the opportunity offers, the dreams of a lifetime, even if they are silly ones.

BETTER DAYS FOR RAILROADS

The recent jump upward in the price of railroad shares shows a portion of the silver lining to the cloud of increased transportation rates. A rise in one day in the quotations for Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad shares of nearly five points shows that a return of confidence in railroad securities has begun.

The poor opinion that has been held of railroad stocks lately has been reflected in constantly falling prices that have affected even such supposedly sterling investments as the shares of the old Boston & Providence railroad, with its 10 per cent dividends guaranteed under a 99-year lease.

Now, it may be hoped, the tide of public confidence has turned. Railroads, neglected because their future looked insecure and dark, may again come to be looked upon as profitable properties to invest in.

There is need enough for money for the transportation lines, that are not today equipped to carry more than 80 per cent of what ought to be their normal traffic. They need money to be obtained from new issues of stock and long term bond issues. With returning confidence in their ability to earn charges it ought to be possible to obtain necessary funds at reasonable rates.

Much must depend, as regards the future of the railroads, upon the action of the employees' brotherhoods. If their members are satisfied to remain content for awhile with the 21 per cent wage raise that has recently been granted them, the railroads ought to show signs of getting on their feet again.

A LABOR NEWSPAPER

Delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention in Lynn have been discussing the advisability of establishing a daily newspaper for the purpose, to quote the words of one of the delegates, of "getting the side of labor before the public in any controversy that may arise between capital and the wage earners."

If the opponents of organized labor were disposed to "wish something" on the workers that would be a burden of expense to them, and in the end of no appreciable benefit to their cause, it would doubtless be a daily labor newspaper. Such a publication would not give its publishers access to the public ear, beyond what they now have, for the very excellent reason that it would be read by but very few persons outside of union ranks.

Those who are behind the movement for starting the new publication claim that the present newspapers are not fair to labor. It is doubtful if the majority of working people believe this charge to be true. As a matter of fact, newspaper editors and publishers are often faced with the accusation that they show too strong a tendency to favor the cause of the toilers at the expense of the employers. Between the two charges the truth probably exists, and that is that the newspapers have tried, with a reasonable degree of success, to be fair and just to both parties, with the result that they have pleased the extremists on neither side.

The labor leaders have a right to publish a daily newspaper for sport, pastime, or propaganda. It is quite certain, though, that, as a means of influencing public opinion, its value would be very nearly negligible. As a "news" paper, it would be predestined to failure.

CRIME WAVES

There were 52 murders committed in New York during the seven months ending with July 31. This states the district attorney, is a record that has not been equalled in many years. It would not be surprising if an investigation should show similar conditions in eastern Massachusetts. Judging casually from newspaper reports there have been an unusual number of crimes of violence, involving the taking of human life, committed in this section of the country recently.

Experienced observers are not likely to find anything so very remarkable in this condition of affairs. Crimes, particularly homicidal crimes, seem to travel in waves, never ceasing to move, but now and then reaching a peak and then breaking over into a trough of depression. Some of this is doubtless due to the workings of the laws of suggestion operating upon unstable minds.

Just now conditions are peculiarly favorable to crimes of violence. The war shook the world out of all of its old grooves, and it has not yet got adjusted into new ones. During the time of readjustment there is a subtle air of nervous tension and excitement everywhere. The old anchors that held men and women of abnormal tendencies somewhere within normal, conventional bounds have dragged from their moorings.

It is probable as a consequence of this that we have lately had an unusual number of murders and other serious crimes. But these, too, in time shall pass as similar outbreaks have passed before.

Hon. Alvan T. Fuller, candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant governor, says, "I pledge myself to stand for not one single needless governmental expenditure." Do we understand then, Mr. Candidate, that you are ready to stand for a good many of them, or is your press agent's rhetoric slightly at fault?

We should have had considerable admiration for him, if one of the numerous candidates for the republican nomination for the lieutenant governorship had had the courage to step boldly out and make a run for the governorship direct and, incidentally, had attempted to knock the stuffing out of the crown-crown tradition.

It is recorded of a group making food experiments that "they have a thermometer which, having been swallowed, records what happens when a person eats ice cream or hot oatmeal." We should think it would be more interesting if a record were kept of what happens when the thermometer is swallowed.

If the governments of the allies persist in their attitude of letting the soviet bear go ahead and gobble up a good part of Poland, they will have no one but themselves to blame if the animal, having comfortably digested his meal, turns on them for further nourishment with Germany helping him to get it.

It may be true that members of the feminine sex have no sense of humor, but it isn't any evidence of it that a Tyngsboro woman, whose husband produced a gun, threatened to kill her and set the house on fire, failed to accept it as a joke even when he said it was.

With Governor Alfred E. Smith selected by democratic leaders in New York to head their ticket, and two newspapermen running for president, the republicans of Massachusetts might as well join the procession and nominate Hon. A. P. Langtry for lieutenant governor.

The naval governor of Guam, who objects so strenuously to whistling that he made it an offense on his island punishable with a $5 fine, would doubtless agree with the correctness of the old saying about what happens to "whistling girls and crowing hens."

The I Won't Works are said to be in control of the farmer-labor party. If they should ever gain control of any of the farms, though, they would have to change their name quick and adopt as a motto, "I Will Work Like Sam Hill," or their stay in control would be short.

It ought not to be necessary for the licensing board to use up a very large quantity of gray matter in reaching a decision that a dance hall is not a suitable neighbor for the Lowell General hospital.

We might paraphrase a recent remark of Governor Cox, asserting his confidence that he is to be elected, by saying that he evidently believes that, while all democrats are not good people, all good people this year will be democrats.

"Let Go Sarah"

Reasons of His Own

Farmer Biggs called one of his oldest farmhands to him the other day. "Well, Tompkins," said he, "after this week, I have decided to pay you your full wages in money instead of part of it being cider."

"Thanky," replied Tompkins promptly. "That won't do for me."

"Why not, man? Don't you see you'll be the gainer? I reckon 50 cents off your wages every week and the cider isn't worth as much as that."

But Tompkins shook his head decidedly.

"Lookes 'ere," he explained. "The cider I gits I drink myself, but the owd woman'll 'ave the 50 cents."

One Head Enough

The street corner orator evidently didn't believe that women should have any further liberty.

"We've given 'em the vote!" he screamed. "They're competing with us in every labor market! They are trespassing on our rights in every direction! Fellow-men, I warn you to look to yourselves! Soon they will want to usurp our authority in the home!"

Groans from the crowd—most of them decisive.

"Ah, you may sneer!" warned the speaker. "But you mark my words, the time is coming! And I hold that there should only be one head in the house!"

"Tight! Go on!" squeaked a meek-looking man in the front of the crowd.

"You agree with me, sir?" declaimed the orator. "That shows you to be a man of sense. You uphold my views?"

"I do," replied the meek-looking man, sadly. "I've just bought new summer hats for my wife and five daughters."

The Villagers

I can not hope that Sorrow's feet ever and a day

Will pass my little House of Love where lilted sunbeams stray.

But when the lark's hand at last upon the swinging latch

And stops where happy years have smiled beneath our spring-sweet thatch,

Grant me, ah, God, this heartfelt prayer, that somewhere it may be

The little, small-town sympathy that runs across the fields the

In blue-checked gingham aprons, and with flour upon its hands,

That bakes and brews and sweeps and dusts, that wakenful serves and shields,

The little, small-town sympathy that knows and understands.

Thy cities, God, are builded high with But hearts may ache, and lives may droop unheeded and alone,

And souls may dwell unknown, unloved, a single wall between— Not so the quiet, home-sweet lives that fringe the village green.

Let others reap the splendors, Lord, but give instead to me The homely round of living blend with small-town sympathy.

The little, small-town sympathy that steals on neighbor feet

From tiny lamp-lit houses down a temple-shaded street,

That lends its strength on tear-dimmed ways its own bruised feet have trod.

The little, small-town sympathy—the very soul of God.

"TY" COBB MAY GO ON STUMP FOR COX

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—"Ty" Cobb, star outfielder of the Detroit baseball club, will appear as a "free rider" in the coming presidential campaign, if plans of Senator Harrison, chairman of the democratic national speakers' bureau, materialize. Senator Harrison announced yesterday that he proposed to take Cobb with him on a proposed "swing around the circle" in the interests of Cox and Roosevelt.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The Lowell Rotary club is one of the very few organizations in the city making a successful attempt at keeping up interest in club affairs during the summer months. As a rule July and August are pretty free of organization meetings of any sort and while the Rotarians felt that regular gatherings would be out of order during vacation time, the entertainment committee decided that there was a loophole, through which the solidity of the organization might be maintained in hot weather. This committee hit on golf as the medium, with the result that three club tournaments were arranged—the first coming today over the Nashua Country club links. In a week or two the Merrimack valley course at Methuen will be played and a little later the Vesper. Prizes will be competed for and aside from the fun of playing and the rivalry engendered, automatically the club benefits through a continuance of interest in organization affairs.

Lowell people who habitually "summer" at beaches along the North Shore tell me that bathing on that coast this year is a heroic pastime and a thing left to men and women of the sturdiest physique. Not for years has the Atlantic rolled such stinging breakers onto the sands and from early in June the temperature has elung persistently low levels. Cottage and hotel owners are complaining in a number of places and actually say that August's business will be considerably below the amount expected. About the only solution would be extensive dredging somewhere in an attempt to change the course of the Gulf Stream enough to make its warming presence felt in the now icy waters that surge into the Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine coast north of Cape Cod.

A great deal has been said and written about the perversity of things inanimate and just now as we throw back the desk and opened up the old mill to grind out something for this column the almost invisible but none the less officious little chain whose duty it is to save our glasses from destruction got caught on one of our suspender buckles and put our glasses askew. Being of a patient nature and feeling that perhaps the little chain had tired of the company of the antedated contrivance that has supported for years, without a murmur, our pantaloons, we dispensed with them for the time being. Then we readjusted the glasses and the next point of the little chain's attack was our eyeglass bow tie. After breaking his too-hold bow tie, after breaking all about it, we there and forgetting all about it, we filled the pipe and proceeded to grind out a paragraph that would set the world a-thinking. Pipe filled, hands rubbed, we proceed to light it when up pops little chain again. In inserting the pipe between our caveman teeth we got on the wrong side of that pernickles little eyeglass preserver and just for that we are nursing a sore nose. Got dern that chain!

A small boy residing in the vicinity of School street was seen going down the embankment on the Pawtucketville side of the Pawtucket bridge yesterday afternoon, and those who went by wondered what the little fellow was going to do in the rocky spot below, for he carried something done up in a couple of handkerchiefs. One of the passersby watched the lad for some time and saw him go way down under the bridge again he was questioned his handkerchiefs in a small pool of water. When the boy came back to the bridge again he was questioned about his actions and this was his reply: "My father is going fishing for pickerel tomorrow afternoon and he uses shiners as bait. Knowing that he would not have time to gather in enough shiners for his afternoon's sport, I took it upon myself to get him a supply of the tiny fish and I have been very lucky. So what you saw me drop in the pool of water below were shiners. I could not take them home, for they would die, but where they are they will keep alive and tomorrow noon I will call for them and spring a surprise on daddy." Undoubtedly, this little fellow is not aware of the fact that at night when the mills are closed the water runs over the dam and by this noon his shiners will be well on their way to Lawrence.

I sat on the porch of a home in the Highlands, a few evenings ago, and talked with a man who, on the morrow, was to celebrate his golden wedding anniversary. He was about 70 years young. In a wrestle he can make things lively for a sturdy grandson who saw service overseas during the war. As I talked with the youthful old man, he pulled a tobacco pouch from his pocket and filled, as though he were enjoying the task, a much-used briar pipe. As he leisurely lighted a match and applied it to the carefully rammed-home charge I asked him how long he had used tobacco. He wrinkled his brows in thought for a moment before replying, "About 52 or 53 years. I should judge. I began by chewing the weed. Those were the days when you could get a piece of tobacco worth chewing. It used to come in twisted rolls. You just took your jack-knife and chopped off a chunk and chewed it, and you were chewing pure tobacco, not ground up hoot heels, molasses and glycerine. I chewed until about eight or ten years ago, when I gave it up because there was no more decent chewing tobacco to be had. I began to smoke about the same time that I began to chew. I enjoyed both for a good many years. Did it ever hurt me? Not a mite. Shortly after I was married, nearly fifty years ago, I made application for a life insurance policy. I was turned over to a doctor for examination. He was supposed to be a pretty good doctor. He had given me a thorough examination. After it was over, he said to me, 'Young man, we can't insure you, you've got a bad case of tobacco heart. If you don't stop smoking and chewing you're doomed. I wouldn't give you a year longer to live.' But here I am alive today and I have been using tobacco ever since."

GOV. COX PROMISES TO KEEP ON OFFENSIVE

DAYTON, O., Aug. 5.—A lightning message to democrats and republicans was given by Gov. Cox, in an address yesterday at a local democratic picnic.

Speaking from a roped arena for boxing events, Gov. Cox, avoiding finite issues, declared he would carry the offensive in "a considerable fight" for which he predicted success. Incidentally he promised that his address next Saturday accepting the presidential standard could be understood, "even by schoolchildren."

"Boys, I'm ready for the fight," he declared to the cheering plaudits of several hundred members of the Gen. City Democratic club of this city. "We need make no defense. Ours will be the offensive fight from the beginning to the end and it will be a considerable fight. Make no mistake about that."

"I have the faith in me that there will be triumph of right principles this fall, which will serve notice to republican leaders for years to come. I was about to say that it would not be a democratic triumph. It will not be that. It will not be a victory in the partisan sense. It will be a triumph of the right."

"We've won before in the same kind of a fight. We'll win again because we're right."

"The opposition has been good to us and the advantages that it has given will be recounted in the stirring days ahead of us. The opposition apparently has adopted the course of doing what we farmers used to do—of ploughing around the stump, of seeking to avoid the things that perplex."

"It is with the opposition expediency pure and simple. They attempt to appeal to this group, that group and

TUMULTY TO REPRESENT WILSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, will leave Washington today for Dayton to represent President Wilson at the formal notification of Governor Cox as the democratic presidential nominee. Mr. Tumulty will travel by automobile in company with John Barnett, former democratic national committeeman of Colorado and Dr. J. W. Coughlin, former national committeeman from Massachusetts. The president, it is said, expresses the desire that Mr. Tumulty attend the ceremony.

In prefacing his address, the governor said he was in "sort of a straight jacket mentally," because propriety and precedent barred him from discussing national issues. "I must hold my peace until next Saturday," he said.

As he climbed into the boxing arena used for the speakers at the picnic, he held a few miles north of Dayton, the candidate asked "Which is my corner?"

The governor's address followed another day of hard work on his correspondence. At dinner last night he discussed the woman suffrage fight in Tennessee with Mrs. Abbie Scott Barker of the National Woman's party, who arrived from a similar conference with Senator Harding, the republican candidate.

Guns Don't Scare Colorado Senatorial Candidate

BY MABEL ABBOTT
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent
DENVER, Aug. 5.—Justice Tully, head of the supreme court of Colorado, is running for the United States senate.

Justice Scott is a democrat.

And if he is elected, there is going to be an interesting session in the senate cloakroom some day, when somebody happens to say something that reminds the small, quiet new senator with the gray hair and the tired-looking eyes of politics as it used to be played in Cripple Creek, Colorado, in the days when Cripple Creek was young.

"I came to Colorado in 1901, to get out of politics," he will explain, mildly.

"I'd been trying to run our farm in Kansas, and teaching school and studying law and so on, and I got into politics a little, helped nominate Cleveland, and finally found myself receiver of the land office at Oberlin, Kan. But I wanted to quit politics, so I left, and came to Cripple Creek.

"I hadn't been there very long when the miners struck, and a reign of terror followed. There were wholesale deportations by the mine owners and their agents, destruction of property, and all sorts of injustices. Naturally, I objected to these things.

"Then came the election, and as a good citizen, I tried to help select a democratic ticket made up entirely of people who had had no part in the troubles. And one night the whole ticket marched into my office and said they would not go on unless I would act as chairman of the campaign.

"I agreed that they might call me chairman, though I didn't intend to do any of the work. Just as soon as my name was published as chairman, I was served with notice by the mine owners' crowd that I couldn't hold any political meetings in that county."

(At this point, if Justice Scott has become well absorbed in his recollections, he will suddenly bounce in his chair.)

"Well," he will continue, controlling himself, "the first meeting went off all right. I got Senator Hughes, a mine owner himself, but a good democrat, to make the first speech.

"But we heard that some ten or 12 noted outlaws were going to be on hand to break up the next meeting.

"It was to be held at Victor. Some of my friends organized a club of 300 men, all well armed and good shots. Two men were detailed to follow each of the outlaws to shoot to kill if any one of them began any mischief.

"We hired trails and brought 800 people over from Cripple Creek. I took the candidate for governor and the candidate for congress into the meeting between two rows of guns.

"And, do you know," Justice Scott will assure the cloakroom with great earnestness, "we didn't have one single bit of trouble at that meeting!"

The justice must have given up trying to keep out of politics after that, as he was elected to the state senate in 1905. He has been identified with reform measures of many kinds, and his work in the senate had much to do with the passage of the primary election, initiative and referendum laws. In 1911 he was appointed presiding judge of the court of appeals and in 1912 was elected to the state supreme court.

He is strongly in favor of Government ownership and operation of railroads. He also believes that each state should own one typical unit of its most important industries, such as a coal mine or a factory, and operate it, and use the information as to conditions and costs gained as the basis for decisions as to prices, labor disputes and other questions.

He will stand on the democratic platform as to the treaty and League of Nations, he says.

GOMPERS MAKES DENIAL

Replies to O'Connor's Statement That Labor is Back of G. O. P.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., August 5.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, declared yesterday that the report coming from Marion alleging that T. V. O'Connor, chief of the international longshoremen's union, had promised aid to Senator Harding evidently was an inaccuracy, unless he was speaking personally.

"O'Connor is well versed in the sentiments of the federation regarding pledges of political support," he remarked, "and he is not clothed with any official authority to promise assistance in a political sense from the federation."

Secretary Morrison was disinclined to admit there was any prospect under present plans of a strike among the steel workers in the spring. But he was aware that there was a movement to extend the unionizing of the employees in this industrial field.

U. S. WARSHIPS ON GUARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Five destroyers are patrolling the entrance to the Miami, Fla., harbor, under orders from President Wilson to prevent, by force, if necessary, the landing of a cable that the Western Union Telegraph Co. is having laid from Barbados, a British possession in the West Indies.

A British cable ship, the Colombia, has been chartered by the Western company to land the American end of the cable, which would connect with a British cable line from the Barbados to South America. At the state department it was stated yesterday that the British embassy had been asked to inform the master of the ship that such a landing would be in violation of the American law. Officials explained that there was no significance in the fact that the vessel was British; that she probably was the only cable craft available to the American company, when she was chartered.

Work on the cable line from Barbados was begun last summer. Some time ago the Western Union company applied to the state department for an executive permit to land the wire at Miami, but officials said action on it had been delayed pending the holding of the international communication congress called to meet in Washington, Sept. 15.

A British cable company, it was explained, now has a monopoly of cable rights in Brazilian waters. An American concern desires to construct a direct cable line from the United States to Brazil and it was stated that the American government desired to know before issuing the permit to the Western Union Telegraph Co., whether the arrangement entered into by the company with the British concern, the Western Cable Co., controlling the line from Barbados to Brazil, would aid in this monopoly.

Some officials expressed doubt yesterday whether there was a law requiring permits for the landing of cables in the United States, but when questioned as to this, state department officials declared emphatically that there was such a law.

The orders from the president which resulted in the destroyers being assigned to patrol the three-mile limit off Miami were issued, it was said, after reports had reached the government that the company planned to complete connection of the line. Secretary Daniels was advised of the orders upon his return from Alaska. In announcing that the five destroyers had been assigned to the patrol duty, he said that the instructions from the president were to use means necessary to prevent the landing of the cable.

An onion crop of 45,000,000 pounds is expected this year.

K. OF C. IN FAVOR OF BRONNER SAYS BELFAST IS CITY OF FEAR

BY MILTON BRONNER
European Manager N.E.A.
(Special Cable)

BELFAST, Ireland, Aug. 5.—Belfast today is a city of fear.

You don't find it if you wander in busy retail shopping avenues or out in pleasant suburbs where dwell the rich mill owners.

But go, as I have gone, into social streets where the workers live and you find fear tenant in the heart of every woman, whether Ulster unionist or Irish nationalist.

The women never know, when their men leave, whether they will return home safe, be helped in wounded, or carried in dead.

Fear More Rioting

The recent riots cost a toll of 15 lives and more than 250 wounded. Whole streets of homes are damaged. Hundreds of windows were smashed. Many places were looted.

At the moment of writing there is a bill in the open warfare, but it may break out again any time.

Meanwhile more than 4000 British troops are quartered in mills, schools, barracks and ships lying in the harbor.

In the streets are sandbag fortifications with gun holes through which the military can fire machine guns.

These sand bags are protected by barbed wire entanglements. Armored cars with rifles protruding parade the streets.

Both Sides Suffer

Suspiciously eyed by troops, I wandered out into Bombay street and other scenes of battle while the fighting was still on.

Not a whole window is left in the place. Many Catholic families have moved out. One young woman showed me a whole pocketful of lead bullets she picked up in her front room.

In Ulster Protestant section I found houses likewise damaged by bricks and other missiles.

The streets of both sections were littered with smashed glass, bricks, boulders and clubs. In mouths of alleys in both sections I saw mounds of boulders dug from the streets and piled up ready for use.

Economic at Bottom

"The trouble was set off when Protestant workmen in the shipyards drove out Catholic workmen. Fighting between Orangemen and Catholics is an old story here, but my investigations have led me to believe that the present outbreak is something more than political-religious.

At the bottom it is economic, I am convinced.

The Ulster workers claim they drove out the nationalists to make room for jobs for Ulstermen who came back from war to find their places filled by Scotch Irishmen.

I believe that the employing class, however, is largely responsible—that it worked on the religious feelings of both sides with a view to making it impossible for labor to present a solid front.

Ulster shipyards pay good wages but the greatest industry is the linen and here many workers are evicted. Thousands are out of work as the result of the trouble.

Canada's fisheries last year yielded a commercial revenue of more than $60,000,000.

LOWELL MEN HELD UP

Motorcycle Patrolman Holds up Automobiles on Way to Bass Point

NABANT, Aug. 5.—The Hudson board of trade's annual outing was interrupted yesterday by a motorcycle patrolman of the Metropolitan park department, who held up the 25 automobiles as they were en route over the Revere beach boulevard because the machines were displaying the signs of the board of trade. The machine that was held up by the patrolman contained Congressman John J. Rogers of Lowell and P. E. Dunbar. Mr. Dunbar tried to explain to the patrolman that he had a permit from Capt. Hawkins, but this did not satisfy the patrolman till Capt. Hawkins was reached by telephone.

The patrolman then allowed the visitors to proceed to Bass Point, where dinner was enjoyed. Congressman Rogers was the chief speaker. The outing was attended by more than 175 members.

JOHN D. GIVES AWAY 15 CENTS AND ADVICE

LENON, Aug. 5.—John D. Rockefeller gave away 15 cents, a pet talisman which he carries for luck and considerable advice at the Aspinwall hotel here yesterday when he stopped for a few hours on a Berkshire motor trip. The talisman, a horse chestnut which he took from his trousers pocket, most of the advice and two-thirds of the money he gave to Chauncey M. Depew.

The two aged celebrities had a half hour's chat together in the lobby of the hotel, and the conference ended when Mr. Rockefeller bestowed his good luck charm upon Mr. Depew, and added to it the gift of two bright, new nickels, which had never been spent, one of them, he said, for Mrs. Depew. Then he turned around and, in another burst of generosity, bestowed a third new nickel upon the rosy palm of Miss Edna Reisinger, daughter of Mrs. Curt Reisinger, prominent New York society woman, who is spending the season here.

"The nickel is for being a good girl," said the old king, after he had shaken Miss Edna's hand, "and I'll advise you to put it right in a savings bank."

The performance was witnessed by a crowd in the lobby, including newspapermen, some of whom, afterwards, interviewed Mr. Depew in the hope of being told some of the other secrets of financial wizardry which Mr. Rockefeller might have bestowed upon the New York Central magnate. But Mr. Depew said that, as far as he knew, horse chestnuts and nickels were the best harbingers of great wealth.

FINED FOR LARCENY OF FURNITURE

Larceny of furniture valued at $11 from Hagop Vartanian was the charge brought against Honham Vartanian at this morning's session of the police court. Judge Enright presiding. Through his counsel the defendant denied his guilt and a lengthy trial followed. In the course of the trial it was brought out that the two men at one time occupied the same apartment, but had not lived together for some time. A short time ago, so it was claimed, Vartanian called at the room of his former friend and took away pieces of furniture, which he claimed was his property. At the conclusion of the case the court found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $70.

William J. Ryan was charged with drunkenness and also of throwing a stone through a window, but after the evidence was presented, His Honor found him not guilty and ordered him discharged.

HELD CLAM BAKE

Mr. Studley Entertains Buyers and Department Heads

The buyers and heads of departments of the Chaffoux company were guests today of their manager, Mr. Louis E. Studley, at a delightful clam bake held at his summer home at Little Neck, Ipswich. The trip to Little Neck was made by automobiles immediately after the close of the store this noon. Everyone had received orders beforehand to bring their bathing suits and upon arriving at the beach bathing was enjoyed. Motor boat riding, races and the clam bake were the chief events of the very enjoyable outing. Mr. and Mrs. Studley were presented a triple fireless cooker as a slight token of appreciation. The committee on arrangements were Mr. Leon D. Towns, Mrs. Elsie Stack, Mrs. Mildred Morrison and Miss Grace W. Burns.

OUTING AT LAKEVIEW

The annual outing of the colored people of Malden and vicinity is being held at Lakeview park today. Three special electric cars conveying about 300 people, men and women, left Malden at 10 o'clock this forenoon and came through Lowell at about 11:15 o'clock. Upon reaching the grounds the picnicers dispersed, some going to Willow Dale and others remaining at Lakeview and sports and games were carried out during the remainder of the forenoon. At noon a basket luncheon was enjoyed and later more sports, which included aquatic events were carried out. The homeward trip will be started at 5 o'clock this evening.

GOING TO REVERE

All is in readiness for the annual outing of the Holy Rosary sodality of the Sacred Heart church to Revere beach, which will be held tomorrow. It is expected that close to 300 people will attend the event for three special electric cars have been chartered. Two cars will leave the corner of Lawrence and Moore streets at 8 o'clock and at the same time the third car will leave Garham street at a point near the old Fair grounds.

NAVAL TANKER ON PULL TEST

The trial boat announced that the torpedo boat destroyer Pruitt launched at Bath, Monday, will begin official trials here on Aug. 17.

BELIEVE MURDERED MAN ONCE GUARDED CZAR

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 5.—Information which the authorities have bearing upon the murder of Frank Sokolowsky, a labor leader, by poison alleged to have been thrown in his face by his wife, Alexandria, who is under arrest in New York city, purports to identify him as one Orloff, or Orloffski, once of the private bodyguard of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, and also at one time head of the secret police of Petrograd.

It is known that Sokolowsky was a graduate of a Russian university, was fluent in eight languages besides many dialects, and a man trained in diplomacy. As an organizer for the American Federation of Labor in various centers of foreign workers he was regarded, it is said, as a man of talent and organizing ability.

It is claimed that Sokolowsky had worked under the Russian police head, Azoff, had been often sent on important missions to various European capitals, and was known to secret agents of the old Russian government all over the world. After leaving Russia, it is claimed, he was employed by the Canadian government under the name of Frank Genulis.

SOVIETS ADVANCE 6 MILES A DAY

Continue to Push on to Warsaw—Being Held in South, Says Polish Report

American Aviators in Great Battle—Report Invaders Suffer Heavy Losses

WARSAW, Aug. 5. (By Associated Press.)—Russian soviet armies driving against the Polish lines defending Warsaw, are maintaining an average progress of six miles a day in the direction of this city.

"They are being held in the south, however, and in some places are being pushed back from the districts east of Lemberg, which is one of the objectives of their present campaign. Today's official statement issued at general staff headquarters declares the Poles have retaken the town of Brody, near the Galician frontier and have forced the Bolsheviks back into Russia in the region of Radzivilow, north-east of Brody.

American aviators fighting with the Kosciuszko squadron are battling against Gen. Budenny's cavalry, and infantry along the Sereth river, where the soviet forces have not made any headway. Parts of this squadron were engaged all day yesterday, near Mikulitz, where they met Cossacks and Bolshevik infantry. The losses suffered by the enemy in this district were very heavy, today's official statement saying 1600 Bolsheviks were killed and large numbers were wounded.

Fate of Republic at Stake

Poland strained every ounce of her reserve power yesterday to checkmate the Bolsheviks in the game on the result of which depends the fate of the new republic. Men in whose hands rests the destiny of Poland assembled at various conferences throughout the day, and taking a leading role in all decisions were the British, French and Italian missions.

Munitions recently unloaded at Danzig by the British were arriving during the day, and tanks, rifles and artillery from France were rushed to the front. French officers are arriving daily to act as technical advisers at Polish general headquarters in the preparations for Warsaw's final stand against the invaders.

No Letup in Fighting

There was no letup in the fighting, particularly along the northeastern and eastern sectors, where the soviet forces were gradually moving toward Warsaw. Negotiations for an armistice seem to have stimulated the Bolsheviks, who with the exchange of notes between the Warsaw and Moscow governments began their drive with new vigor.

Newspapers of this city were still confident, and expressed great hopes in the volunteers now facing the enemy. Some wounded men from these detachments have already arrived here, many of them being boys who left school when the country called its men to arms against the soviet armies.

MALDEN BOY SCOUTS HIKE TO LOWELL

Walter Burgoyne, aged 18 years, scoutmaster of Troop 18; Wm. Mahoney, aged 15, senior patrol leader of Troop 11 and Henry Bastien, aged 15 years, assistant patrol leader of Troop 18, all connected with the Boy Scouts of the Immaculate Conception church of Malden, arrived in this city yesterday after hiking from their home town. The boys were entertained last evening at the home of Mr. Thomas Clark in Pleasant street.

The three scouts left Malden Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock and walked to Millington's grove, Wilmington, where they camped over night with the O.M.L. Cadets, the visitors being entertained by the Lowell boys in a most delightful manner. After partaking of a bountiful breakfast yesterday morning, the little fellows continued their walk and arrived in this city yesterday noon. This noon they started on their homeward trip and they expect to spend tonight at the camp of the Boy Scouts of the Immaculate Conception church of Malden at Lakefield.

BAR YOUNG MEN LEAVING IRELAND

DUBLIN, Aug. 3. (By the Associated Press.)—The decree of the Daily Eireann (Irish republican parliament) prohibiting emigration from Ireland probably will have the effect of preventing the departure of many Irish men for America and Australia, which at present are the most popular destinations for emigrants. The Irish Feinners for some time have been discouraging young men from leaving the country and this official action did not come as a surprise. Women have constituted the majority of Irish emigrants for several months.

The Sinn Fein movement is conducted almost entirely by young men, and the decree has their support, as well as that of the extreme laborites.

CITY SELLS BUILDING

The Seannell Boiler Works entered the highest bid for an old building on the upper boulevard formerly used by the water department as a pumping station and for two boilers contained in it when bids for the purchase of the property were opened by Purchasing Agent Edward H. Peys this morning. The Seannell people offer a total of $1113 for both building and equipment. Other bids were as follows: David Ziskind, $1075; George J. Breth Co., $915; Charles Williams, $860; J. A. Cloutier, $268; Thomas Larkin, $75. The last two bids were for the building only.

Poles Unable to Halt Invasion

northeast of Brest-Litovsk, have been given up by the Poles.

West of Brest-Litovsk, the Poles still hold the great forts that have made that city one of the principal fortresses of Eastern Europe, but soviet troops have been hung across the Bug river further to the north-west, and it would appear this move will compel a retirement of the Poles from their defenses. The Russians are advancing in Echelon after the tactics adapted by General Mackensen when he led the German armies in the great Dunajec campaign during the world war, and the Poles are repeatedly being outflanked and forced to leave positions they have held for days against frontal attacks.

The Polish armistice commission left Warsaw for Minsk today, to meet representatives of the Moscow government for the purpose of arranging an armistice and beginning peace negotiations.

Ready to Head Off

WARSAW, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press.) Poland's council of defense has sent a wireless despatch to Moscow informing the soviet government that Poland is ready to send a peace delegation to Minsk. Two conditions were laid down by the council. They were that Polish delegates be permitted to communicate freely with the Warsaw government, and that the soviet government agree to accept in principle the terms Poland will propose.

Cross River Bug on Wide Front

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Russian Bolshevik forces have crossed the River Bug on a wide front northwest of Brest-Litovsk, where a great battle is being fought, says a despatch from Warsaw, quoting an official statement issued at the Polish capital last night. On the northern sector of the front where the soviet armies have been plunging ahead in an effort to reach the corridor connecting Poland with the Baltic the Poles are said to have won local successes. The statement, which covered the events of yesterday, would seem to indicate that the Bolshevik advances in the region of Mlava have been checked, temporarily, at least. In the Sereth region river sector, eastern Galicia, the Poles have been successful, it is said.

Rush War Supplies to Poles

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Evening News learns that the government today considered the Polish situation and that "large quantities of war material are to be sent immediately in concert with France."

"There is no intention on the part of the allies," the newspaper adds, "to depart in the slightest degree from their position regarding Poland. The British government may have to call for volunteers within the next few days, to aid in the preservation of the Versailles treaty." It would be possible for the war office to send four divisions within the next few weeks, two divisions immediately. Steps are being taken to mobilize the navy, but the cabinet has not yet definitely decided.

Urge Russia to Accept

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(By Associated Press.) Leo Kamenoff, president of the Moscow soviet, is reported to have sent a message to his government asking that Russia accept immediately the original British proposals for an armistice with Poland.

M. Kamenoff, it is said, sent his message after he and Leonid Krassin, the Russian minister of trade and commerce, had had a very plain talk with Premier Lloyd George and Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the house of commons last night.

Up to the middle of this afternoon, no reply had been received.

M. Kamenoff and M. Krassin are members of the Russian commission which came here to conduct negotiations looking to the restoration of trade between Great Britain and Russia.

In a statement in the house of commons today, in regard to last evening's conference with the soviet delegates, Premier Lloyd George said he and Mr. Bonar Law made it clear to Krassin and Kamenoff that the immediate conclusion of an armistice on fair terms was the only course which would remove suspicion that the soviet government was insincere in its professed desire for peace and in its declaration that it intended to respect the liberty and independence of Poland.

Premier Lloyd George added that he and Mr. Bonar Law also made it clear that in view of the fact that ethnographic Poland had been invaded, "we would take effective steps to remove obstacles in the way of transmission to Poland from Danzig of military supplies which could be obtained from that quarter."

The premier concluded: "I think in view of the critical state of affairs, I would rather not make any further statement this afternoon, but should unfortunately our suspicions be confirmed, I shall make a full statement to the house Monday as to such further naval or military action which it may be necessary to take."

He said the whole object of the proposed peace conference in London had been jeopardized by the soviet army's advance.

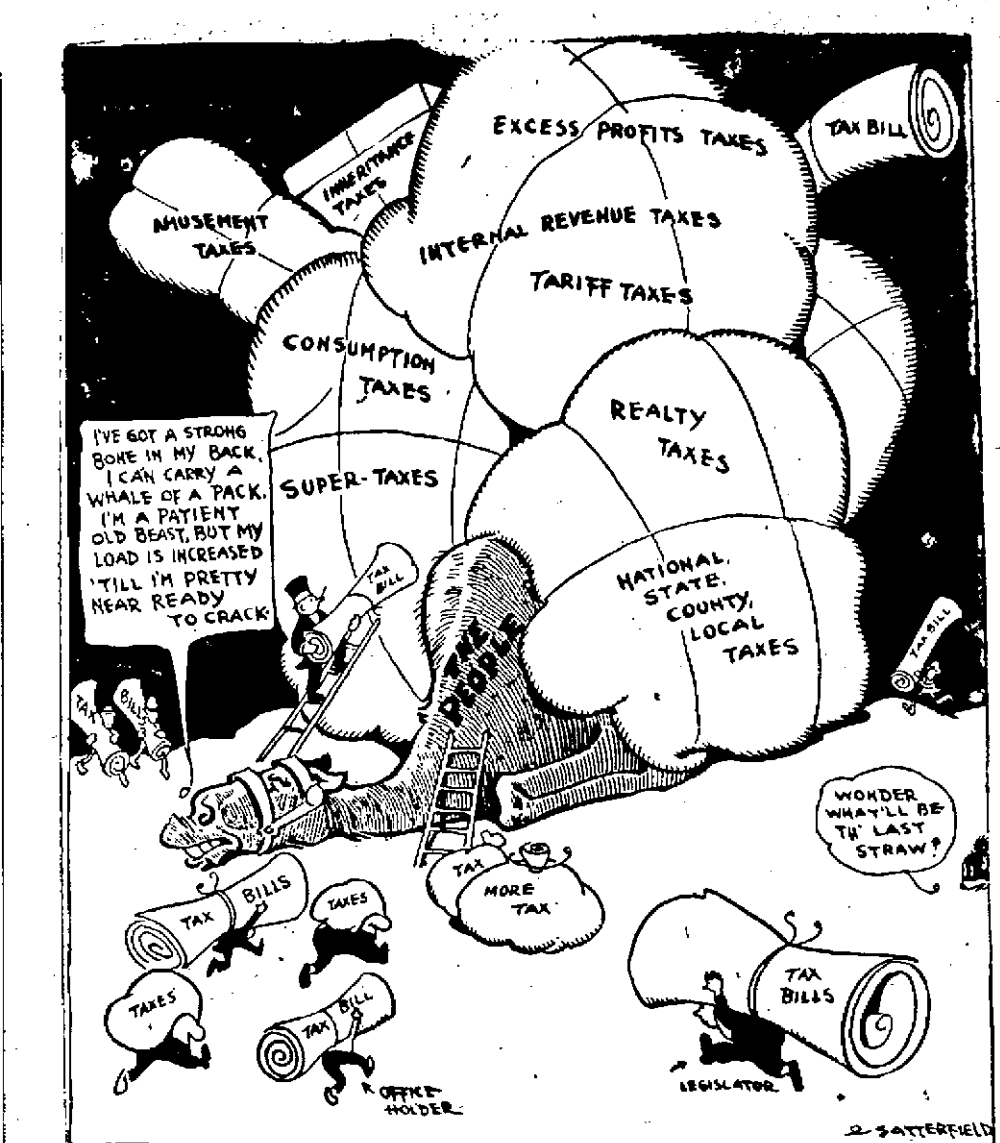

Claim Advance Slowing Up

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Polish circles in Paris claim the advance of the northern red army is becoming slower, and that the resistance of the Poles is more stubborn. They declare Polish forces still are holding Astridovka, 25 miles southwest of Lemberg, and say the Warsaw-Lemberg railroad is in no immediate danger.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The American

Legation at Warsaw reported today under date of August 2, that an intercepted wireless order from the Bolshevik command to troops at the front indicated that the Bolshevik authorities at Moscow would not consider an armistice before August 1. At Warsaw, this is interpreted, the message said, as indicating that armistice plans would be deferred as long as the Bolshevik command entertained hopes of capturing Warsaw.

GIVES WARNING TO PUBLIC

Continued

Board of Health, Lowell, Mass.

Pears from California found to possess arsenic from spraying. Advice local examination and confiscation of pears coated with arsenic. Advocate peeling of fruit and washing of vegetables before using. Federal authorities have been notified.

DR. EUGENE R. KELLEY, State Commissioner of Health.

Department Gets Busy

Immediately upon receipt of the telegram the health department began to extend a cordon about all the pears on sale in the city. The wholesale houses were first visited by Dr. Thomas F. Carroll and John E. Drury, members of the board, and Agent Francis J. O'Hare. Proprietors readily opened up their stock for inspection when the mission of the board became known and any lot that had any evidence of arsenic was immediately confiscated. The retail stores were then visited and the same process gone through. The dealers, both wholesale and retail, were notified to have all shipments of pears on which they saw a white film inspected by the health department before attempting to put them on sale, for otherwise they will endanger the health of the community. The inspection will be given freely and readily by the health authorities. All that is necessary is that the dealer get in touch with the board of health office at city hall.

Wash and Peel

Later Agent O'Hare issued an appeal to the general public, asking that no pears on which the white film denoting that they have been sprayed with arsenic, be eaten until they were thoroughly washed and peeled. The arsenic will not penetrate the skin of the fruit, health authorities say.

Only with the full co-operation of the public and dealers can the health department keep down the menace of poisoning by this shipment of fruit. How great a supply of pears has been shipped from the west with their poison coating has not been learned, but the local authorities are determined to enforce every precaution until all danger has passed.

Board Needs Auto

The emergency which the health department was called upon to meet this morning demonstrated most forcibly the need of an automobile for this department. Time was an all-important factor in preventing further consumption of the poisoned fruit and had the board relied only on its present facilities the work would have been seriously delayed. However, the city council this week voted to approve the purchase of a machine for the department and it should be available for use in a few days. Dr. Carroll, one of the members of the board, has been urging the purchase of a car for years and finally the council has seen fit to heed the appeal.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Gedeon L. D. Coulombe and Mrs. Ida May Maguire took place at 6 o'clock last evening at St. Michael's rectory, the officiating clergyman being the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Coulombe, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 23 Bunker Hill avenue, and later the couple left on a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

THESE FROCKS SHOW LATEST USE OF LACE

(By CORA MOORE)

New York's Fashion Authority.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The lure of lace grows stronger and more sure every day. Lace hats, lace sunshades, there is finally a lace hat with its wired brim turned up flat in front, and a single cluster of orange flowers pinned to the point thus made.

The second frock, worn by Mabel Scott in a Paramount picture, is a lace lingerie, lace frocks. Never was it used in such quantities or so artistically.

URGES PROMOTION FOR GEN. EDWARDS

BOSTON, August 5.—Tri-Mountain garrison, Army and Navy union, last night sent letters to all congressmen from this state, asking that they use their influence to see that Brig. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards is given a square deal and is properly honored for his long and able service. The resolution adopted by the organization states that "that peerless soldier has twice, within six months, been slighted, and men junior to him advanced to the rank of major general, and now he is threatened with removal from the command of the northeast department."

John J. Cosgrave of Charlestown, national senior give commander and Massachusetts department commander, was unanimously endorsed for national commander at the election at the encampment at Erie, Penn., next month, and a committee will urge his promotion upon all garrisons. He has been department commander for five years and a national officer since 1917. He has been a member 26 years.
